St. Hilaire Baseball Team Makes Fine Showing

St. Hilaire Loses to Locals Sunday 4 to 0

Before a large crowd of fans at St. Hilaire Sunday, Hemmy Sahl pitched nine innings of shut-out baseball, allowing only two hits, while the locals were bunching the six hits they gathered off veteran Bill Hallamack, to score four runs. The 4 to 0 loss was the first defeat in league play that the Saints had received, and the loss dropped them from undisputed league leadership into a three-way tie with Plummer and Thief River Falls for the league lead.

The game was scoreless until the first of the fourth inning, when the locals scored the game's first run. After Rasmussen had gone down on strikes and Jaranson had popped a foul to Almquist, Hemmy Sahl lashed out a long triple to center field, and scored when Almquist made a wide throw to first base after fielding Wally DuChamp's ground ball.

St. Hilaire having been set down in order for six innings, not a man reaching first base, broke into the hit column in the seventh inning, when Gigstad scratched a hit off Jaranson's glove. Hallamack dumped a bunt which Bergstrom fielded and then made a high throw to first base, giving Bill a life and sending Gigstad to second. Lloyd Johnson grounded to Jaranson, who threw to Lee at second to force Hallamack, for the first put-out, Gigstad going to third on the play, and Johnson reaching first on the fielder's choice. Almquist drove a ground ball to Rasmussen, who whipped the ball in to the plate, getting Gigstad as he tried to score. And Jacobson ended the inning by lofting a high fly to Wally DuChamp in center field.

Thief River 'iced' the game in the ninth, getting four hits and counting three runs. Rasmussen smashed a single through short, stole second, and went on to third when Jacobson's low throw rolled into center field, and scored on Jaranson's bunt down the first base line. Jaranson reached first on the fielder's choice. Johnny was out on an attempted steal, Jacobson to Gigstad. Sahl struck out. But Wally DuChamp poked a single into left field, and Bergstrom followed with a single into right field, and then Lenny Helquist broke his slump by clouting a sky-high fly that the left fielder misjudged and let drop over his head for a triple, scoring Wally and Bing. Carlo Columbo struck out.

St. Hilaire, batting for a score, opened the last half of the 9th with Gigstad getting his second hit, a single into left field. Hallamack struck out. And then Lloyd Johnson bounced into a double play, Roy Lee to Johnny Jaranson to Nick Bromberg, to end a well-played ball game.

14 EARNED RUNS IN PLUMMER-RLF CONTEST SUNDAY

Total of 21 Hits Were Made In Slugfest at Red Lake Falls

In a genuine old fashioned slugfest in which 29 hits were made, 2 errors, a wild pitch and a base on balls and 14 runs scored in a 9 inning baseball game on the Red Lake Falls diamond, between Plummer and Red Lake Falls, every run made was an earned run as well as batted in. Plummer won 9 to 5.

Plummer was the first to draw blood when in the second inning they put together a single, stolen base and a double for the first run. In the fourth they stretched their lead with a three bagger and three singles scoring three runs. Red Lake Falls came back in their half of the 4th with a three base hit and a single to score their first run. Plummer in the 5th came through with three singles for another run and repeated in the 6th with a single and a double for another run.

Not to be outdone, Red Lake Falls came thru in their half of the 7th with a double and a single for their second run, and with their "dander" up in the 8th bunched three singles and a double for 3 runs while Plummer drove out three singles in the 9th to score 2 runs and held Red Lake Falls scoreless in their half of the 9th.

LEGION JUNIORS OPEN BASEBALL TRYOUTS IN CITY

Recreational Leaders Also to Organize Midget Loop Here

Practice for the American Legion junior baseball team and midget baseball teams began yesterday at East Side park. A large group of boys were on hand for the initial workouts. All boys up to eighteen years of age are welcome to try out for these teams. The junior Legion team will consist of players up to the age of eighteen; all others not playing on this team will play on teams in the midget league. It is planned to have at least six midget teams to play a regular intra-city league and also outside games.

Tentative practice hours have been set aside from nine to twelve in the forenoon for the midgets, and from four to six in the afternoon for the legion team. All practices will be held at East Side park for the time being.

These teams are a part of the recreation program sponsored by the city council in cooperation with WPA recreation leaders. Leroy Olson, WPA recreation leader, will be in charge of the teams. He will be helping Gordy Caldis, recreation leader appointed by the park board.

Pennington Borrowers Offered Adjustment on Commissioner Loans

The opportunity to reduce the annual principal payments on land bank commissioner loans by reamortizing them over a longer period of years has been opened to many of the 117 Pennington county farmers who have commissioner loans, according to a statement received today from the Farm Credit Administration of St. Paul.

There were about $149,000 of land bank commissioner loans outstanding in this county at the beginning of 1940 and in addition approximately $241,000 of federal land bank loans. Some of these loans have already been reamortized.

Most of the federal land bank loans are already written for long terms up to 30-odd years, but the "commissioner's" loans were originally made on a 10 year basis, requiring considerably heavier principal payments.

Hard to get D-ball Under Way

The schedule was supposed to have begun last Monday, with Bridgeman's meeting the Middle River team. Middle River appeared at the Fair Grounds, while the Bridgeman squad showed at the East Side park; and the two teams did not get together. The Harts team, which was in a practice session at the Fair Grounds, arranged a warm-up game with Middle River; and the Bridgeman's, on the East Side diamond, got into a scrimmage with the Land O'Lakes. So the evening wasn't entirely wasted.

Here's Schedule for Next Week

The lights haven't been installed at the Fair Grounds yet, and that was the reason that this week's games were postponed. But according to Ole Ness there will be lights at Fair Ground next week, even if he has to sit on second base with a couple of candles in his hands. And here are the games that are on tap: Monday night, June 24th, the city champion Harts will play the DeMolay; Wednesday night, June 26th, the Bridgeman's will meet Middle River; and on Friday night, June 28th, the Land O'Lakes will play the Kiewels.

Harts Ready to Defend Title

Clarence Offerdahl's city champion Harts D-ball team is about ready to make a scrap to retain their championship. Their pitcher Al Ness, old rubber-arm, looks stronger than he did last year, and he'll have a much better infield in his support. In fact, the Harts infield appears to be manager Offerdahl's pride and joy, or something. He claims that it is the finest infield in the league, and he is nearly right. It will have Howie Holum on first base; Russ Solheim, at right short; Swanstrom, at left short; Johnny Jaranson, at second; and Don Lorentson at third. This fellow Solheim, at right short, a newcomer to the league, is supposed to be one of the best D-ball players that has been in town. Or maybe that is some of Clarence's propaganda.

Gus Krueger Pulls Larry MacPhail

Plummer's G. A. Krueger has been chuckling to himself all week over the smart deal he completed when he signed Louie Benson to catch for his Gold Sox. And it was a ten strike, for Louie will just about cinch a play-off spot for Plummer. Benson is to catch the Sunday games, when Mortrude is pitching. Week-end games that Plummer will play, will see Louie on the mound. I guess Krueger has a right to chuckle.

Sahl pitches shut-out baseball.

The nine innings of whitewash baseball that he pitched against St. Hilaire Sunday brought Hemmy Sahl's streak of consecutive innings of shut-out baseball to 26. Not since the 8th inning of the Plummer game here on May 26th, has a run been scored on him. And in the seven games that he has pitched for the locals he has collected 68 strike-outs.

Miscellany

Note to Phil Larson: Oslo's Smoky Robinson is 35 years old. His younger brother, Bunty, is only 26. I'll be in for the lunch tomorrow, Phil—That report on the death of Moose Dionne, the hockey player, was a bit premature. Alex Campbell, in a conversation with a Dionne relative, was told that the Moose had gone over-seas with a Canadian contingent, but that he had not seen action. The latest advice was to the effect that these troops were stationed at Aldershot, in England. —Neil Mullen, Teener Olson, and Buster Anderson, won't be playing any football for the Prowlers next fall. They're ineligible.— Gil Mickelson, Ohio State's basketball captain, is employed at a golf course in Columbus, Ohio, during the summer.

Don't forget the baseball game here next Sunday. St. Hilaire will be here, and that means a red-hot ball game.

F.-L. CONVENTION SET FOR BRAINERD UNDER WAY FRIDAY

Endorsements of Candidates for Various Offices Is Expected

Candidates and platforms with which the Farmer-Labor party hopes to recoup losses in state offices and in the legislature will be selected at its state convention in Brainerd Friday.

The meeting will be a continuation of the session which met at Rochester March 8 and 9.

Harold Peterson, secretary of the state Farmer-Labor association, said no outside speakers are being arranged and the convention will get down almost immediately to indorsements, platforms and resolutions.

Question of possible fusion with the Democrats is not expected to come up on the convention floor, party leaders said. They indicated that any such proposition would not be given serious consideration until after the state primaries.

Pre-convention sessions will be held by six committees, in order to complete reports and have them ready for presentation on the convention opening. These committees are credentials, platform, resolutions, constitution, organization and nominating.

Reported candidates for the nomination for governor include Hjalmar Petersen, a member of the railroad and warehouse commission, and Paul Rasmussen, former state budget commissioner.

The term of U. S. Senator Henrik Shipstead expires this year and the question of renominating the senator or naming a successor if he "does not choose to run" is expected to come up.

Lions Clubs Convene in Minneapolis June 28-29

Lions Clubs numbering 46 in Minnesota and Manitoba will send more than 400 delegates to the Lions district convention in Minneapolis on June 28 and 29, according to Theodore C. Chalgren, convention chairman. Principal speakers will be Alexander T. Wells of New York, president of Lions International; and Charles G. Carter of Winnipeg, district governor. They will speak at the annual banquet in the grand ballroom of the Nicollet hotel, Friday, June 28th.

ABOUT BEER AND ALE
AN OPEN FORUM OF QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

QUESTION: WHY IS BEER CALLED THE BEVERAGE OF MODERATION?	ANSWER: Because beer's alcoholic content is low. Temperate, moderate nations of the world...and their people...prefer beer.
QUESTION: DO BEER AND ALE REALLY AID THE FARMERS?	ANSWER: Since re-legalization the brewing industry has bought 28,000,000,000 pounds of farm products. That has helped farmers...particularly during the depression years.
QUESTION: JUST WHAT ARE BEER AND ALE MADE OF?	ANSWER: Beer is made by a natural fermentation process . . . from malted barley and other grains, hops, yeast, water. Nature makes beer. The brewer makes it good beer (and ale).
QUESTION: HOW MUCH DO BEER TAXES CONTRIBUTE TO THE COST OF GOVERNMENT?	ANSWER: Beer contributes $1,000,000 a day . . . $400,000,000 a year . . . to help pay the costs of government . . . local, state and federal. Everybody benefits from this contribution.
QUESTION: DO BEER AND ALE MAKE JOBS FOR WORKERS?	ANSWER: Beer and ale have already made a million jobs. This employment is wide-spread . . . all over the country. More than 100 other industries benefit from beer and ale.
QUESTION: HOW IS THE BREWING INDUSTRY COOPERATING WITH LAW ENFORCEMENT OFFICERS?	ANSWER: The Brewing Industry is actively on the side of law and order. A "self-regulation" plan to eliminate retail abuses has already been put into effect in a number of states in co-operation with law enforcement authorities. This plan is being extended. We would like to tell you about it. Write for an interesting free booklet. Address: United Brewers Industrial Foundation, 19 East 40th Street, New York, N.Y.

STRANGE LOOKER—THIS WOODCHUCK

Carlton.—George and Myrand Jirmasek of Falcum recently trapped a woodchuck, but the animal looked more like a prehistoric creature than a modern version of the groundhog. It had carved tusks in place of the ordinary sharp teeth. One of the tusks in the upper jaw was two and three quarters inches long. How it was able to pick its food with this mastication equipment is a problem.

PADDEN AND IHLE LEAVE TODAY FOR GOP CONVENTION

Confer with Local Farmers Previous to Going to Philadelphia

John W. Padden of Crookston, delegate-at-large to the Republican national convention opening next Monday in Philadelphia, is leaving this evening en route to the convention, accompanied by Lester A. Ihle of this city.

Mr. Padden met Friday evening with a group of Pennington county farmers in one of a series of Ninth district meetings called to ascertain sentiment as to agricultural planks to be included in the Republican platform for the coming campaign.

It was announced that the following recommendations represent the consensus of opinion:

That payments be made for soil conserving goals, rather than soil depleting goals and that they be offered where soil conserving crops replace soil depleting crops.

That parity prices be guaranteed on all grains, not only those domestically consumed.

That increased acreage be made available for non-surplus crops, particularly sugar, of which the United States raises less than one-third of what it consumes.

That the crop insurance program be continued and extended to include flax.

That the government continue loans on grain.

That a pegged price be established on grains, below which fluctuation and speculation would be prohibited.

That payments to farmers be made self sustaining either by a processing tax, or that the persons benefiting be required to contribute to a fund set aside for that purpose, or both.

That costly reclamation projects abandoned.

Life Insurance Holders Here Get $77,000 in '39

Residents of Thief River Falls received cash life insurance payments in 1939 equivalent to $18.04 per capita, according to an estimate made by the Lincoln National Life Insurance Company of Fort Wayne, Indiana. Total payments to policyholders and beneficiaries of Thief River Falls were $77,000 as reported in the life payments number of the National Underwriter. In 1939, life insurance companies put $3,107,947,049 into circulation, or more than $350,000 for every hour of every day. Life payments for this state in 1939 were $55,900,000.

Large Family Reunion is Held at Sons of Norway Hall Sunday

The second annual reunion of the Halvorson-Newton-Olson-Brattland families and descendants was held Sunday in the Sons of Norway Hall with a large attendance. More than 130 persons were present. The forbearers of Mikkel Anderson Brattland can be traced back in the records at Kristiansand, Norway to the year 1605. They were the first to settle in a valley on a farm which is to this day called Bratteland. Mikkel Anderson Brattland came with his parents to this country while yet a young man together with three sisters, Ingeborg, Anna and Jorund.

Mikkel Brattland married Ingeborg Stromme and from that union there were nine sons, five of whom died in early childhood, but four grew to maturity, namely Andrew (now deceased), Ole, Michael and Gilbert. The three sisters of Mikkel Anderson Brattland all married. Anna married Bjorgulv Newton and their children were Knute, Andrew (deceased), Abraham (deceased), Ole (deceased), Mrs. Betsy Johnsrud (deceased), and Mrs. Christine Larson (deceased). Jorund married Bjorgulv Olson. Their children were Ole B. (deceased), Christian, Mrs. Sophia Oftedahl, Mrs. Julianna Eggen, Julius and Beatrice.

Ingeborg married Halvor Hellem (Halvorson). Their children were Halvor, Andrew (deceased), John, Lewis, Nels, Mrs. Inger Hanson, Mrs. Annetta Gustafson and Mrs. Elizabeth LaSage. In the passing years the relations to the original Brattland group have extended into the fourth generation. The largest number still reside in this section of the state. The most recent death in this early relationship was Abraham Newton who resided near Thief River Falls.

The largest group in attendance was the Halvorsons. The oldest living member is Knute Newton of McIntosh, who is 92 years old, well but unable to attend. The one coming the longest distance to attend was Julius Olson from the Province of Alberta, Canada, who came by car a distance of 1800 miles.

An ample lunch was served, cafeteria style, and a program was held in the afternoon. For the purpose of perpetuating the annual reunions, M. A. Brattland was named as permanent chairman and Gilbert A. Brattland as secretary. Each family named their representatives to form an executive board including the officials.

Messages were read from those who were unable to come. A letter to the meeting expressing his regrets at not being able to attend was read from Judge M. A. Brattland. Anecdotes of members relating to the early history of the Brattland family were given and enjoyed. Mrs. Juliana Eggen of South Dakota read an interesting paper on the early history of the original group and she was unanimously selected as the permanent historian of all the groups.

ENDORSEMENTS VOTED DOWN BY MINNESOTA F-L

Vigorous Debate Features State Convention at Brainerd

RIGHT WINGERS WIN ON WAR POLICY ISSUE

Favor Guarding Against Invasion and Subversive Activities

Two hot debates marked sessions of the Minnesota Farmer-Labor party in Brainerd Friday as delegates sought to fashion a platform on which the party will campaign this fall in an effort to regain state offices lost to the Republicans two years ago.

During the afternoon, the convention went on record favoring old age pensions "patterned after the present Townsend bill" and indorsed a $50 monthly minimum; demanded repeal of the state labor relations law; expressed opposition to the Sherman anti-trust laws; demanded a 25 per cent increase in unemployment benefits and 25 per cent increase in the period of payment of those benefits for all employes, including municipal employes; and took a stand on iron ore royalties favoring payment by lessees of the "fullest royalty on ore" commensurate with public interest, and resale and market values, and no case less than private sale prices.

The convention overrode the recommendation of its nominating committee and refused indorsements to candidates for all offices. The nominating committee brought in its report favoring indorsements for candidates for all offices except those of governor and U. S. senator, but could not obtain the convention's approval.

Former Governor Elmer Benson, who left a hospital bed at Appleton where he had been convalescing from an infection, led an attack on U. S. conscription of men or materials. Benson also argued against what he termed "unjustified fears" stirred up in Wall street.

Right wingers scored a 301-180 victory over left wingers when the majority platform committee report on the United States attitude toward war was written into the party platform Saturday morning after a heated two-hour debate.

The platform plank No. 1, as adopted.

"The Farmer-Labor association demands the fullest defense provision against invasion of our country or the subversion of its political institution.

"We are unalterably opposed to any imperialist wars, or designs, and to sending of our men across the ocean or elsewhere to participate in such wars.

"At a time when dictatorial governments invade democratic and peaceful nations and are imposing the yoke of tyranny on the free people, it behooves the United States to fortify itself against the blighting hand of despotism and imperialism from external or internal attacks.

"Members of the Farmer-Labor association are pledged to combat such dangers by supporting adequate defense measures based upon the principles of genuine social security and real political and industrial democracy in order to unite our people and keep all invaders out of the United States."

BALLOTING TO OPEN TODAY AT PHILADELPHIA

Names of Candidates for GOP Nomination Submitted to Convention

PLATFORM CALLS FOR FULL PREPAREDNESS

Governor Stassen Delivers Keynote Address Monday Evening

Names of contenders for the nomination for president of the United States Wednesday were placed before the Republican national convention in Philadelphia to the accompaniment of prolonged demonstrations. Those whose names were submitted were Thomas E. Dewey, Wendell Willkie, Frank E. Gannett and Senator Robert A. Taft. Balloting on the candidates was scheduled to get under way this morning.

The huge crowd which overflowed the convention hall had sat thru five hours during which the convention swung without pause into the receipt of nominations after quickly approving the platform approved by its resolutions committee.

The declaration of principles, guidepost of the campaign to come, offered a blistering attack on the New Deal, a proposal that the constitution be amended to prohibit a third term for any president and a pledge to attack unemployment and depression by encouraging free private enterprise.

The party went on record for Americanism, preparedness and peace, with no foreign wars and an army and navy so strong that no unfriendly power can successfully attack America or its essential outposts.

Arraigning the democratic administration in Washington for what he called its failure to prepare the country for national defense, Governor Harold E. Stassen in his keynote speech at the opening of the Republican national convention in Philadelphia this week declared that the Republican party must furnish the leadership to prepare the country for defense.

Copies of the speech released following delivery in Philadelphia listed four major fronts upon which, the governor said, the nation must advance: National preparedness, fifth column defense, domestic economic welfare and governmental effectiveness and integrity. Upon all these fronts, he said, experience shows leadership cannot be trusted to the present Democratic administration.

Upon the preparedness issue, the governor drove home some of his most telling points.

"For too long a time our leaders have strutted down the avenues of the world jauntily knocking chips off shoulders without even preparing to raise our arms in defense," Governor Stassen said. "For too long a time we have talked boldly of quarantining aggressors in order to protect other nations and now find that we are not even prepared to protect ourselves. For too

UNITED EFFORT TO COMBAT 'HOPPERS IS URGED BY GROW

County Agent Says Several Applications of Bait May be Necessary

Weather conditions during the past ten days have made grasshopper control work take on new emphasis, states Howard E. Grow, county agent. As long as conditions continue to be dry, the hoppers will be more of a menace.

Very good kills of hoppers have been secured during the past week, Mr. Grow reports. The number of dead hoppers found per square foot or square yard is the only way of determining what kind of a kill has been obtained. Live hoppers are no guide as they keep hatching and moving from place to place.

As high as ninety dead grasshoppers per square yard were found in some fields visited by Mr. Grow on Wednesday of this week. However, in this same field there still remain an estimated fifty hoppers per square yard.

Grasshopper control, when the hoppers are as numerous as they are this year, does not mean that a few farmers can effect control in any township by spreading bait, but it does mean that every farmer in the county must spread bait until the population of hoppers is reduced. In many instances it may require baiting several times.

Hjalmar Petersen to be Gatzke Speaker Saturday

Hjalmar Peterson, former governor and member of the Minnesota railroad and warehouse commission, will be the principal speaker at a Floyd B. Olson memorial banquet to be held Saturday evening in the Young Peoples hall at Gatzke. Also on the speaking program will be Rep. Charles Halstad of Crow Wing county and Rep. George Hagen of Crookston. Emil Morberg will preside. The dinner will be served by the Moose River ladies aid.

Early Morning Golfers Espy Moose on Course

Turning out for a round on the local golf course at 7 o'clock on a recent morning, Archie Henrud and F. E. Tunberg could scarcely believe their eyesight was unimpaired when they saw a full-grown moose galloping across the course with a dog in pursuit. The animal made his way to the Thief River, which divides the course, and then swam across to the Andrew Jorde farm, apparently heading for a herd of cattle in a pasture there. The moose is believed to have strayed from either the Mud Lake area or the Red Lake Indian reservation.

STASSEN DELIVERS HIS KEYNOTE SPEECH TO GOP CONVENTION

long a time our foreign policy has been one of a big noise and a little stick, and even that little stick 'on order'. We need again a calm, resolute voice and a big stick."

The President's appointment of Frank Knox as secretary of navy and Henry L. Stimson as secretary of war, both Republicans, is an eleventh-hour confession of the failure of the present administration, Stassen said. "We are pleased that the prospect of our convention caused this sudden improvement over New Deal incompetence," he said, "and it is regrettable that we cannot change the entire cabinet and the man who heads it with equal abruptness."

Governor Stassen mapped out concrete steps which he said must be taken to protect democracy from fifth column borers from within. In this advance, he said, New Deal leadership can be of no avail, for to protest over subversive elements, it has been the custom of the New Dealers, he added, merly to "smile and reach over and pat the flanks of the Trojan horse". "We swept out of office our leftwing coddlers of Communism (in Minnesota) only to find very frequently that they soon showed up on a federal payroll," the governor said.

To relieve unemployment and improve domestic conditions, the governor said, government must take constructive action to aid private enterprise instead of seeking to be a substitute for it. "For too long," he said, "American enterprise has been subjected to the strafing of dive-bombing demagogues." After seven years of New Deal administration, he said, jobs for the unemployed and parity for agriculture still are "on order".

The reorganization of the nation government so badly needed cannot be left to the present administration, Stassen said. "Can we entrust leadership for this task to those who have added almost 400,000 men and women to the public payrolls of their political army?"

ONE CONTINENT IS ENOUGH

Our much mentioned Monroe doctrine, like other doctrines, means whatever we want it to mean. And so it might be of great or little importance, according to the interpretation we give it at any particular time. At the present time our government is giving it a broad interpretation that pledges us to resist the aggression of any European or Asiatic power anywhere in the western hemisphere. We will protect all of South America, whether or not the nations of South America want our help. The big idea behind this benevolent gesture presumably is to protect ourselves. We do not want the outsiders to establish a base in our own back yard.

But before we become involved in any arguments about this doctrine perhaps we should consider a little more carefully just how effective a defense we could offer any of the South American countries, with or without their consent. Most of the South American countries are now governed by dictators. We have little in common with their people. In more ways than one, they do not speak our language. And there is some reason to believe that they have less love for us than they have for the dictator controlled countries of Europe. In view of the fact that we are likely soon to stand alone in a world of great powers that hate us, it may be wise for us to limit our protectorate to that portion of the western hemisphere that is essential to our own defense and that we may be able to defend. And just defending the north American continent probably would give us plenty to do.

Instead of a meaningless doctrine that would involve us in the affairs of a continent that in many respects is as distant from us as Africa, we probably would act more wisely if we left the South Americans to shift for themselves and took immediate steps to actually police the Central American countries, establishing military bases at strategic points and building roads that would enable us to shift our military strength rapidly to any points on the North American continent from Alaska to the Canal Zone. Such a program probably would be welcomed by the Canadians. There might be some difficulty in establishing the program in Mexico and some of the Central American countries but as things are going in the world today, now is not the time to quibble about details. Perhaps we will do the world a better service if, for the time being, we lay the ideals on a shelf and start talking a language the dictators will understand.

Harold Stassen represented Minnesota most creditably at the Republican national convention. The youthful governor is now a prominent national figure. With reasonably good fortune his influence in the nation will increase regardless of how the political storms may blow. He has a good chance of becoming Minnesota's greatest native son.

Now that France has collapsed, is Great Britain going to be able to check Hitler? We probably will not have long to wait for the answer. Observers seem to agree that Germany must strike fast to break the British blockade. If that is true then the next few weeks will bring a real test of the strength of the British navy. In the meantime the Russians are evidently preparing for an emergency of some kind and their preparations must make Hitler a little uneasy. Russia surely has more to fear from a strong Germany than she would have had to fear from a strong France and England and this fact justifies the conclusion that the Russians must have overestimated the military strength of the Allies. Now that allied resistance on the continent has been broken, the Russians have reason to fear for their own security. What is going to happen no one can predict.

Wendell Wilkie is making a remarkable run for the Republican nomination for President and the Republicans could do worse in the selection of their standard bearer. We like Wilkie. There can be no question as to his ability. As the head of a great utility he has a good record both in his labor relations and his relations with the public. He speaks, not as a mealy mouthed politician, but as an executive who understands his problems and discusses them frankly with his board of directors. He does not pose as either a messiah or a super man nor does he offer pink pill cures to restore the country to a healthy condition. He points the way to a recovery that can be gained only by a respect for the rules of reason and reality. Yes, we like Wilkie.

IN ADVANCE OF THE NEED

(Business Week)

So much attention has been devoted to the money and material sides of national defense that we have all but forgotten the third essential factor. That is, we had until the last week or ten days, when a few voices began to remind us that it still takes men to wage war.

Mechanized war naturally has focused our thoughts on industrial preparedness. As we are an industrially minded people, it comes easy to think of national defense in terms of airplanes, tanks, and guns. So we talk glibly about arms and equipment for a million men. That's fine; we should. But—what million men?

We seem to be taking the men for granted. But we cannot take them for granted any more than we can take the planes for granted, or the tanks, or the guns. We cannot improvise modern soldiers of the land, the sea, or the air any more than we can improvise their weapons. For they must be trained workmen, skilled in the trade of war. And on their skill may hang the security of the nation—yes, even its survival. To staff modern equipment with unskilled men would be as criminal as to send trained men into battle without modern equipment. Either would be murder.

Let us see clearly that the mechanization of war has not replaced man-power. Rather has it underlined the necessity for more thorough and systematic training of man-power—in advance of the need. Once upon a time the farmer could leave his plow in the furrow, step into the kitchen and take his flintlock from its pegs over the fireplace. And forthwith he was a soldier, ready to meet the alien regular, man to man. Soldiering was simple then. But not now.

Modern military training no longer is a matter of spit and polish, squads east and west, drill in the manual of arms. It is a matter of fitting readily into army or navy life, of developing habits of order and discipline, of learning to coordinate effectively with others and to carry on under exacting pressure and harassing distraction. And above all, it is a matter of intensive training in specialized skills.

You cannot get such training on an armory drill-floor or in a few weeks of field exercises. It takes sustained, intensive application for at least six months or a year; it means buckling down to learn a new trade under conditions as nearly at practicable like those under which it must be practiced; it means periodic return to the ranks for shorter periods, to keep the old skills bright and to learn new ones as they may become necessary.

Neither should we leave to chance the identity of those who will make up our million men. That's neither fair nor intelligent. The number of men who can or will enlist in a professional regular army for a three-year hitch is very limited. We should not expect the members of the National Guard to handicap themselves economically any more than they now do in order to carry the common burden. Moreover, we should guard against enlisting in the armed forces men whose services to the nation would be more valuable in industrial capacities. And after emergency does strike, it is utterly unfair to accept the volunteered sacrifice of the patriots for the benefit of the slackers, as it is utterly stupid to wait for the blow before we begin to train the men who must meet it. The essence of preparedness is to be prepared.

All this means that our strength in man-power as well as machine-power must always be ready; that we must train our men to their jobs while they are yet young, keen to learn, and retentive of what they learn; that we must distribute the sacrifices of service equitably; that we must give our senior officers a continuing opportunity to command in the field forces approaching in strength those for which they would be responsible in war.

All this adds up to one total: universal military training in time of peace, and selective military service in time of war. No other program meets the test of modern war, no other can make the most effective use of American man-power, no other can effect so perfect a mobilization of American money-power, machine-power and man-power as to make our nation too dangerous for any aggressor, and thereby guarantee the peace that we are seeking in our present effort for national defense.

RESTRICT ALIEN TRAVEL TO CANADA UNDER NEW ORDER

Passport Regulations are Announced by Immigration Service

New passport regulations issued by the Department of State, and governing the travel of aliens entering or reentering the United States from Canada and other countries in the Western Hemisphere will become effective and will be enforced commencing July 1, according to an announcement by O. R. Holton, district director of the immigration and naturalization service with headquarters at St. Paul.

The new regulations do not impose any additional restrictions on citizens of the United States proceeding to Canada and returning to this country. Citizens are not required to have passports and can be readmitted to the United States upon satisfying the border officers as to their citizenship, the same as in the past.

All aliens residing in foreign territory, including Canadian citizens and British subjects domiciled in Canada entering the United States for any purpose will be required to present valid passports issued by the government to which they owe allegiance, which passports must bear the visa of an American consul.

Aliens residing in the United States, in order to reenter the United States, must present either a valid passport, visaed by an American Consul, or else present a valid re-entry permit, or a resident alien's border identification card issued by the immigration and naturalization service. The fee for the permit is $3.00. Alien residents of the United States desiring to visit Canada as tourists or on vacations are advised to secure reentry permits. Reentry permits are valid only for one reentry.

PUBLIC OPINION

Editor Times

Have traveled through our county some and find it a mighty nice county. Most of it shows up as nicely as any county in our beloved state. There are a few eyesores, however, that could be done without.

In 1934 when we came through, we found some pieces of old machinery a few yards from a well kept highway. Imagine our surprise to find the same pile there now. Is it a landmark, maybe, or is it just left there? If it is junk, why not apply to the junkdealer.

SO. ST. PAUL LIVESTOCK

(By U. S. Department of Agricultural Economics and Minnesota Department of Agriculture)

South St. Paul, Minn., June 25, 1940: Weakness crept into the market for fed steers and yearlings on the closing rounds Tuesday after sellers had been able to hold values on a fairly steady level Monday and early Tuesday. There were instances of 10-15c declines, but these downturns according to the Federal-State Market News Service were confined to strictly good and choice grades. Heifers weakened, extremes showing 25c losses. Cows were fully 25c lower for the two days, only strictly dry-fed kinds escaping the loss. Bulls were weaker, and vealers unevenly weak to 50c lower for the week to date. A few choice 1313 lb. steers brought $10.00, while several loads choice medium-weight steers brought $9.75 on Monday. Tuesday's practical top was $9.50 for both light yearlings and light steers of the best yearling type. Choice heifers reached $9.65 on Monday. Current sales of good and choice vealers were at $8.00-9.00, strictly choice at $9.50. Stock cattle ranged steady to 25c lower, common and low medium kinds showing the decline. Supplies were liberal Monday.

Tuesday's trading on hogs lowered values 15-25c below Friday levels. Lack of shipper interest, plus a fairly heavy run, combined to force the decline. Bed money available was $5.00 for good and choice 170-230 lb. weights, while bulk 180-260 lbs. cashed at $4.75-5.00, and 240-300 lbs. found outlet at $4.50-4.85. Most good and choice 300-360 lbs. cleared at $4.00-4.60, with extreme heavyweights noted as low as $4.10. Similar grade 140-160 lbs. secured $4.25-5.00. Good sows moved on a spread of $4.00-4.25. Feeder pigs were weak to 25c lower to sell at $4.00-4.75, mostly $4.25-4.50.

Slaughter lamb trade for two days this week scored a partial price recovery from the drastic downturns enforced last week. Compared with the previous week's close, native spring lambs advanced mostly 25c, while old crop shorn offerings moved at steady to strong rates. Slaughter ewes held steady. Current selling schedules found native spring lambs at $9.75-10.00, Medium to good shorn old crop offerings brought $6.50-7.00, choice quoted to $7.75. Fed shorn California springers made $9.40, Medium and good clipped ewes for kill cashed at $2.50-3.25. Ewe lambs sorted from killer consignments sold on breeder account at $7.25-7.65. Late last week five loads good and choice Washington averaging 83 lbs. brought $10.35.

Thief River Falls and Plummer, with victories over St. Hilaire and Oklee respectively, continued in a tie for the leadership of the Northern Minny league. Thief River's 'squeeze' win over St. Hilaire, 5 to 4, dropped the Saints into second place. Playing in a drizzle which made the ball hard to handle, Plummer had quite a tussle before they downed Oklee 14 to 8. And Red Lake Falls handed the CCC team their sixth straight defeat, beating the CCC's 9 to 5.

Next Sunday Red Lake Falls plays at Plummer, Thief River Falls will go to Oklee, and the CCC team will play St. Hilaire at St. Hilaire.

There wasn't much crooning done in the days when the audience was in tomato-throwing distance of the crooner.

PLUMMER DOWNS OKLEE BASEBALL NINE SUNDAY 14-8

Wins Free-Hitting Contest Played in Drizzling Rain Sunday

A game Sunday on the Plummer grounds started in a drizzling rain and finished with a wet ball due to wet outfield grass, replete with plenty of errors by both teams was won by Plummer 14-8. Both teams boosted their batting averages quite a bit as both pitchers were handicapped with the wet ball.

Locals Grab Another from St. Hilaire 5-4

Roy Lee's ninth inning single over first base, after two men were out, and with Wally and Bob DuChamp on third and second bases respectively, drove in the two runs that gave the locals a narrow-margined 5 to 4 win over the luckless St. Hilaire team in the game played here last Sunday. The victory held Thief River in its tie for first place in the Northern Minny league, for the Plummer team also won its Sunday game, defeating Oklee.

Playing heads-up baseball and taking advantage of the numerous misplays committed by the local team, St. Hilaire had built up a 4 to 3 lead going into the last half of the ninth inning, but luck was against them. Bergstrom, first man to bat in the ninth for Thief River singled into center field. Bromberg, attempting a sacrifice bunt, popped to Almquist, who made a fine catch. Wally DuChamp hit a high infield fly that the shortstop dropped but recovered in time to force Bergstrom at second. Bobby DuChamp singled into right field, sending Wally to third base; and after Bobby had stolen second, Roy Lee came through with the blow that broke up the game.

The locals played ragged ball, being charged with 8 errors. Poor throws accounted for most of the misplays. The St. Hilaire club collected 7 hits off Hemmy Sahl, and scoring in the first inning they broke his streak of consecutive innings of shut-out pitching.

Woody Almquist, St. Hilaire's third baseman, came up with two fine plays: one on a lunging catch of an attempted bunt; and the other in knocking down Bob DuChamp's drive, and then recovering in time to make a nice throw to first to get the runner by a step. It was Almquist who drove in St. Hilaire's first run, sending a long double into right field, scoring Lloyd Johnson.

Thief River Falls plays at Oklee next Sunday.

D-ball Schedule Under Way

At 'long last' the city d-ball league has begun to play the games on its schedule. In a twilight game last Monday night, the city champion Harts team, by a convincing 13 to 1 victory over the DeMolay, served notice on the rest of league that they aren't going to give up their championship by default. They will have to be beaten out of the title, and it's going to take some doing to beat that outfit. Allen Ness, under no pressure whatever, pitched easily, and held the DeMolays to two hits, while his mates raked the DeModays Bundy for a dozen solid blows. The first hit and the first run of the season was credited to Carlo Columbo of the Harts, when he smashed out a long homerun over Bones Stadum's head in right field in the 1st inning.

Those three 'mysterious' players that Ole Ness has signed to his Kiewel team are Greg Pouliot, Cy Helm, and Buster Fournier, of Lake Falls. Pouliot is a second baseman, Helm a first baseman, and Fournier a third baseman. It won't be long, says Ole, before Walt Larson of the Land O'Lakes, and Clarence Offerdahl of the Harts, will be asking for an armistice.

Schedule for Next Week

Tomorrow night, June 28th, the Kiewels play the Land O'Lakes; on Monday, July 1st, Harts will play Bridgeman's; on Tuesday, July 2nd, Kiewels play the DeMolay; and on Friday, July 5th, Land O'Lakes will play Middle River. All these games will be payed under the lights, on the Fair Grounds diamond, with the games beginning about 8:30 p. m.

To Settle a Family Argument

Jesse DuChamp has been struck out at least twice during the Northern Minny league schedule. On May 19th, at Oklee, with Hemmy Sahl pitching for Oklee, Jesse was struck out; and again on June 2nd, in the 7th inning of the Plummer game here, and with Sahl pitching, Jesse was struck out a second time. And while Jesse has been striking out twice, brother Wally has been struck out only once in league play, and that one time was in 1st inning of the CCC game. The record, therefore, proves that Wally's batting eye is twice as good as Jesse's. Krueger of Plummer should make a note of that.

Fishing Good and Bad

Jack Dempster and I were at Wheeler's Point last Friday and we've never put in a more miserable day than we had that day. And to top off the misery we caught only one wall-eye apiece. We had barely gotten out to the lighthouse, 3¼ miles from any shelter, when a rain, like at the time of Noah, began to fall, and all we had to hide in were some bulrushes, and to hide from raindrops behind a bulrush is pretty futile. But fishing was 'slow' all over during the week-end. Oscar Ellingson, Casper and Engval Lund were at Winnibigoshish on Sunday, fished Raven's Point, Sugar Island, and in the river, and only caught a few northern pike and a couple of wall-eyes. And Henry Boe, who spent four days at Kabetogama, near International Falls, said that all he caught were a few small wall-eyed pike. There has been a report that the fishing in Pine Lake, near Gonvick, has been good the past couple of weeks, but the pike that have been caught there are pretty small.

SHIPSTEAD WILL SPEAK AT WARREN FAIR ON SATURDAY

Recess of Congress Enables Senator to Fill Speaking Engagement

Senator Henrik Shipstead will definitely keep his speaking engagement at the Marshall county fair in Warren Saturday afternoon, with the address scheduled to take place in front of the grandstand at three o'clock, O. M. Mattson, secretary, announced Monday on receipt of a telegram from the senator.

Senator Shipstead's telegram follows: "Congress will recess for one week. I expect to keep my engagement at Warren on June 29th." Henrik Shipstead.

Northwestern Minnesota will be interested in hearing Senator Shipstead at the fair Saturday afternoon, as he will devote much of his address to the crisis confronting the world as a result of the war. He will also undoubtedly express his views as to the United States neutrality and actions taken by Congress during recent weeks in preparation for National Defense.

The reason for the congressional recess this week is because of the national republican convention now in session in Philadelphia. Senator Shipstead, not being affiliated with the Republican party, is making use of the time of the recess by making a trip to Minnesota and incidently to fulfill his engagement at the Marshall County Fair.

Vacationers Given No Job Insurance, States Minnesota Director

Workers who take vacations voluntarily whether the vacations are paid or unpaid, are not eligible for unemployment compensation benefits, Director Victor Christgau of the Employment and Security Division announced today in St. Paul.

Workers who are required by their employers to take unpaid vacations can, however, draw benefits if they are otherwise qualified.

"A worker who is paid during his vacation is considered under the law as earning wages and there is not eligible to draw benefits," said Mr. Christgau. "A worker who voluntarily takes an unpaid vacation is considered as being not available for work, since he has withdrawn from his regular job for the purpose of taking a holiday.

"When a worker is forced by his employer to take an unpaid vacation, however, and is willing to work if offered a suitable job, he is considered to be in the same position as a person who has been laid off and can draw benefits if he can meet the requirements of the law."

Roaming the ROUTES

—With Janney

June is often one of the leading months for painting around the farm and house. A family close to Thief River Falls, who are using the month for this purpose are the Ed. Williams. Their home is assuming a shiny, white, background trimmed with red. Used in climbing to the roof of the house is an attractive poplar ladder. The Williams children made this picturesque and yet useful object.

Honors for having one of the most beautiful of Pennington county barns go to Ed Timm, route five. This long, red barn was built in 1921 and looks as if new. Coming here when a young boy Mr. Timm is the owner of a great holding of nearby land and this attractive well-kept farm.

Bees! Watch Out

If you're allergic to bees, the John Fromm place southwest of Thief River will be a dangerous place. A colony of bees is placed in the woods across the road from the Fromm farm. During the day the bees wander over, seemingly to make the well their headquarters. Mr. Fromm never gets stung by them, or if he does they don't affect him.

Three V's

The Victor Scholins, route five favor "V" names. Mr. Scholin's name is Victor. The two children at home, when I visited there, are called Vivien and Vernon. Their last name is no easy trick to pronounce correctly.

If you should like to see forty little girl's dresses hung on a line at one time, you must visit the E. E. Conklin home on washday. The Conklins have five girls and even one girl means a great many clothes. "But," Mrs. Conklin says, "I couldn't spare with one child, now that I have them."

Chris Person and his sons are very handy with their hands. When visiting there I found them making a hay loader, almost entirely of wood. With the haying season just about in full swing their newly-constructed loader will come in handy.

Perhaps one of the oldest homes in this country near the Pembina trail is found at the Person's neighbors farm, the Glen Lindquists. This house is over fifty years old. Though it isn't especially warm and easy to heat in the winter, it has a stately appearance. And with two little girls, Joan and Janet living in its premises, it is a very interesting place. Joan served as flower girl to a recent Thief River wedding and was so proud of her white, flowing dress. That box containing the dress was the most precious thing in the world to her at the moment, even giving the dolls second place.

Sends Round Robin

One of the most engaging personalities I have come across is that of Mrs. L. C. Hegstad. Her son is the only one of the children home. He is running the farm. The other children live in St. Paul, Minneapolis, Bemidji, Blackduck, Benson and Mankato. All these children have started a "Round Robin" which makes its circuit in two weeks or two days at each home. The one who does not get the letter off by this time must pay a fine, usually in the form of stamps.

Mrs. Hegstad's theme song in life must be to "Live, laugh, and love" for she does all three well. She claims that if nothing else is left to her she hopes that she will have, to the very end—"two ounces of—PEP". The only time Mrs. Hegstad takes a good rest is when on Friday morning the Times arrives and she must read it at once. Highlighting my visit was the discovery that we had identical birthdays. She extended me an invitation to celebrate it with her in the near future.

Is Correspondent

This territory is fortunate in having such a live-wire correspondent, Fern Hawkinson, who has written news for almost ten years. A bit of that time she was gone and then someone in her home substituted. Correspondents can do a great deal for a community and Fern seems to be of this kind.

One of the many families making up the Times club of new subscribers are the R. H. Jablinskes.

Many farmers on route five raise bushels of potatoes. Ludwig Peterson is one of these men. The day I was there he was sorting his potatoes and feeding the old ones to the pigs. He has a regular cellar in which to store them.

Carl Hahner's farm contains many buildings built by its owner. He saws his own logs and knowing the carpenter trade builds them himself. At present a few buildings are under construction with a few fences in the offing.

Some day soon I hope to make a lengthy visit at the R. J. McKercher farm southwest of St. Hilaire. The McKerchers are famous for their stock cattle and house the latter in attractive barns. Mrs. McKercher gave me a recipe, she favors. It is a chocolate cake, which she claims will always turn out delightful.

Soon this summer the J. A. Almquist barn will be finished. The Almquists built the bottom section last year and are completing the roof at present. As a consequence Mrs. Almquist is cooking for six men, but she doesn't mind this with a new barn in the offing. The Almquists are potato farmers in part. They possess a huge underground cellar. It is covered with straw.

Biggest Family

Matt Drees, route five near the big ridge lays claim to the biggest family in these parts, eleven children. Ten of these were girls and one a boy. Mr. Drees' description of a new baby is "delicious" for he feels no other word fits a baby. All the Drees children are good-looking and have various color combinations of brown hair, grey eyes and blond hair and blue eyes.

Last year Oscar Mosbeck decided all of his trees in a certain grove needed trimming. So he set to work and trimmed them all down to a certain height. He claims he'll never do the same again, for the work entailed in this was tremendous, but his yard certainly takes on a unique appearance now. The trees are beginning to sprout again and will become very bushy in time.

Meet the Vanderwegs

One of the most interesting families I have met are the Vanderwegs, west of Wylie. This family came over fourteen years ago from Holland, having resided near Amsterdam. Charlie, their eldest son, had completed seven years of school in Holland. When he started school here, he had to start at the first grade and learn the American language. Jean (Gena in Dutch) was born in this country and is now attending the Wylie school. She is a great sewer and is spending much of her summer sewing dresses.

The Vanderwegs like America very much. They claim the farms over there are very small and generally one rich man has many farmers running his land. Consequently, the land is tilled very intensively.

An alert, intelligent French family are the Felix Grandbois, Red Lake Falls, route three. Mr. Grandbois liked the Book "Gone With the Wind" so much he has read it twice and intends to read it the third time. To him it gives import to the situation at hand with view to the class struggles and the veiled niceties.

Staunch Democrat

Mr. Grandbois is a staunch democrat. A friend of his in Red Lake recently asked him what he thought about the election this fall assuming the tone of a Republican victory. At first Mr. Grandbois didn't say anything, but when asked again he replied, "Well, goodbye Maine and Vermont, also, this time." His friend was a bit surprised for he thought for a minute that Mr. Grandbois was half agreeing with him until he made an answer.

Mrs. Henry Halstrom, a recent census taker in Red Lake township, covered 150 homes. She found the count of residents in this home to be 500 or that the average family is three or four. This is an interesting figure for it depicts the much talked-of decrease in size of families.

If I were to choose a last name or even first name using the names of Thief River and Red Lake folks I should choose that of Thomas Sherry's, southeast of Wylie. The latter are an Irish family. The Sherry daughters have found this name to stick by them even when they get married.

Swanson and family, Mr. and Mrs. John Vielguth and family, Lorraine and Kenneth Swanson, Mr. and Mrs. N. P. Schalz and family, Vernon Scholin, Vernon Mosbeck, Matt Drees, Mrs. Eldon Erickson, Einor, Gilbert, Mauritz, Melvin, Alice Scholin.

Seen a sign on road or street?—
Concrete Ends 400 ft.
CONCRETE PAVEMENT ENDS
For safety's sake pave the gaps with CONCRETE
Why do highway departments warn the public: "Concrete pavement ends"?
Because it is universally accepted that speeds which are reasonable and safe on concrete become dangerous on other surfaces.
To save lives, to prevent accidents . . . demand concrete all the way.
True and even, it has no high crown—is usable to its full width. Brakes work best on its gritty skid-resistant surface. Its light gray color and sharply defined edges give high visibility at night.
And concrete saves money for motorists and for taxpayers. Insist on concrete for your roads.
A road is no better than its weakest link. To get full benefit of pavements already built, unpaved sections should be completed on all main highways.

82 8TH GRADERS GET DIPLOMAS AT EXERCISES

Reverend Merth Pays Tribute to Rural Youth in Address

COUNTY SUPT. DABLOW IN CHARGE OF PROGRAM

Thirteen Graduates Honored for High Ranking in Studies

Addressing 82 eighth grade graduates and their friends at rural school commencement exercises in the Auditorium Monday afternoon, Rev. A. J. Merth, who delivered the address to the class, enjoined his young hearers, "You must learn what life is for, and must live it up to the hilt to fulfill that purpose."

Basing the theme of his discussion on the Declaration of Independence, Reverend Merth declared that the future of the country lies in the hands of the rural boys and girls of today. He pointed out that children reared on farms among growing things get a true outlook on life.

The program opened with the processional march played by Harold F. Harrison, followed by a group of piano selections by Mr. Harrison. Walter Ekeren provided two vocal solos.

Special mention was given by Richard Dablow, county superintendent of schools, who presided over the exercises, to a group of thirteen graduates who achieved the highest averages in their studies in the seventh and eighth grades.

The group includes, in order of their ranking, Enod Weckwerth, Dist. 12; Elaine Solberg, Dist. 39; Edna Iverson, Dist. 154; Donna Hruby, Dist. 53; Oscar Breiland, Dist. 11; Ethel Evenson, Dist. 39; Veral Mosbeck, Dist. 99; Marjorie Ofstedahl, Dist. 125; Betty Foldoe, Dist. 127; Helen Hardisty, Dist. 31; Lorraine Myrum, Dist. 39; Ardith Copp, Dist. 219; and Joyce Olson, Dist. 53.

At the conclusion of the exercises diplomas were awarded by Mr. Dablow. The program closed with the singing of "America" by the audience.

CONTRACT FOR BUILDING RURAL LINES AWARDED

SUCCESSFUL BID IS IN SUM OF $142,418

Construction of Lines Will Probably Begin Within One Month

The Sorkness Construction company of Jamestown, N. D., late last week was awarded the contract for constructing approximately 238 miles of rural electric lines in Pennington, Red Lake, Marshall and Polk counties, it was announced Friday by E. B. Kiland, superintendent, following receipt of word from the Rural Electrification administration in Washington, D. C. The company's bid was in the amount of $142,418.16.

The contract calls for use of aluminum wire conducter and Southern Yellow pine poles, Mr. Kiland stated, adding that construction of the lines will get under way within a month, pending final approval of plans and specifications by Washington authorities. Three crews are now at work staking out the lines.

Victor M. Edman of Alvarado, Minn. was elected president of the Minn-Kota Electric Power Cooperative at the organization meeting of the board of directors in Grand Forks.

Others named were S. E. Hunt of Thief River Falls, vice president, and Floyd C. Chandler of Whitman, N. D., secretary-treasurer.

Ellerbe & Co., St. Paul engineering firm, was named engineer for the Minn-Kota lines and plant. Copper wire was approved for the transmission lines.

G. B. Moore of St. Paul, Ellerbe engineer, discussed plans for the central generating plant to be built in Grand Forks. He said the plans had been revised and re-submitted to Washington headquarters of the REA.

The transmission lines of the Minn-Kota will be from Grand Forks to Ops, N. D., in southern Walsh county and from Grand Forks to the Red Lake Falls vicinity.

Since the Rural Electrification Administration was created in the spring of 1935 it has made loans totaling about $270,000,000 to 691 borrowers, 617 of them farmers' cooperatives. This money has built, or is building, about a quarter of a million miles of power lines to take central station electric power to more than 800,000 rural users. It includes about $6,800,000 for the construction of 41 generating plants in cases where power was not available or where it could not be purchased on reasonable terms. About $5,700,000 of it is helping to finance wiring and plumbing installations on 60,000 farms.

As the fiscal year ends, more than 200,000 miles of REA-financed power lines are in operation and about 560,000 consumers are already getting service. This is an increase of about 120,000 during the first six months of 1940.

1700 Delegates Present at Meeting in Duluth Saturday

More than 1700 delegates to the Minnesota state Democratic convention in Duluth Saturday indorsed President Roosevelt for a third term, instructing its delegates to the national convention to draft him, if need be.

James Cosgrove of this city, who served on the credentials committee, was named an alternate to the national convention, as was Howard Jacobson of Fergus Falls. Named delegates from this district were Bob Jones of Gonvick and M. J. Daly of Perham.

Forces of John P. Erickson, national committeeman, and Joseph N. Moonan of Waseca, state chairman, scored a sweeping victory by naming a majority of the delegates-at-large to the national meeting in Chicago, July 15.

Thomas A. Gallagher, Minneapolis, leader of the opposition to Moonan-Erickson forces, was named a delegate-at-large by recommendation of the Moonan-controlled nominating committee.

The slate of the nominating committee was adopted with but a few dissenting voice votes.

Delegates—At large, each possessing one-half vote, follow:

Thomas Gallagher, Minneapolis; Joe Moonan, Waseca; John Erickson, Duluth; Harry Weiss, St. Paul; Thomas Wilson, Minneapolis; Ida McCabe Kayser, St. Peter; Louise Mayn Trenholm, Rochester; Mrs. C. A. McGuiggan, Marshall.

The slate, with seven delegates favorable to the Moonan-Erickson forces, was a compromise gesture in its inclusion of Gallagher, who had differed with Moonan, the state chairman, on conduct of party affairs.

W. WILLKIE AND McNARY NAMED GOP NOMINEES

Willkie Wins Nomination on 6th Ballot at Philadelphia Convention

OREGON FARM LEADER TO BE RUNNING MATE

Thomas E. Dewey and Robert Taft Lead in Early Balloting

Wendell Willkie stampeded the Republican national convention in Philadelphia early Friday into a sixth vote nomination as its 1940 presidential candidate. The vote later was made unanimous.

The Indiana born utilities executive, who has fought the New Deal uphill and down dale for years, surged into the convention with 105 votes on the first ballot, gained by big jumps on each succeeding roll call until the nomination was his.

Running third at the start to Thomas E. Dewey and Senator Robert A. Taft, he quickly passed both, and then he and Taft left Dewey so far to the rear that during the fifth ballot the New York district attorney withdrew and released his delegates.

Later Friday the convention nominated as Willkie's running mate for vice president Charles L. McNary of Oregon, U. S. senate Republican leader and long prominent in promoting farm legislation. He is a progressive, and always has been on cordial personal terms with President Roosevelt.

Willkie's drive for the presidency began only a few weeks ago. His record as a battler against New Deal, his bluff, homespun manner, and his way of dealing with people attracted attention to him at once.

So rapid was his rise, that although he came to Philadelphia with only a small minority of the delegates pledged to him, his secondary strength was obviously enormous, as was revealed on the night's successive ballots.

He is president of Commonwealth and Southern corporation, huge electric utilities holding company, and the utilities issue was raised against him. It was urged that that issue would be kept up in the campaign to come. Some leaders of the party were against him, feeling that an older party member should have the nomination and recalling that Willkie was a registered Democrat as recently as 1933.

But once the ball started rolling Thursday night, there was little doubt of the outcome.

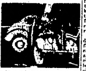
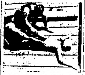
Have a Good Time This 4th of July, But, Take It Easy!

Every July 4th all America turns out for one big day of fun. This celebration is, of course, "fitting and proper," but always present is the specter of accident and tragedy. Here are some of the main reasons accidents occur in such large numbers and a hint or two on how to avoid them:



According to the National Safety Council, accidents of all types claimed 8,850 lives last July. Traffic accidents accounted for 2,830 of these. July's accident losses are 22 per cent higher than that of the average month. Be smart and drive carefully. Don't be a road-hog or a show-off.



Public accidents, other than motor vehicles, reach their year's peak in July. This classification includes drownings and one-fifth of all drownings occur in this month. Most of these happen at beaches where there is no supervision.

Fireworks add greatly to July's high accident rate. Despite widespread legislation against this common cause of blindness and infection many small children continue to hold private fireworks displays, with disastrous results.

Careless campers like the one above, just ready to toss a lighted cigarette to the winds, are responsible for many costly fires on the nation's big holiday. Be careful and thoughtful this Fourth.

That "suntan" we all envy, and some of us try to obtain in a single day's exposure to the sun on the Fourth, can be a dangerous thing. Not only is sunburn painful but there is the ever-present danger of heat prostration.

The bride's floor-length wedding gown of white sheer was fashioned with a full skirt and trimmed with white velvet ribbons. Her white veil was fingertip length and she carried a white Bible adorned with white streamers and sweetpeas. Her only jewelry was a string of pearls.

The bridesmaid, Miss Edna Jorde, sister of the bride, wore a floor-length gown of blue taffeta and carried sweetpeas, carnations, and baby's breath. The bride's niece, little Roberta Christie, was lovely in a dainty frock of orchid organdy with matching ribbons in her hair. She carried a basket of wild roses. Borden Sagmoen was best man.

Lawrence Olivier and Joan Fontaine appear in the stellar roles, and the cast also includes Reginald Denny, Judith Anderson, C. Aubrey Smith and Nigel Bruce.

Says National Defense Has Right of Way Over Local Expenditures

"The entire nation is united in support of the national defense program now before Congress. Citizens in all walks of life recognize that action is needed and that speed is of prime importance," James P. McDonnell of Buffalo, president of Minnesota Taxpayers association, stated in a talk before a session of Tax Foundation in New York City.

Since the time element is a big factor, great appropriations must of necessity be provided on short notice. While the federal government will need every dollar it can raise to provide national security, naturally it will have to make economies in other directions, and this should be done, he said.

"Local and state boards must set out to bring their costs down to the minimum, too, in order to give national defense the right-of-way," McDonnell pointed out.

"It certainly would indicate smug indifference to national welfare in these local boards insisted on keeping up the old high standard of spending in a time like this. Every dollar released from local spending will be more readily available for defense use, and local boards can offer no more effective assistance in the defense program than by keeping their home fronts in good financial order," McDonnell said.

WHEAT GROWERS URGED TO JOIN IN HOPPER CAMPAIGN

Weather Has Been Favorable for Spreading Poison, Grow Points out

Wheat growers in Pennington county are especially urged by Carl R. Anderson, chairman of the Pennington county AAA committee to protect their crops against grasshoppers by properly spreading poison bait immediately.

Wheat growers who have insured their 1940 wheat crop under the government "all risk" crop insurance program are not relieved from the responsibility of using every means possible to save their crop, Mr. Anderson says. A crop insurance contract protects the grower from unavoidable losses caused by migratory hoppers, for example, that swarm in and destroy fields before any defense can be made; but when growers are warned that a severe infestation is developing, as is the case in Pennington county this year, they must make every reasonable effort to fight them or losses will not be paid them from the insurance funds. Because premium rates are revised yearly, the man who suffers a low yield one year also may be required to pay higher premiums for wheat insurance in the future and it therefore doubly pays him to protect this year's crop.

Reports from T. L. Aamodt, state entomologist at University Farm, St. Paul, indicate that sections in the Red River Valley and west central Minnesota are now literally alive with tiny hoppers in exactly the right stage to be poisoned with the least bait and effort. Bait is now available in Thief River Falls every day from 8 A. M. to 4:30 P. M.

County Agent Howard E. Grow has been visiting farms on which poison bait has been used and has found that very satisfactory results have been obtained. Mr. Grow says that bait should be spread as early in the morning as the hoppers start to feed. That hour will vary from day to day, but the temperature will always be about 65 degrees Fahrenheit when they start feeding.

Many township and locally owned mechanical spreaders are not being used to full advantage. Mr. Grow stresses the point that now while weather conditions are favorable, and before the hoppers start to fly, every farmer should spread every field where there is a threatening or severe infestation. He also states that these favorable conditions cannot exist indefinitely.

RECREATION HIGHLIGHTS

By Ferd Elstad

The recreation program is sponsored by the city council in cooperation with Work Projects Administration recreation leaders.

Plans of a few weeks ago have largely materialized as far as recreation in this city is concerned. The work of the newly organized planning committee and recreation leaders has been well rewarded. Cooperation from the townspeople and children has assisted greatly in advancing the program. Continued effort on the part of those who patronize the program is necessary. Everyone is invited to use the facilities and equipment of this program. There is no charge for participation.

Playgrounds

Activities at Tindolph Park and the East-side playground are in full swing. Table tennis, croquet and horseshoe are interesting activities available at both places. Two Chinese checker sets are being used at Tindolph. Picnickers have found that these games add to the fun of their outing. At East-side basketball, baseball and softball are experiencing large participation. The tennis courts are busy most of the day, but there is always room for more. Soon a volleyball court will be made at East-side for those interested in this exciting sport.

Swimming Pool

Decreased activity at the pool may be attributed to two reasons. The weather has not been the best for bathing, and "poison" has scared many others away. There isn't much to be done about the weather, but from all indications the "poison" has disappeared. Instruction in swimming is given every morning from 10 until 12. Lifeguards are on duty all day long. A large amount of equipment is already in the pool to make swimming interesting. Other equipment is being purchased. A swimming session can be made interesting by using the playground adjacent to the pool.

Arena Craft Shop

Here is another part of the program that is both educational and entertaining. Numerous children are already taking advantage of this supervised work in constructing useful articles out of wood. Likewise many parents enroll in the night classes. Kites, birdhouses, bows and arrows, and lawn ornaments are only a few of the many articles that have been constructed in the craft shop. Many people take advantage of the shop to repair old furniture and build new. There is absolutely no charge for anything you do at the shop. Boys' hikes are scheduled three days a week. On these hikes an attempt is made to acquaint the children with local bird and animal life and other phases of nature.

Arena Puppet Theatre

The majority of participants here are girls. However, there are a few boys, and others are welcome. Monday is camp day for this project. The children select their own camp site, and then proceed to a day of games and lunches in the out-of-doors. Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons instruction is given in various aspects of puppetry. Thursday afternoons are set aside for a show. The play itself, the costumes and characters are all products of the children. In addition to puppetry, several game room activities are at the children's disposal.

Miscellaneous

Tennis courts are also available at the high school. Archery will start as soon as equipment and sites are furnished. Parents are urged to take part in the program and are also asked to come and watch their children at play. Greater participation and interest will serve to promote a larger and better recreation program.

Patrol Arrests 1,493 Motorists in May for Traffic Law Offenses

Minnesota's state highway patrolmen halted 4,715 motorists for traffic violations during the single month of May, of which 1,493 were arrested and hailed into court for those serious violations which endanger life and property, Chief Elden Rowe reported this week to M. J. Hoffman, state highway commissioner.

The remaining 3,222 drivers halted by patrol officers were given either written or verbal warnings for lesser offenses, a repetition of which will cause arrest.

Arrests were only a small part of the patrol's service rendered to the motoring public, however. The officers, during the month, aided 3,821 drivers in trouble on the road, checked lights on 6,010 vehicles and brakes on 7,084, and examined 18,000 drivers' licenses. Illegal equipment tags were issued to 3,712 motorists and 680 improper license tags were detected and corrected.

Fines imposed during the month for major violations totalled $18,538. Major causes of arrest were: Speeding 237, careless driving 233, driving while drunk 122, improper passing 90, going through stop signs 184, driving with illegal and unsafe equipment 312, and improper registration 134.

Locals Shut Out Oklee Sunday by 5 to 0 Score

Thief River Falls raked the offerings of revenge-seeking Bill Hallamack, pitching for Oklee, for nine solid blows to defeat the Oklee Aces, 5 to 0, in a well-played game at Oklee Sunday afternoon.

The locals gave "cousin" Bill Hallamack a rough first inning greeting, scoring three runs. Roy Lee sent a looping fly that the first baseman caught for the first out. Stan Cockrell punched a single into center field, Rasmussen walked, Johnny Jaranson grounded to third baseman Hank Sandland, who made the play to second, forcing Rasmussen, with Cockrell taking third, and Jaranson reaching first. Hemmy Sahl then straightened out one of Hallamack's curve balls and hammered it into deep left field for a base-cleaning triple, scoring Cockrell and Jaranson. Bing Bergstrom slapped a grounder that hopped through the third baseman for a single, sending Sahl across the plate for the inning's third run.

Thief River added a run to their total in the fifth inning. Cockrell opened the inning with a double to center field, and scored on Rasmussen's single into left. Rasmussen being thrown out attempting to stretch his single into a double.

The locals' final tally was marked up in the sixth inning. Wally DuChamp, who had whiffed on his previous trip to the plate, stepped into a fast ball and drove out a long center field double, and after Happy Erickson had gone down on strikes, Lenny Helquist poked out a single into left field to score Wally.

Hemmy Sahl pitched a fine game, holding the Oklee team to but three scattered hits, and it was not until the ninth inning that Oklee was able to shove a runner past second base. And it was in the ninth that the Aces made their most serious threat to score. Hemmy, who had a sore arm, became loose with his control, and walked the first two men to face him in the inning, H. Sandland and Elmer Fortier. The two worked a double steal, to bring them to third base and second base respectively. Hemmy struck out Leroht. Bergeron bounded to Jim LaFave at third base, and Jim made the throw to Cockrell at first and Stan whipped the ball into Bergstrom who tagged Sandland as he tried to score. And Fortier was called out when he attempted to steal home, Sahl pegging the ball in to Bing, who made the put-out to end the game.

The locals travel to Grygla on Thursday where they meet the Grygla team as one of the features of the Fourth of July celebration.

Lands 19-lb. Walleye Near Perham Last Week

Minnesota apparently captured from Wisconsin the world's record wall-eye pike catch last week when John E. Nurmi landed a 19-pounder in little Pine Lake near Perham. The mammoth fish, on exhibit there for several days, was the talk of the town. Nurmi is a half brother to Paavo Nurmi, world famous Finnish long distance runner. The previous world record was an 18-pound wall-eye landed by A. M. Brothers at High Lake, Wisconsin, in 1933.

Only .04 Inch of Rain Falls in City Past Week

With a total of only .04 inch of precipitation recorded on the power house rain gauge during the past week, and with an apparent end of the recent cool weather, crops in this vicinity, especially west of the city, are suffering from the protracted drouth, and a soaking rain would be very much appreciated.

Local Batting Averages

Getting one hit in two official times at bat, Clarence Rasmussen lifted his average to .387 to go into a tie with Johnny Jaranson for the lead in the batting averages. Johnny, while he did work Bill Hallamack for two walks, was held hitless in three times at bat, to drop his average from .428 to .387. Wally DuChamp clubbing out two hits in four trips to the plate, bounced his average up over the .300 mark, bringing it up to .316.

Genius of Composers

According to a study by Prof. Harvey C. Lehman and Prof. De Forest W. Ingerham reported in the Scientific Monthly, the genius of composers appears to reach its greatest heights in the span of years between 35 and 39. The conclusion is based on a statistical analysis of the age of composition of the grand operas, musical comedies, symphonies, chamber music, and vocal pieces which have survived and are most appreciated by music lovers. In nearly every class of composition the creation of the enduring work falls within the same age range.

PLUMMER DOWNS R. L. FALLS TEAM LAST SUNDAY 11-3

Victory Retains Plummer in Tie for First Place in League

With pitcher Arv Mortrude hurling a four-hit game, striking out 16 men, the Plummer Red Sox won their sixth straight Northern Minnesota league game last Sunday when they defeated Red Lake Falls, 11 to 3, in a well-played game at Plummer. Reaume St. Marie with a double and a triple, driving in three runs, led the Plummer attack, which netted eleven hits off Red Lake Falls' Kelly.

The victory kept Plummer in its tie for the league lead with the Thief River Falls team, and with the Thief River team idle next Sunday, the Plummer club, by defeating St. Hilaire, can go into the league lead.

Rain That Does Not Fall

The United States weather bureau says: "The phenomenon which has the appearance of falling rain but does not reach the ground, is a common one, especially over arid regions. The rain actually falls from the clouds, but the air between the cloud and the earth has such a low relative humidity that the rain is completely evaporated before it reaches the ground. In meteorological literature this type of precipitation is referred to as 'virga.'"

Fair Ground Lights for D-ball

Twenty 1,500 watt bulbs are being used on the Fair Ground D-ball field, and while the 30,000 watts give sufficient light for diamond ball, it is definitely not enough light for night baseball. It may be that the reflectors are not of the proper type for flood-lighting a baseball field, or that these reflectors are not spotted correctly. It would be quite risky to go up against a speed-ball pitcher with the lights as they are now.

Ole Ness and Fair Exhibits

Ole Ness, of the Kiewel's, is anxious for the county fair to arrive, because he is going to enter a couple of his D-ball players in the exhibits. He's certain, after seeing them perform last Friday night, that they will be blue ribbon winners in the vegetable department, someplace between the cabbages and the cauliflowers. Yep, Ole was pretty disgusted when his team booted away that Land O'Lakes game.

Walt Larson Due for Worries

Walt Larson, manager of the Land O'Lakes D-ball team, returned from his vacation last Saturday, and while he was on his vacation he went through Rochester's Mayo Clinic. The Clinic told him that his condition was satisfactory, but they advised him not to burden himself with unnecessary worries. Well, Walt had better resign as manager of the D-ball team, because if the Land O' Lakes continue to play like they did last Friday night he's going to have plenty of worries. Walt watched the city champion Hartz team play the Bridgeman's last Monday night, and he got himself another worry. He'll have plenty of worry warts by the time the schedule is completed; and I think that I'll have a couple, too, because I picked the Land O'Lakes to win the city title.

Hallamack Becoming a 'Cousin'

St. Hilaire's Bill Hallamack is about as hard a loser as Red Lake Falls' Eddie Kiefenheim. Thief River Falls had beaten Bill twice this year, when he was pitching for St. Hilaire, but Bill wasn't convinced that these defeats weren't anything but bad luck, and so when Thief River Falls came to bat at Oklee Sunday who should be on the mound, pitching for Oklee, but Bill Hallamack. And this time the local boys greeted Bill like a long-lost 'cousin', for they hammered him for nine hits and four earned runs. And in this cluster of nine hits was a triple and two doubles. And do you think that Bill has had enough? Not to hear him tell it, for he has already made arrangements to pitch for Red Lake Falls when Thief River meets that club. I wonder what the St. Hilaire club thinks about Hallamack's jumping around the league like this. St. Hilaire was forced to send Woody Almquist to the mound last Sunday, when they played the CCC and Woody came through with a five hit game, to win 11 to 2. Almquist is a much stronger pitcher than Hallamack, but he has been troubled by a sore arm that has robbed him of much of his control. When Almquist has his speed under control he's as tough to hit as any pitcher in northern Minnesota, and I hope that he has a fair part of his control if he pitches against Plummer on Sunday.

League's Best Center Fielders

Wally DuChamp struck out last Sunday, for the second time during the league schedule, and that makes the strike-outs all even between him and Jesse, two each. And there were two men on the bases when Wally wind-milled the three high, inside pitches that Hallamack side-armed to him. I don't think that I will get into any argument if I say that Wally and Jesse DuChamp are the two best center fielders in the league (Jesse, you know, is playing center field for Plummer), and I'll get into only a slight argument if I add that Wally is a shade the better. Wally has had more experience, and his arm is stronger and steadier than Jesse's. Jesse, of course, is stronger and steadier with the blondes; but I'm talking about the Northern Minny baseball league.

Comment on Minnesota Summer

Standing around shivering at the D-ball games these nights brought to mind the comment Irvin Cobb made on a summer he spent in Minnesota: "The finest winter I ever experienced was the summer I spent in northern Minnesota."

The housewife complained to the grocer that the eggs were too small for their age.

POTATO BUYER IS SENTENCED TO UP TO SEVEN YEARS

Brainerd Judge Sentences J. T. Lyell of Fargo on Arson Charge

John T. Lyell, Fargo potato merchant, convicted of arson in the burning of a Roseau warehouse in 1935, last Wednesday in Brainerd was sentenced to an indeterminate term in Stillwater prison not to exceed seven years.

Lyell, who appeared before Judge D. H. Fullerton in district court in custody of a United States marshal, already was under a federal sentence of two and a half years for his conviction on charges of conspiring to bring about misapplication of bank funds in Moorhead.

Judge Fullerton specified that the term on the state charge will begin upon completion of the federal sentence in Leavenworth penitentiary.

Thomas McMeekin, St. Paul, counsel for Lyell petitioned for a new trial contending the statute of limitations in the 1935 fire had expired and that testimony of the state's chief witness, John Igo, warehouse caretaker and confessed partner in the fire, was not corroborated.

Motion for the new trial will not be heard until a transcript of testimony in the Roseau trial is completed in about two months.

Lyell, who had been free on bond, surrendered to the United State's marshal's office Wednesday to begin serving the federal sentence.

"U" Regents' Big Task Is to Select New Head of State University

A task that has confronted the University of Minnesota's board of regents only six times in the seventy-one years since the institution was opened, is now holding a considerable part of the attention of that body. President Guy Stanton Ford is expected to retire June 30, 1941, and his successor will have to be selected before that time.

The topic is news at this time, a year in advance, because the presidency of the University of Minnesota may be considered the most important position in the state, a job whose occupant always has been, and must continue to be, of the greatest service to all Minnesota and all Minnesotans.

The board of regents has appointed a committee to give consideration to the problem and to receive whatever suggestions may be forthcoming. Heading the committee is the veteran regent, Fred B. Snyder of Minneapolis, who has worked for the interests of the institution as a board member since 1912 and before that upheld the university's cause in the Minnesota Legislature. With him on the committee are Regents Sheldon V. Wood of Minneapolis, E. E. Novak of New Prague, Albert J. Lobb of Rochester and A. J. Olson of Renville. This group will make the recommendation on which ultimately the entire board will act.

The regents have asked the General Alumni association of the University to "keep in touch" with the situation, and at the regents' request the university faculty has named a committee of its members with whom the board committee may "consult and advise".

Chiropractors to Meet in Minneapolis July 25

Minneapolis will be host to 3,000 delegates from all parts of the United States during the National Chiropractors Association convention for seven days, July 25 to 31. Dr. Robert Ramsay, Minneapolis, president of the Minnesota Chiropractors Association, is general chairman. First three days of the convention will be devoted to business sessions and election of officers, with Dr. L. J. Schick, Hamilton, Ont., in charge. General educational and scientific meetings will open July 28 and continue daily through the convention.

REAL PROPERTY LEVIES FOR ROADS SHOW INCREASE

Minnesota Taxpayers Association Cites Rising Tendency

Real estate in Minnesota still provides the base for nearly one-quarter of all road costs in the state. Property taxes for highway purposes have grown from $9,191,453 in 1934, to $13,076,638 in 1939, according to a compilation of road costs just made by the Minnesota Taxpayers Association.

This means, the report points out, that while gas taxes and auto license fees, plus Federal aids, have been providing more revenue for road purposes than five years earlier, property taxes have had an increase of $3,585,185 for road costs in the same period.

County road and bridge levies which are paid entirely by property taxes have increased from $4,404,016 in 1934, to $6,361,631 in 1939. This is an increase of nearly one-third.

Local road and bridge levies, which include townships and municipalities, have been upped from $4,068,907 to $5,528,108 in the same period, an increase of about 35 per cent.

Minnesota's total highway costs in 1934 were $45,070,637 while five years later, in 1939, they had reached $54,938,901. Thus, highway expenditures last year were $10,913,236 larger than five years earlier for the state as a whole.

Of the total costs, counties and local units expended $31,938,582 last year, while the expenditures of the state alone were $23,045,319. Thus considerably more of our highway funds were expended by local units than by the state highway department, the taxpayer report shows.

SNAPPING TURTLE BITES BOY'S NOSE

Foley—Pete Kaiser caught a big snapping turtle and put it in the rear compartment of his model A Ford coupe. The snapper was a big one and as Pete was driving by the Kosloski farm he thought he would drop in and let the boys see it. Young Garryl Kosloski was trying to peek in as Pete raised the compartment door. However, Garryl got too close, and suddenly the turtle snapped at him and bit a piece of flesh from his nose. The lad was taken to a doctor immediately.

Vacationists Advised to Beware of Poison Ivy Trouble in Summer

Following are the answers to some of the common questions about ivy poisoning. They were given today in one of a series of bulletins on common summer health hazards now being issued by the Minnesota State Medical Association's committee on public health education.

This one, for instance, is asked each year. Does ivy poisoning come back regularly each year after you have once had an attack? The answer is no. You never get ivy poisoning, according to the doctors unless you have had a fresh exposure. Sometimes, of course, the exposure may be unsuspected.

Here is another: Is it possible for the secretions from the blisters caused by ivy to spread to other persons and to other parts of the body of the same person? The answer to that is yes. It is quite possible, the doctors say, for the poisoning to spread by spreading the secretion of the ivy blisters as well as by spreading the irritating oils from the plant itself.

That is why the first thing to do after you suspect you may have been exposed to the plant, is to give yourself a thorough lathering with soap over the whole body and a vigorous rinsing and, after that, a second lathering and rinsing. This is to remove all traces of the irritating oils. If symptoms appear in spite of it, a physician's advice is needed and every precaution must be taken to avoid spreading trouble to others as well as to yourself.

Million Dollars Saved on State Buying Under Stassen, Cooper States

Reviewing the results of improvements in purchasing methods put into effect when Governor Stassen took office, Miles Cooper, director of purchases for the state, points out in a report that has just been submitted to the governor that the adoption of competitive bidding and other changes has saved more than $1,000,000 in the last year.

Total purchases made by Cooper and his assistants exceed $12,000,000 a year, the report shows. All supplies for state institutions, highway supplies and all other materials used by state departments now are bought through a consolidated purchasing bureau, directed by Cooper under general supervision of Leslie M. Gravlin, the state's new business manager, and the bureau also must investigate and pass on all contracts and purchases of services.

Adoption of strict requirements for competitive bidding, consolidated purchasing and other improvements, Cooper says, have resulted in a saving of 10 per cent on state purchases, or $1,000,000 over the year.

ONE THOUSAND PENNIES USED AS BAIL MONEY

Austin.—One thousand pennies were given as bail by a Fairmont man, Leo Carlson, arrested in Austin on an intoxication charge. The providing of the bail money in pennies was not done by Mr. Carlson as a joke. An operator of a vending machine, most of the money he had with him was in pennies, so he had no alternative.

FISH ESCAPES BUT BITES AGAIN, HE SAYS

Chaska. — Frederick Habeggen won't be able to tell the story about "the one that got away," because all turned out all right in the end. Mr. Habeggen was fishing at Gifford's lake when a big pike broke his fishing line and escaped. However, two days later he pulled in the very same fish with the hook and torn line still attached.

ONLY 36 COUNTIES DODGE DEATH TOLL IN ROAD MISHAPS

State Sets Bad Five Months Record for Traffic Fatalities

Although traffic deaths were two less than during the same period last year, only 36 Minnesota counties have gone through the first five months of 1940 without having at least one traffic fatality charged against them, according to W. F. Rosenwald, traffic and safety engineer of the Minnesota highway department.

Just out-side of this honor group of "death-free" counties, however, are 26 other counties which have had only one traffic fatality to date, among them Pennington county.

"A total of 169 deaths attributable to traffic accidents, 72 of them pedestrians, have been reported up to June 1st," said Mr. Rosenwald. "These have occurred in 51 of Minnesota's 87 counties, with Hennepin and Ramsey counties accounting for 44 of the total. Hennepin county leads the list with 24 deaths, closely followed by Ramsey with 20 fatalities. Murray county is next in this parade of death, with 13 lives having been lost to traffic mishaps—11 of these being the result of the nation's worst traffic accident of the year, at Slayton on April 21. Blue Earth with 9 and St. Louis with 8 deaths also are listed with those counties recording major numbers of traffic fatalities to date."

As is usually the case, Mr. Rosenwald pointed out, the metropolitan counties of Hennepin and Ramsey are charged with the greatest number of traffic deaths, due largely to their greater population concentrations. St. Louis county, although third in population standings, is fifth in the traffic death list.

"How many of these 36 counties will still be in this 'death-free' group at the end of the year," concluded Mr. Rosenwald, "depends not only upon the residents of these counties, but also upon everyone who has occasion to travel their highways on pleasure or business trips."

Resident Youth Project at Shakopee Offers to Give Vocational Courses

Youth in Minnesota who are interested in receiving related training in such fields as airplane mechanics, auto mechanics, wood working, forestry, general mechanics, shoe repairing, cooking, auto body repair and painting, drafting, electricity, radio service, acetyline and arc welding, and who are eligible for the NYA out-of school work program are requested to make immediate application for admittance to the NYA resident work project for boys, at Shakopee. Application is to be made at the Area NYA office at the court house in Crookston.

The Shakopee resident work project has been established in order to give selected young men an opportunity to better qualify themselves for the future, and to be self-supporting while receiving pre-employment trade training. The National Youth Administration has established this project to offer young men between the ages of 18 and 25 an opportunity to explore various phases of vocational experiences. This project provides part-time employment for young men in the state, for which they receive $30.00 per month. Twenty dollars are deducted to pay for all subsistence costs.

To gain enrollment on the project, each youth must be certified by the Division of Social Welfare in the county in which he resides.

LEGION POST COMMANDER TALKS AS LIGHTS GO OUT

Gilbert—Not a little embarrassed when he got up to give a talk was I. F. Gianotti American Legion postcommander. Apparently there was light trouble at hand, for at each instance Mr. Gianotti was scheduled to speak, the lights went out. Finally several candles were lit and Mr. Gianotti was glad to make his talk in the semi-darkness.

SMILEY

Community Club Meeting

Those good folks from Steiner came down Friday evening and presented the dandy 4-H program at the regular monthly meeting of the Smiley Community club. Several other young folks from Thief River Falls and Hazel were also on the program. The program for the evening commenced with community singing led by Mrs. Freeman Allen. "Stars of the Summer Night" was beautifully sung by a girl's quartet consisting of Opal and Ruby Werner, Ann Hillyer and Bernice Halvorson. An excellent reading "Mickey's Marker" was presented by Miss Ann Hillyer. Young Jimmy Russell gave a harmonica selection followed by the Steiner 4-H play, "Sparks of an Old Flame." This play was good. The directors were Mrs. I. A. Russell and Mrs. Vernon Malberg. Miss Elfa Chester portrayed the part of an earnest mother on wash day in her reading "Ma's Monday Wash". Jimmy Russell gave a guitar and song number followed by Miss Cleo Alberg with a song "O Johnny". Harold Halvorson kept the audience in mirth with his reading "Dinner in a Diner". June Harstad sang prettily with her number "Playmates". The final number on the program was a piano accordion selection by Verle Nelson. An interesting feature at the close of the program was the lining up of all 4-H young folks present. They gave the famous 4-H pledge which was quite thrilling to hear. The program committee consisting of the Mark Olson's, Norton Nelson's and Owen Weckwerth's, are to be highly congratulated on presenting such a good program. Tasty refreshments were served by the Freeman Allen's, Leonard Helgeland's and Will McCrum. The program for the last Friday in July will be in making by a committee consisting of the O. N. Olson family as chairmen, the Elias Angell and Sivert Brekke families. Refreshments will be served by the Walter Lendobeja family as chairmen and the Christ Larson and Carl Beiswenger families assisting.

They came home convinced that this year's meeting was better than ever, what with all that precious knowledge derived from such noted demonstrators as Bess M. Rowe of the Farmer magazine whose topic was "Pots and Pans". An excellent meat cookery demonstrations provided endless ideas, especially the one of the rolled sweet potato meat loaf. This demonstration was by Emily Conklin of the National Livestock and Meat Board. The Sewing and Handicraft demonstrations were "nigh unto perfect." The Women's Camp Cook Book was contributed also. This cook-book was derived from recipes of all women who attended the camp last year. A number of the women in this community have secured copies and they think the recipes are "tops".

Everyone was stuffed to capacity by the big feed. A short program was held with community singing led by Mrs. Freeman Allen. Donna Olson supplied the folks with two songs. Al Kraemer and Elling Ramsey entertained royally with music. The members had to give short numbers on the program—some were silly which kept the group in gales of laughter. BABY COMBINES NEW FEATURE AT MINNESOTA FAIR

Are Included in Two Million Dollar Machinery Exhibit at Fair

One-man threshing units, new simplified baby combines, will be introduced at the expanded machinery show at the Minnesota state fair August 24 to September 2.

These newest machines, designed for small scale operators who may have from 10 to 50 acres of grain or seed crop to combine at any one period will be featured by the six leading national manufacturers of farm machinery. For the small operater, these machines, the manufacturers say, will make them independent of the old style threshing rigs which required a crew of a dozen or more to operate.

Leading manufacturers of farm equipment have already reserved display space on Machinery hill which this year will feature two million dollars worth of the newest in farm equipment. To make room for the expanded exhibit, three more square blocks of display space have been graded and streets built in the section formerly occupied by the mile track. Machinery Park a full block of trees and grass is the beauty spot of Machinery hill.

Many Game Birds Being Produced on Game Farms

Rearing pen capacities at the Carlos Avery state game farm were taxed to the limit this week as officials reported 30,000 quail and chukar eggs under incubation with more expected.

Egg production from the 487 brood quail is so large, the state game and fish division announced, that 2,500 bobwhites will have to be "farmed out" or the eggs traded to other states because of crowded rearing pens. Altogether, Carlos Avery will produce a surplus of 5,000 quail and chukars—roughly evenly divided. In addition, the farm will produce and will be able to handle more than 30,000 young birds that have been hatched or are under incubation.

At the Madelia state game farm 80,000 Chinese pheasant eggs are under incubation. Distribution of game bird stock will begin around July 6 to the more distant planting points.

UNIVERSITY FLIGHT TRAINING COURSE

The program includes one week of ground training. Looking at blueprints above, are Donald Swenson, Jeanne Krause and William Bofenkamp.

Roaming the ROUTES

Everlasting Fire

While in Red Lake recently I visited at the home of Mrs. Harry Ortloff. The Ortloff home is near the river bank. To the right, high on the opposite bank is a constant fire. The paper mill, also on this side to the left is working quite steadily. They dump the straw refuse from trucks over the bank where it burns continually. It is quite a sight from Mrs. Ortloff's house. The only rub is when the wind is blowing in the wrong direction, all the smoke blows across the river. Regardless of the wind, Mrs. Ortloff has one of the most fruitful of gardens. She specializes in fruit—strawberries and raspberries, intending to sell them when they are in market.

Has Fine Silo

Fred Lehrer's farm, about three miles northwest of Red Lake Falls, has a landmark in it's silo. The latter's silver top shines brightly for many miles distant. The Lehrer's son is in Montana attending summer school. He is working for a degree, that he may teach in high schools.

When discussions of "Fifth columnists" arise Ole Christofferson Thief River Falls, route 5, is reminded of a personal experience he had in Norway in 1935. During the months abroad he visited many of the European countries. Though he resided with relatives most of the period spent in Norway he lived a few days at a hotel. The managers of the hotel were a Norwegian wife and her German-born husband. The unusual feature of this proved to be the leisure they took every evening, when the man would tune in on Germany. The programs were broadcast in German and he seemed to be the only one able to interpret the news, as he sat so tensely at the radio night after night. "This intense feeling for the 'Vaterland' found its solution in 1940," observed Mr. Christofferson.

There seem to be numerous chicken hawks causing mischief. In order to combat them the Ferdie Andersons, Wylie, have set up scarecrows.

The entire Oscar Hauge family, St. Hilaire, delight in sports. Their home which is situated over the river, is a specially suitable place to carry out this objective. A short distance from the house the beach is sandy enough to facilitate swimming. They use the river in the winter to skate on, every member of the family being a skater. Mrs. Hauge claims that it is twenty miles to Thief River Falls by way of the river, which winds around. And when the Hauge's aren't skating they're tobogganing on a likely site nearby.

One of the busiest men these days is Gust Gustafson, who is clearing land for his newly-erected buildings. As soon as it is cleaned he plans to move his house, which is located a short distance to the east, to a more suitable position near the other buildings.

Mrs. Gustafson experienced one of the big thrills of her life recently when her parents from California drove into the Gustafson yard on a surprise visit. She had not seen them for a few years and was not expecting them for a week or two. It was raining and the Gustafsons were eating their supper. Looking out she spied them and ran out of the house carrying the young baby entirely forgetting it was raining.

The anti-Hitler feeling tends to be very strong, I have noticed, while visiting around the country. One young fellow wishes with all his heart to possess a huge tank, line up the German soldiers and officials and mow them down. Art Swanson, humorously, says that he would pull off Hitler's mustache. Mrs. Fred Dobson, St. Hilaire, has some misgivings, from a housewife's point of view, as to what would happen to her canned goods (piled high on the cellar shelves) if Hitler got "grabby."

Raises Greyhounds

An unusual sight on the Milford Hanson farm, route 1, Hazel, are the greyhound dogs. Mr. Hanson said that he and his brother in Goodridge are the few if not only people in this territory, who own and breed this type of dog. They generally sell them in pairs as the greyhounds have been found to hunt better in pairs.

The summer is no time to relax or slack up for young girls or at least that is the opinion of Dorothy Bothman, daughter of Will Bothman, St. Hilaire. An aunt in the west sent her material with which she made an attractive eyelet dress. The latter dress may represent her 4-H project this fall also for Dorothy is interested i club work. She attended in club work. She at Crookston. Dolores and Harold, other Bothman children pedal their bicycles daily to Thief River Falls to attend Bible school.

'Tis often said the Irish are a hospitable people and also that the Irish-Norwegian nationalities make a good combination in marriage. The Pat Culkins, Hazel route 1 exemplify these beliefs. For beside the tasty dinner they invited me to I enjoyed their merry company and conversation.

Law Protects Many Minnesota Flowers

It's the law, Minnesotans! Picnickers and other nature lovers wishing to pick certain wild flowers must do so in their own backyard. Such is Minnesota's law passed in 1935, and administered by the department of agriculture, dairy and food, according to an article by Fred Miller, Jr., of St. Paul, published in the Minnesota Horticulturist, at University farm. It protects six groups of wild flowers—orchids, lotus, gentians, wild lilies, and arbutus.

Although the law blankets these flowers, a permit to dig, transport and replant some plants can be obtained through two divisions of the Department of Agriculture. The seed control division will issue permits to gardeners to plant a few protected wild flowers in their gardens. Those who wish to propagate these species must obtain permission from the nursery inspection division.

Permits are issued only to those who know how to handle the plants and who have satisfactory places to grow them. Permission to dig the wild plants must also be secured from the owner of the land, and no plants can be taken from state or other public areas.

MOTOR JUMPS OFF BOAT

Rushmore—Here is a story that sounds rather far-fetched, but is really true. Cecil Fritz was trying out a powerful boat motor on West Graham Lakes, on a new boat which he had just completed. The motor however proved too strong for its moorings and took off, settling in the proverbial "Davy Jones Locker." Search failed to produce the missing motor.

AIR LINE BEAUTY

Pretty Doris Wallace, above, Minneapolis model, will attend the Wings Over the Nation show in Long Beach, Calif., and the national air mail show during the Portland, Oregon, rose festival. She will represent her home city in Portland, and be a representative of the Northwest Airlines at the two air shows.

GRYGLA

Mrs. Ole Peterson entertained a group of friends at her home last Friday in honor of her sister, Mrs. John Peterson of LaSeur, who has been visiting here for the past week. GOODRIDGE

ADELAIDE HLAVKA AND GEORGE CULLEN WED

Peonies, lilies, orange blossoms and ferns formed an unusually attractive setting for the marriage of Miss Adelaide Hlavka, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph of Silver Lake to George Cullen, son of Mrs. Margaret Cullen of Goodridge. The marriage took place in St. Joseph's Catholic church at Silver Lake at nine o'clock Tuesday morning, June 25th. Father Joseph Bouska officiated at the single ring ceremony. Miss Christine Svobody played a program of prenuptial music.

The wedding party made a very pretty picture as they proceeded up the long aisle. First to enter was the bridesmaid, Mary Lou Hlavka, cousin of the bride, who wore a blue taffeta gown, which was ankle length. She wore a white hat and white accessories. Next to enter was the maid of honor, Miss Margaret Cullen, sister of the groom, who wore a floor length gown of baby pink taffeta, with pink hat and white accessories. They both wore antique broaches, gifts of the bride, and carried arm bouquets of pink roses, delphinium, and baby's breath. Next to enter was the bride on the arm of her father who gave her in marriage. Her wedding gown was of white slipper satin, fashioned with a gathered bodice and sweeping full skirt, which was floor length. It had long sleeves with fan like cuffs extending over the hands. She wore a train length veil of all silk bridal illusion with clusters of orange blossoms adorning the cap. She carried a white prayer book, a gift of the groom. She was met at the altar by the groom where their solemn vows were spoken.

The groom and his best man, William Hlavka, brother of the bride, wore dark blue suits. Peter Cullen, brother of the groom, was the ushers. They wore boutonniers of white carnations.

The bride's mother wore a beige colored lace dress with matching accessories, nad the groom's mother wore a wine colored figured silk with navy accessories. Both wore corsages of pinks.

Immediately after the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served to the bridal party. This was followed by a reception and dinner at the home of the bride's parents for about sixty-five guests. The center piece of the table was a three tiered wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom. The house was decorated with white, pink and blue streamers and peonies, orange blossoms and lilies.

For going away the bride chose aqua and navy check print on white with white accessories. After a brief wedding trip to the twin cities and other points they will be at home on a farm north of Goodridge.

The groom is well known in the Goodridge community, having lived here all his life. The bride has taught school near Goodridge for the past three years.

Veal Stew with Dumplings
Beet Pickles Bread and Butter
Fruit Custard or Fresh Berries and Cream Cookies
Coffee or Tea

As you read the following recipe for veal stew, notice how well it fulfills all the requirements for a true "one-dish" meal. It contains—as all self-respecting one-dish meals must contain:

Enough meat or a meat substitute (fish, eggs, cheese, nuts or dried beans or peas) to give each person an adequate serving of this meat or substitute.

Enough potatoes—or some other starch food (rice, macaroni, cornmeal, hominy or some form of a quick bread such as dumplings or the topping of a meat pie) to give each person an adequate serving of these potatoes or other starch food.

The proper amount of bulky vegetables so that each person will have enough of them to balance the protein and starch in the meal. Those most frequently used are tomatoes, celery, onions, cabbage or carrots.

VEAL STEW WITH DUMPLINGS

- 2 lbs. beef from neck or veal from shoulder (at least 2 lbs. solid meat), cut in pieces
- 2 tbsp. fat (bacon drippings, etc.)
- Boiling water to cover (about 5 cups)
- 1 cup cut-up carrots
- 1 cup cubed turnips
- 1 cup cut-up celery
- 1 cup small onions (or large onions, quartered)
- 1 tsp. salt
- 4 cups cubed potatoes
- 1 bay leaf
- Few sprigs parsley
- ½ tsp. thyme
- 3 tbsp. all-purpose flour
- Salt and pepper to taste
- Dumplings

Brown meat in fat in heavy kettle. Cover with boiling water, cover kettle, and simmer gently about 1 hour. Add carrots, turnips, celery, onions and salt . . . and simmer about 30 minutes longer. Add potatoes . . . and simmer 30 minutes more, or until meat and potatoes are almost tender. If liquid cooks down, more water may be added.

Drop dumplings by spoonfuls on top of boiling stew, cover tightly, and cook gently for 15 minutes without lifting cover. Remove dumplings, and keep hot until ready to serve.

Add parsley, bay leaf and thyme to stew. Mix flour with a little cold water to form a thin, smooth paste . . . and stir into stew. Cook until stew boils and thickens. Season to taste with salt and pepper. Serve at once with the hot dumplings. This amount will serve 6 generously. (Note: To serve 3, make ½ the recipe, using ½ the amount of each ingredient.)

DUMPLINGS

Sift 2 cups all-purpose flour, 4 tsp. baking powder and ½ tsp. salt together directly into mixing bowl. Cut in 1 tbsp. shortening with pastry blender or two knives until mixture has appearance of fine meal. Stir in 1 cup milk. Drop by spoonfuls as dumplings rest on top of boiling hot stew (not in liquid). Cover tightly, and cook gently for 15 to 18 minutes (depending on size) without lifting cover! Or, drop dumplings into lightly greased steamer set over kettle, cover tightly, and steam for 15 minutes without lifting cover!) Serve hot. This amount makes about 12 dumplings. (To make 6 dumplings, make ½ the recipe . . . using ½ the amount of each ingredient.

DETAILS OF 1940 RELIEF ACT CITED BY STATE CHIEF

Provides Appropriation of $975 Million for WPA Work

Operating details of the new relief act, which went into operation July 1, were explained by S. L. Stolte, WPA Administrator, who returned from a national administrator's conference in St. Louis.

The act provides $975,650,000, as contrasted with the $1,477,000,000 of last year. However, this sum can be spent in eight rather than 12 months, if so determined by the President.

Fundamentally the same as last year's Act, the current one is threaded with provisions giving special consideration to national defense projects. Federal funds up to $100,000 may be spent on a building. This limit is not placed on defense projects. Last year the maximum allowed was $52,000.

Unmarried widows and wives of veterans now receive, along with veterans, preference in assignment to WPA work. No WPA employment will be given to aliens, Communists or Nazi Bund organization members. Last year's act prohibited work to aliens and persons belonging to organizations advocating the overthrow of the United States government, but no organizations were named. Signatures of workers on affidavits will be considered as prima facie evidence.

Sponsors still are required to provide not less than 25 per cent of the cost of projects. Defense projects are exempted from this regulation. The 130-hour month work scale is continued, as is the 18-month clause requiring workers who have been on projects that long to be laid off for at least 30 days before they are eligible for re-certification. Periodic investigation of need, at least every 12 months, is continued.

No person in need who refuses a bona fide offer of private or other public employment under reasonable working conditions which pays the prevailing wage for such work, and who is able to do the work, will be given a WPA assignment.

WPA workers leaving for private employment still are entitled to immediate resumption of their previous employment status, if still in need, if they have lost that private employment through no fault of their own and if they have drawn all benefits of unemployment compensation available.

Plan Bombing Practice in Lake of Woods Area

Conservation problems growing out of projected large-scale army maneuvers around Little Falls and Brainerd were discussed by National Guard and conservation department officials this week. Discussion between the adjutant General's office and the state division of forestry centered on methods for safe-guarding the Lake of the Woods area during proposed bombing practice which the U. S. army air corps plans for August.

LIGHTNING KILLS FIVE MILK COWS

Winthrop—During an electrical storm recently, 5 milk cows were killed by a bolt of lightning at the Alfred Lundin farm in Bernadotte township. It appears that the cattle had their necks protruding through a barbed wire fence at the time, and the lightning no doubt followed the wire resulting in the death of the animals in contact or nearby the fence.

IT'S A TRICK LANDING A BIG FISH

Miss Marie Fandel of St. Cloud, seems to know how to do it too—get the fish in the boat without losing it. She is working on a five-and-one-half pound black bass caught in Horseshoe lake, near Richmond. The man at the oars is Ed. Stockinger of St. Cloud.

CCC CAMPS SEEK 2,500 ENROLLEES BEFORE JULY 20

Non-Military Nature of the Camps to be Continued, It Is Announced

Between July 1 and 20, administrators of the CCC camps in Minnesota will enroll 2,500 young men, it was announced this week at the St. Paul office of the division of social welfare by C. S. Rondestvedt, supervisor of CCC selection. Before July 1, interested young men are asked to contact the office of their county welfare board to obtain details and file an application.

Mr. Rondestvedt emphasized that the non-military nature of the camps, established at the beginning of the program, will be maintained. "The only change," he explained, "is that in coordinating our work with plans for national defense, the boys in the camps will be given additional opportunities to prepare themselves for noncombatant activities. Such training always has been a part of the CCC program. The boys have been taught a wide variety of mechanics especially in the field of motor transportation.

"Under the expanded plan, facilities for this training will be greatly enlarged. This will place them in just that much better position to obtain regular employment when they complete the course. Already, there is a movement on foot to register all trained CCC enrollees with the state employment service, so that all who have developed their mechanical abilities will be listed for work in the skilled trades in which they have received training."

To be eligible, young men must be between the ages of 17 and 23, be in need of work but not necessarily on relief, be in good physical condition and have a good moral record.

MINNEAPOLIS MEN HOOK GIANT TROUT

Ely.—The catchings of a 22½ pound lake trout and the sporting of a big black bear made the trip into Kekakabic lake recently by 27 members of the Minneapolis Junior Chamber of Commerce a great success. One bay of the lake was solid with ice-covered snow, another eye-opener for the visitors. The trip was made under the auspices of the U. S. Forest Service.

Highway Chief Appeals for Driving Caution to Save Lives During July

Citing the July safety proclamation issued by Governor Stassen, and recalling that over last year's July 4th holiday week-end traffic accidents alone claimed eight dead and 260 injured in the state, M. J. Hoffmann, state highway commissioner, today appealed to every motorist and pedestrian in Minnesota to do his part to maintain safety on the highways.

He pointed out that half the drivers involved in these traffic tragedies last year were in violation of the law, and urged, as a means to accident prevention, strict adherence to traffic laws, supplemented by extraordinary caution and alertness on crowded highways.

"Governor Stassen has appealed to every man, woman and child to cooperate in efforts to reduce the state's annual July toll of preventable accidents," Commissioner Hoffman said. "It is significant that the largest single factor contributing to that toll seems to lie in the field of traffic.

"Despite the fact that last year Minnesota won national honors both for traffic accident prevention and for pedestrian safety, the fact remains that during the Fourth-of-July holiday week-end 155 major traffic accidents, in which 307 drivers were involved, caused eight deaths and 260 personal injuries.

"Approximately half of all the drivers involved were violating the law. Nearly 12 percent of them had been drinking. This fact eloquently supports the admonition, 'If you drive don't drink; if you drink don't drive'."

Continuation of War Will Place Europe on "Doorstep of Famine"

Continuation of war through the fall harvest season will bring Europe to the "doorstep of famine," it was declared in Washington by Miss Melva Bakkie, American Red Cross nutrition consultant.

Miss Bakkie, who in cooperation with the U. S. Department of Agriculture is selecting foodstuffs for American Red Cross relief shipments to the war zones, said malnutrition already is beginning to jeopardize the general health of Europe for years to come.

"Hostilities not only have drastically reduced farm production and the output of European food industries," she said, "but has so limited distribution channels that the rations of millions today are below sustenance standards."

Members of American Red Cross European delegation place the numbers of refugees who have fled to southern France upward from 8,000,000. It was stressed that scores of provincial communities had trebled and quadrupled their population within the past month, seriously taxing available food stores.

Concentrated foodstuffs, tested by the Department of Agriculture, comprise the bulk of American Red Cross shipments into the refugee areas, Miss Bakkie said. She explained limited transport facilities had prompted the Red Cross to ship foods containing the highest nutritive values possible.

SCHOOL BOARD CONDUCTS BUSY JULY SESSION

O'Hara Fuel and Ice Company Awarded Contract to Supply Coal

TWO NEW HIGH SCHOOL TEACHERS APPOINTED

Board of Education Renames All Present Officers Saturday

At the July session of the local board of education Monday evening, Supt. Morris Bye submitted a comprehensive review of the work of the schools during the past year, in addition to which two teachers were appointed to fill vacancies in the staff and the contract for next winter's coal supply was awarded.

The O'Hara Fuel & Ice company, low bidder, was given the contract to furnish 450 tons of Granadier Kentucky screenings at $8.03 per ton and 225 tons of Youghiogheny lump coal at $8.53 per ton. Three other bids were received.

Miss Alice Odegaard of Elk River, who taught last year at Fosston, was appointed English teacher in Lincoln high school, while Miss Audrey Smith of this city, a graduate of the College of St. Benedict, was named home economics and general science instructor in the high school.

No action was taken by the board at its session on the request of the Parent-Teacher association that arrangements be made to conduct an additional number of school dances during the coming year.

A resolution from officers of Zion Lutheran church was read requesting that no action be taken on the basis of the vote taken at a PTA meeting May 14, it being contended that a fair and open discussion of the issue had not been permitted at the meeting.

Supt. Bye reported that the cost of student transportation on the six routes in the local school district last year aggregated $5,418.30, to offset which the district received reimbursement from the state of $5,220.19.

In a review of comparative fuel costs, Mr. Bye stated that the figure for the 1939-40 school year was $6,274.55, compared with $5,078.57 for 1938-39 and a ten-year average of $4,584.16. The greatly enlarged Lincoln high school structure, occupied in midwinter, revealed a total fuel cost for the winter of $3,956.45, nearly double the figure of $2,088.31 for the smaller building in 1938-39.

All officers of the board of education were reelected at the annual organization meeting conducted last Saturday. They include Dr. A. E. Jacobson, president; C. E. Hellquist, vice president; A. B. Stenberg, clerk; and L. W. Rulien, treasurer. Standing committees to serve during the ensuing year were appointed by President Jacobson.

COUNTY BOARD ADOPTS BUDGET FOR NEXT YEAR

Levies 6.5 Mills to Dispose of Poor Fund Reimbursement Claims

TOTAL COUNTY RATE IS NEARLY 45 MILLS

All Other County Funds are Shown to be in Good Condition

Confronted by the problem of meeting accumulated delinquent payments of poor fund reimbursements dating back to 1936, which arose from changes in the law governing reimbursement, the county board at its July session ending Wednesday approved a special levy of 6.5 mills to dispose of the claims during the coming year.

The board set up a total county levy estimated to be between 44.5 and 45 mills on the basis of the 1939 assessed valuation for the county of $3,688,990. The mill rate, which compares with 40.51 mills levied in 1939, will be reduced in the event the county's 1940 valuation should show an increase.

It was pointed out that the poor relief fund is the only one that is overdrawn at the present time, all others being "in the black." The overdraft in the welfare fund dates back to 1936 when the Minnesota supreme court nullified the law requiring counties to reimburse their subdivisions for 75 per cent of all poor fund expenditures in excess of the amount raised by a one-mill levy. The next session of the legislature then proceeded to put the law into effect again without giving the counties an opportunity first to make a levy to meet the expense.

The situation was further aggravated when the state old-age assistance law was put into effect before the county had time to make a levy to cover its share of the cost.

As a result of the change in the reimbursement law, a large overdraft in the welfare fund was created, including a claim for approximately $17,000 by the city of Thief River Falls for the years 1936 to 1939, which is now in litigation.

County Auditor A. M. Senstad computed that the effect of the increase in the county levy above the 1939 rate would be to raise the taxes on a well-improved quarter section in the sum of slightly more than $4.

At its session the board also awarded to the Lyle Culvert and Pipe company the contract for a bridge on County Aid Road 18 in Kratka on its bid of $1,087.80. A contribution of $400, the same as in recent past years, was made to the Pennington County Agricultural society, sponsor of the county fair.

Other action taken included the extension of hours for selling beer in the rural sections of the county from 10:30 to 12 on weekdays, no change being made in the Sunday hours.

Welfare Board Cuts Budget for Next Year

At the annual organization meeting of the Pennington county welfare board held last week, officer were elected and a budget was set up calling for the expenditure in 1941 of approximately $1,800 less than in the current year, it was announced by John X. Lynskey, executive secretary.

Alfred Bredeson was reelected chairman of the board, while O. M. Mandt was named vice chairman and Paul Roy was re-elected secretary. The state office announced the reappointment of Mrs. E. J. Richards for another term of two years. Mrs. R. H. McDonald has resigned as a member of the board, having moved from Goodridge to Anoka, and there will be a vacancy pending the submission of a new panel of names to the state office.

The reduction in the budget for the coming year, Mr. Lynskey commented, is the cause of much satisfaction to the board in view of rising costs over most of the state. In Pennington county, he stated, the welfare levy is approximately 25 per cent of the total levy, compared with 76 per cent in Beltrami county and 74 per cent in Ramsey county.

The budget indicates that the welfare board will administer directly or indirectly the expenditure of $310,032.50 in 1941, of which amount Pennington county will contribute $28,455.91. The budget does not include the county cost of direct relief or University hospital expense, since these two programs are not administered by the welfare board. It will be necessary for the county board to make an additional levy for these two aids.

Amounts needed for the coming year in the major items include old-age assistance, $83,000, county share $15,500; aid to dependent children, $37,600, county share $9,200; surplus commodities, $24,000, county share $1,111.41; Works Progress administration, $110,000, county share $780; and salaries of welfare office staff, $5,160, county share $ $2,712.

No county contribution is called for in the requirements of $21,000 for the National Youth administration: $4,400 for war veterans' relief; $18,000 for the CCC; and $1,720 for student aid.

The total county share of welfare costs, Mr. Lynskey stated, aggregates $30,955.91, which will be reduced to $28,455.91 by a poor fund allotment of $2,500 from the state of Minnesota.

3 PEOPLE INJURED IN MISHAPS DURING THE PAST WEEKEND

R. J. McKercher, St. Hilaire, Suffers Loss of Foot in Accident

Three persons were seriously injured in mishaps in this vicinity during the past week, and all are apparently now on the road to recovery in local hospitals.

R. J. McKercher, prominent farmer of the St. Hilaire community and a member of the Pennington county fair board, sustained the loss of a foot Monday noon while operating a June grass harvester being pulled by a tractor. In some manner he slipped out of position and the leg portion of his overall got caught in a large gear wheel, drawing in his foot and crushing it.

Mr. McKercher's daughter Arline, a registered nurse from Chicago who was home for her vacation, was at the scene of the accident and used one of her stockings to bandage the leg and stop the flow of blood until Mr. McKercher could be brought to a local hospital where the foot was amputated above the ankle.

While leaving the home of friends at Red Lake Falls last Wednesday evening, John Borgen, employed at the Falls theatre here, stumbled as he was going down a flight of steps leading to the sidewalk, and fell the full distance, sustaining a fractured skull. He was brought to a hospital in this city, where he remained unconscious for more than 48 hours before regaining his faculties. His condition early this week was reported as favorable.

Miss Ardith Jansen, daughter of Joe Jansen of Viking, sustained severe scalp lacerations the evening of July 4 when the car in which she was riding rolled over as it swerved to avoid hitting a fawn deer. She was taken to a hospital here, where her condition yesterday was reported as improved.

ENGINE DEAL IS APPROVED OVER MAYOR'S VETO

Council Upholds Busch-Sulzer Engine Purchase by 5-to-1 Vote

$18,000 IN BUILDING PERMITS APPROVED

Two-Hour Parking Limit Extended to 9 P. M. on Saturdays

By a vote of five to one, the city council at a lengthy session Tuesday evening overruled the action of Mayor W. W. Prichard who had vetoed a council resolution adopted last month authorizing the purchase of a 1790 horsepower Busch-Sulzer Diesel unit for the municipal power plant at a cost of more than $102,800.

Explaining his attitude in an accompanying letter, Mayor W. W. Prichard stated that the completed installation of the large new unit would cost fully $25,000 above the $150,000 bond issue sold to finance the project, that the engine is larger than needed at present, that recent growth in demand for current has been abnormal, and that bids should have been called for on the complete project at one time so that the total cost would be known. He suggested compromising on a unit of a size somewhere between 1500 and 1750 horsepower.

Ralph D. Thomas & Associates, Minneapolis engineers engaged to advise the council on the project and to supervise the work, were represented at the session by Mr. McMillan, who defended the 1790 horsepower size of unit that had been purchased, and cited the need of reserve capacity. He also called attention to the imminent likelihood of an increase in engine prices in view of the national preparedness program now getting under way.

Supt. Ole Legvold, when asked regarding the growing demand for current, stated that in the first half of 1940 the power plant had produced twelve per cent more current than in the same period in 1939, and he expects an increase for the full year of approximately 600,000 kilowatts.

Following a request submitted by W. W. Christopherson in behalf of the area office of the National Youth Administration in Crookston, the council granted the use of the former census office in the Auditorium for area NYA headquarters. It was indicated that Russell Moldrum, in charge of the Crookston office, will move to this city shortly.

Roy Barzen and L. W. Rulien appeared in behalf of a group of home owners to ask the council to consider the matter of establishing a special rate for water for lawn sprinkling during the summer months. Mayor Prichard endorsed the suggestion, and proposed a flat discount to home owners for July, August and September. Mr. Legvold stated that

Miss Doris Krueger of Grand Forks Is Bride Of Gordon Ballingrud

At a pretty wedding ceremony solemnized at three o'clock Monday afternoon at the United Lutheran church at Grand Forks, Miss Doris Krueger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Max Krueger of Grand Forks, became the bride of Gordon Ballingrud of this city, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Ballingrud.

Rev. F. J. Schmidt, pastor of the church, read the service, and Walter Ekeren of this city sang "O Promise Me" and "Beloved, It Is Morn."

The bride was lovely in a floor-length white satin gown fashioned on classic Grecian lines, the gracefully molded skirt falling into a slight train. A coronet of white lace secured her fingertip veil and she carried a bride's bouquet of white roses.

She was attended by her sister, Mrs. F. Cooney (Genevieve) of Washington, D. C. as matron of honor; Miss Lorraine Ballingrud of this city, sister of the groom, and Miss Jean Wang of Petersburg, N. D., as bridesmaids.

They wore picturesque full-skirted organdy frocks in pastel shades with matching picture hats and bouquets of blue delphinium and pink roses combined with tiny white flowers. The frocks were trimmed with two rows of lace extending down the front and around the wide skirts. The matron of honor wore blue, Miss Ballingrud wore rose, and Miss Wang orchid.

Morris Ballingrud was his brother's best man and ushers were Glen Christie and Charles Warner, both of this city.

Mrs. Krueger, the bride's mother wore a green printed sheer with shoulder bouquet, and the groom's mother was attired in blue with a shoulder corsage of red roses.

Four large baskets containing a variety of summer flowers and tall white lighted candles decorated the church.

After the nuptials, a reception for 75 guests was given in the garden of the Krueger home, after which the bridal couple left on a week's trip to points in Minnesota. For going-away the bride selected a print frock in dusty rose, with accessories in white.

After July 15, Mr. and Mrs. Ballingrud will be at home in the Forsberg apartments in Thief River Falls. Mr. Ballingrud is manager of the grocery department of The Independent store. His bride, who was graduated from the University of North Dakota this spring, formerly taught dancing in this city.

Florence Bornholdt Married at Church Nuptials in Alvarado

Miss Florence K. V. Bornholdt of Alvarado, former local beauty operator, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bornholdt of this city, became the bride of Clayton Oliver Holt of Alvarado, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otis L. Holt of Alvarado, at elaborate nuptials in Bethlehem Lutheran church at Alvarado, on Wednesday, July 3, at 7 o'clock in the evening.

Twenty-six tall white candles lighted the white-carpeted aisle which led to the altar with its improvised arch of ferns against a background of silver poplar and Russian olive branches. Baskets of peonies and ferns completed the setting, and peonies were effectively combined with ferns in window decorations.

Rev. L. E. Brynestad read the single ring ceremony, which was preceded by a quarter-hour organ recital of wedding selections played by Miss Elenor Engen. Miss Engen played The Bridal Chorus from "Lohengrin" for the processional and accompanied I. N. Lodoen, who sang "I Love You Truly." Two songs were sung by Mrs. Ray Peterson, Mrs. Rudy Holt and Miss Beatrice Holt. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Bridal attendants were Mrs. Richard Mosbeck of this city, maid of honor; Mrs. Carl Lee and Miss Vivian Bornholdt, sisters of the bride, both of this city, who served as bridesmaids; and Aris Fay Olson of Alvarado, cousin of the groom, who was flower girl. Culmer Quale of Argyle, also the bridegroom's cousin, was best man, and ushers were Arnold Larson of Oslo and Henry Engelstad of Newfolden. Albert Lorrayne Olson of Alvarado was ring bearer.

The bridal gown, elaborated with intricate tatted trim, was made by the bride's mother. It was fashioned from white satin, floor-length, with a train and shirred bodice, and short puffed sleeves. To complete her wedding costume, the bride wore a trailing veil of tulle worn by the bridegroom's mother at her wedding 25 years ago. She wore long white gloves and a string of pearls, and carried a bouquet of Talisman roses.

The little flower girl carried sweetpeas in a crystal basket, and the bride's attendants had bouquets of peonies, roses, and baby's breath to match their identical frocks of lace and ribbon trimmed chiffon, designed with floor-length full skirts and square necklines. All wore leaf design costume jewelry, the bride's gift. The bridesmaid's frocks were in blue, and the matron of honor and flower girl wore pink. The young women attendants wore floral arrangements of roses and sweetpeas in their hair.

The bride's mother selected a copen blue afternoon dress with white accessories for the nuptials, and the bridegroom's mother wore a royal blue frock with matching hat, and other accessories in white. Both were wearing corsages of roses and sweetpeas.

The bride's and groom's mothers were hostesses to 125 guests at a reception held following the ceremony on the lawn of the Holt home at Alvarado, the natural loveliness of the setting being enhanced with colored lights. A four-tier wedding cake in pink, white, and silver centered the table set for the bridal party, and the other guests were served from a buffet. Waitresses at the bride's table were four of her young women friends from Alvarado, June Partet, Elaine Sands, and Lylis and Verona Lindroth.

The couple have returned to Alvarado to establish their home following a wedding trip to Detroit Lakes and a week-end visit at the bride's parental home in this city. For going away the bride wore a gabardine suit in copen blue with accessories in rose and white.

The bride, a graduate of Lawrence Academy of Beauty, Minneapolis, worked as an operator in the Beauty Dell shop in this city in 1938, later working for a short time at Faribault before taking over the proprietorship of the Modern Maid beauty shop at Alvarado.

Mr. Holt, who was graduated from the University of North Dakota in 1938, is employed with his father at the telephone exchange at Alvarado.

Out-of-town guests at the nuptials included Mr. and Mrs. John Thiesin and Mary Ellen of Lakefield; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Pearson, Emil Pearson, Mrs. Lars Ahlm and family, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Stranberg and family, Mr. and Mrs. Gust Eckman and family, all of Argyle; Mrs. Herman Englerud and Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Englerud and family of Newfolden; Mrs. A. SOON WE'LL ALL BE NUTS

In its July 13 issue Collier's suggests that "—our best anti-fifth column medicine as regards South America would seem by all odds to consist in plans for building up our imports from South American countries as rapidly as we can and for keeping that business after the war." The reason we should do this, according to Collier's, is because, "The European territories Hitler controls at this writing have normally bought from Argentina 60% of all that country's corn exports, 56% of all its hides and skins exports, 55% of its linseed exports, 50% of its forest and timber products exports, 40% wool, 25% wheat, 10% meat. For such customers the Argentines are bound to have felt no little affection. And because we have heavy tariffs on those articles to keep down foreign competition with our own producers of similar articles, the Argentines are bound to have correspondingly less affection for us."

And here is the concluding paragraph of the Collier's editorial:

> "That would mean knocking down tariffs on various key products, which would make some of our domestic producers of those things pretty mad. The thing to do about that, though, would be to slip these people some kind of subsidies or other compensation and tell them to button up their lips. What we've got to do, if we can, is to bolster up our Western Hemisphere right wing, meaning Latin America; and it's just too bad if some of the home boys are hurt in the effort to insure the independence of the entire nation."

This proposal is pretty much in line with what the Democrats have already started through their reciprocal trade treaties, although Collier's present the program more honestly than it has been presented by the politicians. It is a simple remedy. The more of our corn and hides and flax and wool and wheat and meat we buy from the foreigners the friendlier they will be to us. If we buy enough of their products they may learn to love us. Our farmers, in the meantime, will be handed a few quarters and dimes and told to keep their mouths shut. The program is already well under way.

Perhaps this is all as it should be but as we see it it is all as it shouldn't be. Certainly it isn't as it should be for American agriculture which is the economic and social foundation of the country. The American farmer is just as much, if not more, entitled to protection in the American market as labor and industry. It is a market he has a right to demand preference in.

But considering the problem from the standpoint of labor and industry, we still believe the program is wrong. We believe American agriculture is a better market for the products of American labor and industry than the agriculture of any foreign country. We believe American industry and labor will receive a greater return from the food dollars spent with the American farmer than they can hope to get from the food dollars spent with the farmer of any foreign country for when the products of American labor and industry are exchanged for the food produced by the farmer of a foreign country they must offer their own services in competition with the low priced labor of other manufacturing countries.

Those who argue in favor of increasing our foreign trade at all costs now tell us we will soon have to subsidize American industry so that it will be able to compete with the government controlled industries of the totalitarian states. In other words we will put the American farmer on the shelf, maintain him with a dole, in order that we can buy the food products of a South American country and we will absorb the losses of American industry, out of the public treasury presumably, in order that we can have something to exchange for the food products we don't need.

That will be a perfect picture. The government will subsidize industry. The government will subsidize agriculture. And, through its relief to the unemployed, the government will subsidize labor. The only defect in the program is the possible difficulty of finding someone to support the government. Maybe it won't make much difference. By that time we'll all be nuts.

COUNCIL CONDUCTS LENGTHY SESSION TUESDAY EVENING

the waterworks system has been operating at near capacity the past few weeks, and after further discussion the matter was referred to the water and light committee of the council.

V. F. Roberge and William Borchert, acting for the local sportsmen's club, asked the council to take steps to eliminate oil and sludge from the river pool, saying that much of it apparently originated from the Land O'Lakes plant. Alderman Clarence Sande stated that steps would be taken to remedy the situation.

Robert J. Lund, member of the fair board, was present to request the appropriation of $500, as in past years, for the 1940 county fair. After some discussion the council voted $250 with the understanding that no charge would be made for lights and water used at the fair.

Building permits aggregating $18,000, some of them for projects already well under way, were approved, the major ones being issued to B. I. Froiland for a residence on Tindolph av. to cost $3,500; William LaFave, residence on Taft st., $3,200; Melvin Hanson, residence on Tindolph av., $4,000; Norby & Hanson, residence on Merriam av., $3,200; Harry R. Ness, residence on Crocker av., $1,500; Alfred W. Johnson, residence on Markley av., $1,400; and Robert Peterson, elevator foundation, $1,400.

The car-parking problem again came up for discussion, and as a means of relieving congestion it was voted to extend the two-hour parking regulation in the downtown district on Saturday evenings until 9 o'clock.

The council approved more than $100,000 in additional collateral supplied by the two local banks to cover the proceeds of the power plant bond issue. Also approved was the bond supplied by Mrs. Thora H. Nelson, city treasurer.

A hearing was held on the assessment roll for Sewer District No. 6, and, no objectors appearing, a resolution was adopted approving the assessment. Property owners will be given until October 1 to pay the assessments without interest, it was agreed.

The recreation program is sponsored by the City Council in cooperation with Work Projects Administration recreation leaders.

Since the introduction of new games and activities at Tindolph and East side parks, a very noticeable and encouraging increase in participation has been noticed. Spectator interest has also been on the increase. The recreation planning committee's dream to satisfy the leisure time recreation needs of all persons from "6 to 60" is rapidly becoming a reality. Everyone is invited to take advantage of the facilities and equipment at any time without charge. The fact that cooperation from the townspeople and children is needed to make the program a success cannot be over-emphasized.

Tindolph Park

As announced previously, swimming instruction at the pool is given from 10 to 12 every morning. Diving instruction for those interested will be given between 4 and 6 in the afternoon. Ret Johnson, recreation leader, will act as instructor. Many swimmers have found it enjoyable to use the croquet sets or ping pong table before or after a swim. It is hoped that volleyball and aerial darts will start soon at Tindolph. Likewise, a horseshoe court is planned.

East Side Park

According to LeRoy Olson, recreation leader in charge of playground activities, "We could use one or two more ping pong tables here. The children have gone wild about this sport."

Baseball and softball in the morning with ping pong, horseshoe, croquet, and tennis going all day long, has made East side a desirable spot for those wishing to enter into mild or strenuous activity.

Arena Puppet Theatre

This afternoon, Thursday, at 3:30 o'clock another free puppet show will be staged. Everyone is invited to view the work of these youngsters. Wednesday the group was taken on a scavenger hunt. Prizes were awarded to the boy and girl winners.

Arena Craft Shop

Plans for a bird house contest have already been started inasmuch as the final event will not take place until this fall. In connection with bird house making the participants are acquainted with various birds and their habitation.

Fairgrounds

Have you seen a night softball game lately? If not, there is a treat in store for you. Several games have already been played, and they gave indication of being a very good league. Games start at 9 o'clock and are free to the public.

A new serf board, built in the Arena Craft shop has been installed at the swimming pool for use by the lifeguards.

Plans for tennis, horseshoe, and softball tournaments are now being made. As soon as archery equipment is made, plans will be made for a tournament. A water carnival is also being considered.

Future Farmers Tell of Trip

On Wednesday, June 19th, the Plummer Future Farmers Organization started on their tour which took them through the Black Hills of South Dakota and the Yellowstone National Park. The trip was made in a bus owned and driven by Mr. Arthur Hemstad and an automobile belonging to Elbert Larvick, FFA adviser. We went by way of Pierre, S. Dak. and the Black Hills, where we spent 2½ days.

Highlights of the trip through the Black Hills were Mt. Rushmore Memorial, Mt. Coolidge, Wind Cave, Hot Springs, The Buffalo herds, The game lodge, the Skyline Drive and Spearfish Canyon. At Deadwood, S. Dak., some of the boys took in a reenactment of the trial for murder of Wild Bill Haycock.

Between the Black Hills and the Yellowstone National Park we encountered several points of interest which included the Devil's Tower, a climb over the Little Bighorn Mountains, and the Shoshone National Dam. This dam, the canyon and the drive were all very beautiful.

Highlights of the Yellowstone Park were: The Yellowstone Falls and Canyon (a very beautiful scene); the wild game herds of buffalo, moose, and bears, both grizzly and black; the hot springs, and the geysers, especially "Old Faithful." We spent four days in the Park.

On the way back we went up over the Beartooth Mountains of Montana and Wyoming. Here we were up a great deal higher than the snowline and we enjoyed the scenery very much. We also spent one half day in Bismarck, where we went through the new capitol, the Museum, Theodore Roosevelt's cabin, and the State Penitentiary. We returned to Plummer on Tuesday, July 2nd.

The days were warm but the nights were very cool, and the last night in the park being cool enough to leave ¼ inch of ice on water in cooking vessels. The nightly visitations of bears to our camps also made the atmosphere seem a bit chilly.

The trip was very successful from every standpoint, including enjoyment of scenery, varied portions of country, and wild life, as well as no difficulties in the way of transportation, financially, or cooperation from each participant. We camped out most of the time and prepared all of our meals. Each individual was assigned a task, which he performed during the entire trip.

The whole organization of nineteen FFA boys made the trip. Their names are as follows: Leonard Brekke, John Christenson, Clarence Hall, Lester and James Norby, Robert and Bernard Hesse, Gerald Gerardy, Maurice, Donald, and Lawrence Page, Vernon Noyes, Ludger Longtin, Albert Tervo, Gust Wickstrom, Tom Mack, Roy Jacobson, Douglas Maney, and Clifford Thyren. They were accompanied by their bus driver, Arthur Hemstad, their adviser, Elbert Larvick, Mrs. Elbert Larvick, Eddie Hemly and Harriet Hall. Edna Hemly went as far as Hazelton, N. Dak. to help care for the children of Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Larvick.

The Future Farmers wish to thank everyone who in any way helped to make our trip possible and successful.

Land O'Lakes 10, Middle River 11

With a six run lead, 10 to 4, going into the last of the 7th, Walt Larson of the Land O'Lakes began to sack up his team's bats, thinking the game over. But that was merely a signal for Middle River to bunch 6 hits, with two walks, and to score 7 runs to win a hectic 11 to 10 victory.

Hartz 25, Kiewel's 5.

Nineteen Hartz hits mixed with 8 Kiewel errors gave the city champions their third straight league win, 25 to 5. With their ace pitcher Al Ness in the hospital, Hartz were forced to send their right short, Swanstrom, to the mound, and Swanstrom held the heavy-hitting Kiewel's to six scattered hits, one being a long homerun by Gordy Kaushagen.

DeMolay 18, Middle River 10.

Bruce Prichard's 'four for four', two singles, a double, and a triple, and Roy Lee's single and homerun, were the highlights in the DeMolays 18 to 10 win over Middle River Tuesday night. The two teams were in 10-all deadlock going into the 7th inning, three errors, two walks, a homerun, and two doubles, gave the DeMolays the 8 run cluster that won the game.

4,000-Year-Old Bread Found

Bread is the oldest prepared food consumed by the human race. Bread baked approximately 4,000 years ago has been found in an Egyptian tomb.

Getting seven runs in the first three innings Thief River Falls, by a 7 to 2 score, defeated Grygla in a well-played and interesting game that was a feature of the Fourth of July celebration held there last Thursday.

The locals scored in the first inning, when Roy Lee, the lead-off man, was hit by a pitched ball; Rasmussen drew a base on balls; Bergstrom grounded to Hallamack at short, who made the throw to second base to force Rasmussen, Bergstrom reaching first on the fielder's choice, and Lee going to third base. Bergstrom stole second, and then Johnny Jaranson doubled into left field, scoring Lee and Bergstrom.

Thief River Falls clubbed out six hits to score five runs in the third inning, and to close out the scoring for the locals. Lee opened the inning with a bounder that hopped away from the third baseman for a single; Rasmussen singled into left field, Lee going to third, and Rasmussen legging it into second when Grygla made the play on Lee. Bergstrom was out, Hallamack to Haack. Jaranson flied to Almquist in left field. Hemmy Sahl then drove out the longest hit of the game, a soaring triple into deep left field, and Lee and Rasmussen jogged across the plate. Only fast fielding on the part of Almquist kept Hemmy's blow from being a homerun.

Wally DuChamp doubled into right field, scoring Sahl. Bobby DuChamp followed with another double into right field, sending Wally across the plate. Lenny Helquist continued the rally with a single over second base, and Bob DuChamp came home with the inning's fifth run, and to bring the locals score total to seven.

Held to only one hit in eight innings, and that a looping fly that fell back of second base for a base hit, Grygla jumped on Hemmy Sahl for 4 hits and 2 runs in the last half of ninth inning. Haack singled into short right field; Art Sandland was out on a fly to right field; Woody Almquist then connected for a long double into center field, with Haack pulling up at third base. Rasmussen worked the 'hidden ball' trick, and Haack was called out. Vigen smashed a single into center field, scoring Almquist. Bill Hallamack doubled down the left field foul line to score Vigen, and Holbrook grounded out, Sahl to Helquist, to end the game.

The locals travel to Red Lake Falls next Sunday, where they play a Northern Minny league game.

SPORTS Tid-Bits

Mortrude and Sahl, League's Aces

While Plummer's Gus Krueger and I are in disagreement as to best center fielder in the Northern Minny league (my contention being that Wally DuChamp rates that honor, and Krueger making arguments to the effect that Jesse DuChamp is as fine a fielder and a stronger hitter), we are both in agreement that Plummer's Arv. Mortrude and Thief River's Hemmy Sahl are the league's ace pitchers. And here are their records: Mortrude has won nine games while losing one, and in the 90 innings that he has pitched he has allowed 70 hits, 34 runs, 13 bases on balls, and struck out 110 batters; while Hemmy Sahl has won nine games and lost two, and in 97 innings he has allowed 58 hits, 23 runs, issued 20 walks, and struck out 112 men. There really isn't much difference in the records of these two pitchers.

Bill Hallamack

It's getting to be a habit with the Thief River Fall club to expect St. Hilaire's Bill Hallamack to appear in the opposing team's lineup, so it wasn't so much of a surprise when Bill trotted out on the field with the Grygla team, in the game played there on the Fourth. He played at shortstop, and it was quite a game of shortstopping that he put on for the Fourth of July crowd. He had 2 putouts and 8 assists, for a total of 10 chances without a bobble. Bill doesn't care very much for me, thinks that I'm carrying a grudge, or something; but that's not so. In fact, my opinion is that Bill Hallamack, with his experience and steadiness, is the Northern Minnesota baseball league's best shortstop.

And speaking of Bill. He was robbed of a single by Jesse DuChamp in the game played at Plummer Sunday. Bill pounded out a hard grounder between third baseman St. Marie and shortstop Jesse DuChamp, with the ball passing St. Marie cleanly, and appearing to be headed for left field. Bill saw the ball bound past St. Marie, and thinking that it was to be a single into left field, slowed his run to a trot. And here's where Jesse made his 'robber' play. He ran to his right and made a barehanded grab of the hopping ball, and with a long throw to Jaspers, made the play to first base before the trotting Hallamack reached the base. It was a spectacular play but it was a lucky play, too. Jesse DuChamp usually has trouble enough catching the ball in his gloved hand without going around making bare-handed catches of wild-bouncing ground balls.

Diamondball

Of all the teams playing D-ball, the DeMolays seem to be getting the most fun out of the game. For instance, whenever Bruce Prichard in left field, or Wes Burrell in centerfield makes a catch, the two of them run into left-center field, go into a loose huddle, shake hands with each other, have a short pep rally, and then trot back to their positions. It's very touching. Two other fellows that should get together like that are Heinie Waag and Ole Ness of the Kiewel's. They got together last Monday night, but not like that. On a fly ball into short right field the two collided, giving a Hartz batter a lucky double, and scoring two runs.

SPECULATION OVER F. R.'S INTENTIONS TO END NEXT WEEK

Democratic National Convention Will Open in Chicago Monday

The Democrats will be moving on to Chicago this week under the shadow of the great 1940 question mark: Will President Roosevelt run again or not?

Excited speculation on that point grows more and more intense as convention time approaches.

There were reports from usually reliable quarters last week that Mr. Roosevelt would run, and that he wanted Secretary Hull to be the vice presidential nominee.

Some are saying that the nomination of Wendell Willkie by the Republicans has removed the one big and dependable basis for a third term effort—the foreign policy issue.

Willkie and the president think along much the same lines where it is concerned. Had the Republicans nominated a man who was more in favor of aloofness from Europe, this argument runs, Mr. Roosevelt might have felt forced to run in order to give the administration foreign policy its most effective champion.

But now it appears that, regardless of the result, the administration's basic foreign policy will continue unchanged.

However, another argument is being heard. This is to the effect that Mr. Roosevelt should consider the nomination of a leading utilities official and businessman as a threat to many of the New Deal's domestic policies, and consequently should go to their protection himself.

And, another view which may be used effectively by party leaders is that, having refrained from stating his plans thus far, a refusal to run would leave the party in a chaotic and vulnerable condition condition, which Mr. Roosevelt culd hardly ignore in making his decision.

Big Program at Aquatennial July 20-28

The biggest entertainment and recreational program ever staged in the Northwest is being planned for the hundreds of thousands of visitors who will attend the Minneapolis Aquatennial, July 20 to 28, officials have announced. A "Queen of the Lakes" contest in which more than 40 beautiful Minnesota girls will compete for high honors, a big championship rodeo featuring Gene Autry, radio's "Singing Cowboy," and motor races in which dozens of the country's most famous racers will take part, are three of the Aquatennial's biggest attractions. Miss Betty McCormick, of International Falls, (above) is a queen contestant.

Swedish Day Festival Scheduled for Sunday in Minneapolis Park

Next Sunday, July 14th, the seventh annual celebration of Svenskarnas Dag (Swedish Day) will be held in Minnehaha Park, Minneapolis.

Sponsored by fifty-six Swedish organizations in the Twin Cities, Svenskarnas Dag was inaugurated in 1934 for the purpose of uniting the Swedish element in the Northwest and seeking to preserve Swedish customs and traditions and it is at this celebration when thousands of Swedish-Americans from every city, village and hamlet in Minnesota and surrounding states will then gather to pay tribute to the permanence of these traditions amid the blue and yellow colors of Sweden and the red, white and blue of their adopted land.

Al Rudd and his Gopher Band will open the main afternoon program at 2 P. M. Greetings will be extended by Charles J. Petersen, chairman of the Swedish Day committee, Mayor Geo. E. Leach of Minneapolis, Mayor John McDonough of St. Paul, Governor Harold E. Stassen, Senator Ernest Lundeen and C. F. Hellstrom, Consul of Sweden. The Swedish Minister to the United States, the Hon. Wollmar Bostrom, has been invited to give the address in Swedish and the Rev. Carl H. Olson of the Church of the Redeemer will deliver the English address.

Reno, in a way, is quite a dairy center—so much of the cream of society goes there to be separated.

She was married in Norway in 1891 to Martin Windness and they immigrated to this country in 1892 settling near Mayville, N. D. Ten years later she moved with her family to Benville Township where she has since made her home. She leaves to mourn her passing her husband and six daughters: Mrs. Christine Soreppen, Mrs. Olga Stadheng, and Mrs. Edna Rupprecht all of Thief River Falls; Mrs. Anna Sandberg of Hill City, Mrs. Selma Neuschwander of Grygla; and Mrs. Clea Freitag of Minneapolis; five sons: Lars and Morris, both of Grygla; Christ of Thief River Falls; Peter of Benville township, and Orion at home; two brothers, Ole Vestre of Norway and Peter Vestre of Montana; and fifteen grandchildren. We join the people of this community in extending our heartfelt sympathy to the bereaved.

Celebration a Big Success

One of the largest crowds ever seen in Grygla was here on July 4, to attend the celebration sponsored by the American Legion. The day was a decided success and a full round of entertainment had been planned. After the opening salute by Henry Farmer, general chairman and Alex Clautier, commander, there was a tug-of-war between Grygla and the World of which Grygla was the winner. There were twelve entries in the horse race and the final winners were first place, Leslie Hook's horse, jockey, Tillman Halverson; second place: Christ Clausen's horse, jockey, Floyd Clauson; third place, Peter Holte's horse, jockey, Alvin Holte. In the running race for girls between 8 and 15 years, first, second and third places were won by Dolores Struble, Betty Dagstrom, and Twila Nygaard, respectively. The running race for boys under 8 years was won by Melvin Verbout, first; Donald Verbout, second; and Eugene Finley, third. JORDAN GOLFER SCORES COVETED HOLE-IN-ONE

Jordan—The ambition of all golfers was realized recently on the New Prague municipal golf course by Lomy Pensinger, one of Jordan's most ardent golf fans. Mr. Pensinger made his hole-in-one on the 150 yard fourth hole of the course. Only once before in the history of the course at New Prague has a hole-in-one been made. A golf hole-in-one occurs about as rarely as a bridge player holding a thirteen spade hand.

MAHNOMEN COW PRODUCES EIGHT SETS OF TWINS

Mahnomen.—"Bossy", 12-year-old Holstein cow at the Harry Andring farm tops 'em all for consistency. She took to raising a family ten years ago, and has produced eight sets of twin calves, fourteen heifers and two bulls. And still more unusual is the fact that her entire family are all living. The most recent set of twins were born the 9th of last month.

Success has turned more heads than blondes, halitosis, and lumbago combined.

TRAFFIC DEATHS UP 20 FOR FIRST 6 MONTHS OF YEAR

Pedestrians Held Responsible for Large Part of Increase

Minnesota enters the second half of 1940 faced with the problem of bettering last year's excellent, prize-winning traffic safety record if the state is to keep her place in the safety sun. Twenty more traffic fatalities have been recorded in the first half of the year than in the same period of 1939.

In explaining this condition, state highway department safety engineers produced some significant figures. A total of 216 Minnesota men, women and children were killed in the first six months of this year. During the same period of 1939 there were 196 fatalities—20 under this year's death toll.

Analysis of these figures shows that "the man on the street"—the pedestrian — is responsible for much of the unwarranted increase in deaths, as 20 more pedestrians have been killed up to July 1 this year than were killed in the first six months of 1939. A total of 85 fatalities in the pedestrian class —39% of the total deaths—have been charged against the state's safety record so far, compared with only 60 during the corresponding period of last year.

The number of fatal non-pedestrian motor vehicle accidents has actually decreased this year, and 12 of the 121 deaths in this group were caused in one accident—a catastrophe such as is unlikely to happen again for many years to come.

"It is often possible," W. F. Rosenwald, department traffic and safety engineer, concludes, "to charge certain types of accidents to seasonal causes, such as icy surfaces, weather, or other unusual driving conditions. Pedestrian deaths, however, do not fall into any such definite category, for fatalities of this type doubled in January and April of this year over the same months of last year, while they were practically identical in number in the other four months of the year.

"One of the points most clearly indicated by fatality figures is that pedestrians require much more education in safety practices than they have received. They must learn that in addition to their rights and privileges, they also have certain duties and obligations which they must meet if they are to walk in safety."

CANBY WIPED OFF THE MAP—IT'S FALSE ALARM

Canby. — Canby and Ivanhoe were supposedly "wiped off the map" by a recent tornado. Somehow the rumor was spread over the southwestern part of the state and recently a number of carloads of sightseers drove here from Luverne, Pipestone, and other points to see the wreckage. The rumor had it that sixteen persons were killed in Canby and scores injured.

Roaming the ROUTES

Raise Mink

Albert Bergot's wife was planning on attending the picnic, but Pa's mind was far away from the affair. The last few weeks he and his son LaVerne have found a baby woodchuck, who has become very tame. It is very playful, and seldom strays far from the house. Though very young the chuck has long sharp teeth and sometimes one wonders if someone won't suffer a deep gash as they play with the animal. But woodchucks aren't the only animals on this farm. LaVerne takes a deep interest in the raising of minks and has a goodly number of them, including mothers and their young.

Watch Repairing a Hobby

Almost a part of the Asov Legvold family is Sarah Hofstad, Plummer route two for she has been with them at least ten years. Though the Legvold's had company while I visited there, Miss Hofstad who seemed to be very hospitable and friendly took time to talk to me. She has been taking the Times for years and couldn't seem to get along without it again this year.

One of the finest families along the Oklee route are the Edward Rostads. They have one of the biggest families, eleven children. And a family like that really seems large on washday, which day it was on my visit, for the unironed clothes stack high, but all of the children do their share of the work to lighten the load. One of the girls was making very delicious cookies.

The Rostads, Mr. and his sons, have a worthwhile, and profitable hobby. For over forty years Mr. Rostad has fixed and repaired watches. His sons have picked up the work and now do work for neighbors and friends. On a huge cardboard they had hung watches of every shape and color. This work gives them many hours of enjoyment.

Recently a Thief River girl visited the Westacott farm. She was only a tiny girl and was especially interested in the milking process. That night she called her mother up and said, "Mommie, I tried milking and gee, the balloons under the cow never broke."

Recently when I asked a St. Hilaire farmer if he wanted to come in when he had money to renew his paper, he expressed the desire that I come over again lest he forget. "For," he said, "I might be like the absent-minded professor, who, when he felt a scratch at the breakfast table, poured syrup down his back and scratched the waffle."

Have Finnish Bath

It isn't everyone who has the equipment for a Finnish bath or everyone who is used to taking these steam baths twice a week, as is the case at the Maattala farm near Oklee. Mrs. Maattala and her only son at home, Abner, have their own Finnish bathhouse. On Saturday night they heat the stones and pour cold water over them. This in turn causes steam which makes them sweat healthily and after they are through they feel very refreshed.

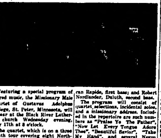
The Maattalas were another Finnish family whom the recent war in Finland affected. Mrs. Maattala, who came from Finland some thirty years ago, has many relatives in the home country. For months she did not hear from them. At last news came, though it was strictly censored and had been opened. But they were very glad to find young cousins of Abner who had even been in the front line had escaped without any injury. Though things were not so pleasant for them they were trying to appear cheerful in their letters. One rather heartbreaking and peculiar thing happened. Two sisters of Mrs. Maattala lived across the road from each other on farms in Finland. When Russia seized the part of Finland the dividing line was the road between these farms. So one sister and her family had to give up their farm and move to a specified place, whereas the other sister across the road was let remain. One of the ifs of war. The Maattalas pleased me very much by inviting me to come out and partake of a regular Finnish bath, something I have always wanted to do.

Near to each other on the Plummer route two live the two brothers, Albert and George Riandeau, French farmers. They both have large families, the former eleven, and the latter eight. But the "Ripley Believe It or Not" feature about these families is that they each have seven girls. The former have four boys and the George Riandeau's one. The children play, fight and have a big time with each other and constant visit back and forth. On a Riandeau picnic there are nineteen children, or twenty-four people all told. And these children are nice-looking, very dark as a rule.

Remodeling Home

Another family which will have a brand-new appearing home especially in regards to the interior is the J. O. Peterson house. Mr. Peterson preferred that I make a visit later to stop by to inspect the redecorated home.

Missionary Quartet Sings at Black River Church



Featuring a special program of sacred music, the Missionary Male Quartet of Gustavus Adolphus College, St. Peter, Minnesota, will appear at the Black River Lutheran church Wednesday evening, July 17th at 8 o'clock.

The quartet, which is on a three month tour covering eight Northwest states, consists of Arthur Friberg, Omaha, Nebraska, first tenor; Ralph Larson, Barrett, Second tenor; Reuben Swanson, Pelican Rapids, first bass; and Robert Nordlander, Duluth, second bass.

The program will consist of quartet selections, incidental solos, and a missionary address. Included in the repertoire are such numbers as "Praise Ye The Father", "Now Let Every Tongue Adore Thee", "Beautiful Savior", "Take My Hand", and several Negro spirituals. Along with these presentations, a free will offering is taken to help in the promotion of missionary work.

Perhaps you would be interested in knowing the location of "Kamp Kootie." Pike and Matt Kraemer, sons of Fred Kraemer, who run the farm for Ole Christofferson, south of town have nicknamed their headquarters this. These Kraemer men practice diversified farming, which means they are well-up on many of the farm problems. The boys live so close to the home farm that they can go home quite often. When I visited the Fred Kraemer farm I was interested in their donkeys. The Kraemers have four donkeys and use them for all their work.

Eleven year old Geraldine Olson, daughter of Carl E. Olson, east of Thief River is a fortunate girl. When the decision came as to whether she wanted a pony or bicycle she chose the former and has not been a bit sorry. Many of her town friends like nothing better than coming out to ride her pony, "Troubles", in the afternoons.

Besides having this pet she recently lost another animal pet. A little deer was given unto her undertaking recently. But the call of the wild was too much for it and before a few days the deer had escaped to the woods. Afterwards they saw this deer, talked to it but, it seldom came very near.

Has Large Barn

Possessors of one of the largest barns perhaps around Thief River are the Nels Petersons, route five. Their red barn is over 90 feet long and of ordinary width. This summer has brought a few changes to the Peterson farm among, which was the changing of the mail routing. Where formerly it ran straight past their gateway, now it travels a mile or less south and north.

It is not an unusual sight for the W. E. Roses, Plummer route 1, to spy a deer in their pasture. The swampy land near to their home is a refuge for many animals, especially deer. As I was talking to Mrs. Rose she noticed a deer running east from her mail box. The animal didn't seem to have any special destination, just loped at high speed over the fences, deep ditches and onto the nearby haystack. Just before meeting these folks I had a chance to run upon a porcupine. As I got out of the car and went over to him the porcupine seemed to have no fear, instead just bristled up and gave me the wary feeling. The Rose farm doesn't lack in wild animal nature, besides having a picturesque scenery.

The ladies composing the Aid of the Swedish Lutheran church, near Plummer, under the leadership of the Rev. Herman Larson are very considerate of their men folks. Instead of holding the monthly aid meetings in the afternoon as is usually the custom this aid meets in the evenings at the local farms. In such a way the men attend and after the business a social time is enjoyed by all. Recently the meeting was held at the Elvin Peterson farm with Mrs. Elmer Erickson assisting Mrs. Peterson.

The bridge near Fred Bruggeman's is under repair. It inconveniences many of the local people, but it is hoped that it will be fixed within a few days. As a consequence the past few days a number of the people have been driving through Bruggeman's pasture when they wished to travel north.

Mrs. Ithanel Johnson, west of Plummer has found the river a constant joy to her family. Two of her boys now at home spend much of their leisure time on the river banks. The handy feature of this is that they are within calling distance at mealtime.

Recent rural residents of Plummer include the Alfred Deschances who formerly lived near Argyle. They have bought their pretty resettlement farm and are making countless improvements. But no matter how much work is to be done they have found a little time to pick the wild strawberries, which grow so abundantly near the house. These berries are small but what they lack in size they make up in sweetness.

The Deschances are among the most earnest turkey raisers. At present they have over 1,000 birds, intending to raise a good breeding stock this year, and go more heavily into the business next year.

On the day I visited along Oklee Oklee route two, north and east of Oklee, so many of the homes were deserted. The truth came to light when I passed the church yard near the Conrad Bendickson home, for there on the yard were throngs of women and children. The boys and girls had been attending parochial school in the Lutheran church and were having a picnic at the end of the session. Getting the Bendickson children off to the picnic is quite the job. But by a hurried washing, combing of their blond hair, the children were made presentable enough for any affair.

31 COUNTY R. C. FARMS SOLD IN PAST 6 MONTHS

Conservator Reports Here on Progress in Liquidating Agency

PAYMENTS BEING MET ON MOST LOCAL LOANS

More than 1,000 Rural Credit Farms Sold in 1939, Jones Says

Declaring that the farm sales experience of the Minnesota department of rural credit reveals that a definite movement back to the farm is developing, George P. Jones, conservator, told a local group at a meeting in the Rex Cafe last Thursday that in Pennington county 31 rural credit farms had been sold in 1940 to July 1, compared to 48 for the full year of 1939.

Of the 31 farms sold this year, Mr. Jones said, eleven were sold to former owners or their children, nine to local tenants, ten to local farmers and only one to an outside buyer. The farms were sold for an average of $12.35 an acre, with a cash payment averaging 23.2 per cent of the purchase price.

In Marshall county, he stated, 41 farms were sold to July 1 this year, compared to 63 for all of of 1939. The tracts were sold for an average of $12.22 per acre, 13 being bought by former owners or their children, 21 by local tenants, 17 by local farmers and ten by outside buyers.

Referring to the state as a whole, Mr. Jones said that in 1939 the department sold 1025 farms in 82 counties, putting approximately $100,000 back on the tax rolls. The total sale price of the farms sold was $1,947,000, equivalent to 52.5 per cent of the principal amount of the original loans made by the state.

Of 6,244 rural credit loans in effect on July 1 this year, only 284 were delinquent on two installments or more, while of 187 loans and contracts in force in Pennington county, only four were delinquent for two installments or more.

Mr. Jones stated that the department's activities in Roseau, Lake of the Woods and Kittson counties would in future be supervised from the Thief River Falls office, and that part of the personnel of the Roseau office would be released. He also stated that the local office would serve part of the territory supervised until now from the Fertile office, the two changes resulting in 450 farms served from Thief River Falls compared to 280 at present.

1ST CONSERVATION PAYMENTS ARRIVE IN PENNINGTON CO.

Other Payments Will be Received in Near Future, Grow Says

The first payments for participation in the 1940 agricultural conservation program were received in the county office on Wednesday. Forty-two checks were received for parity payments on wheat. The total amount was $493.71.

Other payments on wheat will be made in the near future. Farmers should wait until they receive an individual notice that their check has arrived before coming to the office to ask for payment, said County Agent Howard Grow. At this time of the year when the checking of compliance is being carried out as rapidly as possible, every call that is made to the office may delay someone's payment.

The county committee asks that whenever there is some question about the program, except for checks, that farmers come in and discuss it with them.

ROOSEVELT IS RENOMINATED ON 1ST BALLOT

Sentiment in Demo National Convention Is Nearly Unanimous

DEFIES TRADITION AGAINST THIRD TERM

Farley, Garner and Senator Tidings Also Placed in Nomination

The Democratic national convention nominated President Franklin D. Roosevelt Wednesday night for a tradition-smashing third term campaign. The Roosevelt vote was over-whelming.

It took this action despite—or because of—a statement from the chief executive which he had "no desire or purpose" to run again, but did not state whether he would accept renomination.

None of Mr. Roosevelt's leading representatives here, however, entertained the slightest doubt that he would refuse to be the 1940 standard-bearer.

A report, given some credence, had it that the chief executive would address the convention by telephone or radio from Washington tonight. Obviously, the situation called for some word from him. His friends said definitely he would not come to Chicago to accept in person.

The nomination, voted a full day ahead of schedule, followed convention sessions which saw numerous speakers, from the very start, delivering what were virtually nominating speeches for the chief executive.

It all reached its first climax last night, when—after the President's message that he was not a "candidate"—had been relayed to the delegates by Senator Alben Barkley, the convention saw a roaring 50-minute demonstration whose dominant theme was the repeated outcry: "We want Roosevelt".

Alabama, first in the roll call of the states, and its senator, Lister Hill, were chosen to present the President's name so that it might go before the convention at first crack out of the box, and possibly forestall further nominations.

Other candidates placed in nomination, and who received scattering votes on the first ballot were James A. Farley, Vice President John N. Garner and Senator Millard Tydings of Maryland.

PROGRESS OF N. W. SCHOOL REVIEWED ON ANNIVERSARY

Harvey Copp's Oxen Appear in Farm Power Section of Parade

A program reviewing the founding, growth and progress of the Northwest Experiment Station and School of Agriculture was held at the Northwest School at Crookston on Saturday, June 29. The parade depicting the evolution of farm power attracted wide attention. The parade was led by Dorris Hanna of Mallory, a second generation student, who rode her white Arabian horse.

The farm power section of the parade was led by the yoke of oxen owned by Harvey Copp of Thief River Falls. Purebred Percheron horses from the Experiment Station were used for the big team hitches. Progress made in tractor development was shown in the parade by old and new models of Fordsons, McCormick-Deering, and Twin City tractors with new models of both wheel and crawler types of tractors of all leading makes.

Pioneer farmers and business men, instrumental in the founding of the regional experiment station at Crookston in 1895, were given recognition during the day's program by the first superintendent of the Station, T. A. Hoverstad of St. Paul who served from 1895 to 1906. Experimental projects inaugurated by T. A. Hoverstad included tree planting, crops, livestock, and poultry.

The work of former superintendent Wm. Robertson, now deceased, who served from 1905 to 1910 was reviewed by the Honorable C. G. Selvig who served from 1910-1927. Dr. A. A. Dowell, now professor of Agricultural Economics at University Farm, St. Paul, reviewed briefly the progress made during his administration from 1927 to 1937. T. M. McCall, superintendent since 1937, pointed out the growth made by the school and station since their beginnings. The Station acreage, according to Superintendent McCall has increased from the original 473 acres to 900 acres. The physical equipment investment, including land and buildings, was increased since 1895 to approximately $650,000. 8,361 students have attended the school since its organization in 1906, with a total of 1483 graduates from the regular course and 683 from the four-year and special courses.

The Northwest School Alumni Association voted to continue the twenty-five dollar scholarships for the greatest progress made by one student from each of the freshmen and junior classes.

Officers elected for the next biennium included: Vice President, Robert Larson, Crookston; treasurer, Rodney Lindstrom, Thief River Falls; president, Howard Balk of Bagley, completes his term of office in 1941.

FIGHT IT OUT NOW

In the European war the battle of Britain is now scheduled to start. The fact that it is expected does not necessarily mean that it will actually take place. On the contrary that would indicate that it is not yet due. Up to the present time it is the unexpected that has happened. It seems reasonable to believe, however, that the axis powers will have to force the issue in the near future. The British blockade still isolates them from the rest of the world and that blockade will have to be broken before they can hope to benefit by any of their past victories. The territories they have already conquered are a liability to them as long as they are unable to trade with the rest of the world. These considerations may force them to act quickly, even rashly.

Before acting rashly it is likely that peace overtures will be made. Face saving terms may be offered to England, terms that will not be easy for the English to reject. Such an offer of peace might be more demoralizing to the British than a month of bombing. If not accepted it would create internal dissension. And any terms that are accepted probably will mean merely a postponement of attack, a breathing spell that will permit the dictators to become stronger than ever.

It is not an encouraging prospect but the British had better fight it out now while there is some hope of maintaining an effective blockade that may eventually sap the strength of the dictators. We would have more faith in the ability of the English to win the fight than we would in any promise Hitler might make in a peace offer.

President Roosevelt's announcement Tuesday night that he would accept the nomination of the Democratic party for a third term was not up to his usual high standard of word manipulation. After keeping the nation in suspense as to his intentions for many months, his declaration must have sounded pretty flabby even to his friends. What he said could just as well have been said a year ago. Roosevelt undoubtedly is a shrewd politician but he has bungled his campaign to get himself drafted. The big bomb he was expecting to explode proved to be a dud.

Much needed rains brought encouragement to the community this week. For a while it looked as if there wouldn't be enough crop to cause us to worry about the grasshoppers. Now we have them to worry about again thank goodness.

Our efforts to build an adequate national defense are bringing to light just how woefully unprepared we actually have been. We seem to be short in all departments. We are short on modern war machinery and of course we are short on trained men to operate the machines we expect to build. But that isn't all. We evidently are short too on men to build the machines, men with mechanical training. Employment offices throut the country, here and elsewhere, are looking for mechanics, men capable of operating the machines that will build the war machinery. Young men who have learned how to work with their hands as well as with their heads are going to enjoy some advantages over those who are skilled in headwork only—if at all.

President Roosevelt's acceptance of the third term nomination is going to be as genuinely reluctant as the protestations of a healthy kid that he doesn't want a third dish of ice cream.

Instead of taking a trip this vacation we spent our time checking over our own back yard. Big surprise was discovering a gold mine within 200 miles of home that last year produced nearly $300,000 worth of the yellow metal.

In another week the county fair will be the important coming event in the community. Save a little energy, and a few nickles, to enjoy it right this year. The fair is a community venture that deserves support. You and the family deserve a holiday.

BUSINESSMEN PREFER LIVE CUSTOMERS!

By Dr. V. O. Watts in Northfield News

Business and war are two ways people have tried to get ahead.

That is their only similarity.

In business, men get what they want by offering goods in exchange. In war they get what they want by taking it from others.

Business is competition in production and trade. War is competition in destruction and pillage.

Business and war are therefore opposites and mutually irreconcilable. War destroys business by dissipating capital, regimenting producers and turning producers possible customers into corpses, paupers or enemies.

That is why businessmen as a class dread war.

Communists, enemies of business, like to represent businessmen as war-mongers. According to communist theory, business in general benefits from the scarcity and high prices resulting from war. This theory is as false as the delusions of astrology and voodooism; but it makes good Fifth Column propaganda.

Armament programs and war do not increase real purchasing power and volume of business. They merely divert purchasing power and production from peace-time channels. They therefore reduce effective demand, raise costs and reduce real incomes for the general run of producers. This is true whether the costs are met by government borrowings, by taxation or by government operation of the productive machinery.

American businessmen today know this. They support the armament program, therefore, only for the same reason that they install burglar alarms or pay for burglary insurance. The object is not to increase profits but to avoid losses even greater than the costs of protection. They hope, not to get more business, but to save what business they have.

Businessmen are resolved that our defenses must be adequate. This will mean heavy expenditures and great sacrifices. But beyond all armament programs informed businessmen the world over want peace and trade, not death and destruction.

PUBLIC OPINION

Editor the Times:

The Townsend Convention which met in St. Louis on July 1st was inspiring beyond all anticipations by any one of the eight thousand voting delegates who had assembled from every state in the Union and from Alaska. The great St. Louis municipal auditorium which seats eighteen to twenty thousand people had very few seats unoccupied during any of the sessions of the four day convention.

The things that surprised me the most upon my first look at the picture that presented itself in this convention, was that I saw at least forty per cent of the delegates were under fifty years old and also about the same percentage were women.

While there were many very high class talks, made by U. S. Senators, of whom there were three who addressed the convention, two Congressmen, John Lewis the labor leader and officers of the Townsend National organization, the most stirring talk, in my judgment, was made by a young man from Texas who was only eighteen years old.

Mr. Lewis pledged his strongest support toward the progress of the movement and offered no excuse for doing so except that in his judgment and the judgment of his advisers, the Townsend Plan is the most rational plan that has been offered the people of this country and the only plan that will benefit labor that labor itself has not had to introduce and fight for, he as well as all the other speakers, believe the Townsend Plan is the greatest national defense plan so far proposed.

Every minute of every session was most interesting and there are many statements and incidents I will report to the Townsend Club at its next meeting on July 21st, in the Civic & Commerce rooms in the basement of the auditorium where all are invited to attend. I appreciate very much having had the opportunity to attend the convention as a delegate of the local Townsend Club and that was made possible by the donations of the public to all of whom I extend my thanks and the thanks of the club for their friendly co-operation.

GIANT DANDELIONS FOUND AT ST. PETER

St. Peter—Martin Johnson was exhibiting two giant dandelions recently. One plant had roots that measured 33 inches long and the other had 24 inch roots. They grew in the yard of William Gersdorf on Washington Avenue, and rooted in for the summer. That's the reason, children, those dandelions are so blooming hard to pull out of the front yard.

RECREATION HIGHLIGHTS

By Ferd Ekstad

The Recreation program is sponsored by the City Council in cooperation with Work Projects Administration recreation leaders.

Continued increase in participation in the recreation program is noticed. This is true from a spectator point of view also. It is very encouraging for those sponsoring the program to see interest in the activities grow as the program itself grows. The steady "customers" of the program realize its advantages. All those who have not yet taken advantage of the facilities either as a participant or a spectator are welcome to do so at any time.

Tindolph Park

Diving and swimming classes have been arranged and a schedule announced. Advanced diving instruction will be given on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday afternoons at four o'clock. At the same time on these days instruction will be given to beginners. A satisfactory arrangement has been made so that the two groups can be handled during the same periods. Those who possess the ability to dive some of the simpler executions are being put in an intermediate group. Instruction for this group will be held on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays at four o'clock. Instruction in swimming will be given Monday, Wednesday and Friday mornings at ten o'clock.

These classes afford an opportunity for all interested to brush up on their aquatic ability. The instruction also serves to help prepare contestants for the activities to be held during the coming water carnival. Both diving and swimming contests will be a part of the carnival, so all those wanting to enter these events when the time comes should take part in the supervised classes.

Craft Shop

Last week some boys accompanied Loran Lord, recreation leader at the craft shop, on a hike. These hikes are a part of the nature study handled by Mr. Lord. The boys build a bridge across Squaw Point for the benefit of fishermen and picnickers.

Members of these hikes are gathering plant, leaf, and bark specimens to be identified and mounted. These are to be exhibited in the craft shop in the near future. All those interested in inspecting these exhibits are welcome. It is a way of measuring the benefits of these nature outings.

On July 24th, a group will leave the arena on a bicycle hike. All boys and girls with bikes are urged to take part in this event. The group will leave the arena at ten o'clock in the morning and spend the day bicycling on some planned route. Participants are asked to bring along their own lunch and drinking water.

Puppet Theatre

The scavenger hunt held recently by the group from the theatre was a successful venture. Grace Forsberg won the girls' prize, and Bobby Nelson won the boys' prize. The camp day for this group has been changed from Monday to Tuesday morning. The children wanting to go on these hikes are again urged to bring along food and water.

The puppet show for this afternoon is "Little Red Riding Hood". The show starts at three thirty and is free to the public.

3 WARDENS KILLED BY FISH DEALER IN SOUTH MINNESOTA

Waterville Resident Ends Own Life After Fatal Shooting

Three game wardens investigating commercial bull-head fishing were shot to death at Waterville, Minnesota, Friday by Bryant Baumgartner, about 55, who then killed himself with another blast from a shotgun.

The wardens, who were unarmed, were: Marcus Whipps of Kasota, Le Sueur county warden; D. M. (Dud) Brady, warden at Windom; A. Melvin Holt, warden at Worthington.

The shooting was witnessed by Charles Coon, H. H. McCart, Ed Vail and his son, Linden.

The wardens came to Baumgartner's fish market on Lake Sakatah, at one end of Waterville, and asked to see his records of bullheads purchased and sold, and asked if he had a license.

"You're darn right I've got a license," the witnesses quoted Baumgartner, as saying. He went into his cottage, close to the market. When he came out Baumgartner carried an automatic shotgun.

Brady, who stood nearest to Baumgartner, was heard by McCart and Coon to say:

"It's no use getting smart with that thing, Baumgartner."

"I'll show you whether I'll get smart," Baumgartner replied.

The first shot struck Brady. The other two wardens attempted to run out of range of the shotgun, but were cut down.

The area, including a large portion of the Red Lake wildlife refuge, was formerly under the supervision of the federal government. It is now administered by the state with the use of WPA labor. Most of the land has been either burned over or cut over.

Upland Game Birds are Being Set Out in State

First consignments of upland game birds for restocking purposes left state game farms this week as the department of conservation began unloading rearing pens at Madelia and Carlos Avery.

Barring accidents, the state division of game and fish experts to plant from 30,000 to 35,000 ringneck pheasants this season, some 18,000 quail, and approximately 14,000 chukar partridges.

If the chukar partridge goal is realized, officials pointed out, it will mean a record propagation mark for this state. The previous record was established in 1939 when 11,700 birds were planted throughout the state.

No man can be mean and happy any more than an orange can be sweet and sour.

CANNON SERVES PEACEFUL MISSION

Grand Rapids—In Grand Rapids there stands alone a cannon which now serves a unique function. A pair of tree swallows have made their nest inside the cannon. The male bird perches just inside the muzzle, keeping guard while the female is brooding her clutch of eggs back where the load of powder would be placed were the gun used for its original intent.

Thief River Falls and Plummer continued in their nip and tuck battle for the leadership in the league, with Thief River trouncing Red Lake Falls 12 to 1, and Plummer eking out a 3 to 2 win over the hard-luck St. Hilaire team. In the other league game, Oklee, in spite of the eight errors they committed, won a 7 to 4 decision from the CCC club.

Hemmy Sahl's four-hit pitching, and his three hits, featured the Thief River victory over Red Lake Falls. Two of the four hits that Sahl allowed were credited to Eddie Kiefenheim, the league's leading hitter. Woody Almquist's splendid pitching in relief of St. Hilaire's Bill Hallamack, highlighted the St. Hilaire-Plummer game, and only on an unearned run did he lose the decision to Louie Benson.

Behind Allen Ness' two-hit pitching, the Hartz D-ball team by a 2 to 0 score, won a well-played game from the Peterson's Motors of Bemidji here Wednesday night.

Goose Gulseth scored Hartz' first tally in the second inning. He opened the inning with a single, reached second on a passed ball and scored when Al Ness hit a single into left field. Singles by Langseth, Langlie and Offerdahl shoved Hartz' second score across the plate in the sixth inning.

Bridgeman's 21, Land O'Lakes 20

In a wild and woolly free-scoring affair the Bridgeman's, by a 21 to 20 score, handed the Land O' Lakes their second defeat of the season. Walt Larson, the Land O' Lakes manager, demanded a recount, a couple of recounts, but the final tally still left his team two runs shy of the victory.

Harts 9, Middle River 6

The well-balanced Harts team had quite a tussle before they defeated the stubborn Middle River ten, 9 to 6, in last Monday night's game. Carlo Columbo and Allen Ness were the chief factors in the Harts win. With the score knotted at six-all in the 4th inning, Carlo clouted out a long homerun into right field, scoring what proved to be the winning run. Ness pitched four innings of shut-out ball, allowing only one hit, after being sent into the game in relief of Harts' starting pitcher, Swanstrom.

The Thrill That Comes Once in a Fisherman's Lifetime

Many a sportsman has gone Muskie fishing year after year without catching a Muskie. Hence and therefore the sixteen and a half pounder that favored Clarence Offerdahl last week brought great happiness to the local Harts Store manager who, in the picture above, is beaming upon his prize. The picture was taken at the scene of the catch in Height O' Land lake in Ontario. Envious onlookers are Paul Mellby and Roy Oen in the boat at the left and Al Berge and Judge Lincoln Arnold with Offerdahl in the boat at the right.

Red Lake Falls Bows to Locals Sunday 12-1

Playing errorless ball behind the four-hit pitching of Hemmy Sahl, and pounding out 17 hits, Thief River Falls, by a score of 12 to 1, defeated Red Lake Falls in a Northern Minny league game played there last Sunday. The victory, which was the eighth league win for the locals this season, continued Thief River Falls in its tie for the league lead with the Plummer club.

The locals opened the scoring by marking up a tally in the first inning. Clarence Rasmusson's single to left field, followed by Johnny Jaranson's double into center, sending the first score across the plate. Two more scores were added to the locals' total in the second inning, on Wally DuChamp's infield single, Hemmy Sahl's long double, and an error. Thief River boosted their lead to a 5 to 0 score by scoring twice in the third inning. A base on balls to Jaranson, a fielder's choice on Bergstrom's ground ball, a center field error on Wally DuChamp's fly ball, a walk to Sahl, and an infield hit by Bobby DuChamp.

The locals racked up their sixth run in the fifth inning, Bergstrom's single into center field, Sahl's left field single, and Bob DuChamp's slow roller down the third base line for an infield hit. Two hits, both singles, two bases on balls, three errors, a wild pitch, scored six Thief River runs in the ninth inning, Stan Cockrell's line single into right field, with the bases filled, driving in two of the six runs.

Held hitless and scoreless for six innings, Red Lake Falls bunched two hits in the seventh inning to score their only run. Eddie Kiefenheim, lined a single into center field that Wally DuChamp managed to reach with a back-handed stab, but could not hold, and the drive went for a hit. Gagner then poled out a double to score Kiefenheim. Eddie Kiefenheim opened Red Lake Falls' half of the ninth inning with a triple into deep right center, but Hemmy Sahl blazed his fast ball past the next three batters for strikeouts, leaving the tripling Kiefenheim on third base.

The two teams meet in a return game here next Sunday, and by winning this game the locals will be assured of at least a tie for the league championship. The game is scheduled for the Fair Grounds diamond, at 2:30.

PLUMMER TAKES TIGHT ONE SUNDAY FROM ST. HILAIRE

Hallamack Replaced in St. Hilaire Pitcher's Box by Almquist

In a well-played baseball game on the St. Hilaire grounds Sunday, Plummer defeated St. Hilaire by the narrow margin of 3 to 2, scoring the winning run on two successive wild pitches by Almquist, on the mound for St. Hilaire, replacing Hallamack, who started the game.

Plummer opened the first inning with Schoenauer, first man up, lining Bill's second pitch to left center for three bases. Hoflus, following, laid down a sacrifice bunt that went for a hit to prevent a score, and Fremling then got a three-bagger into deep right field, scoring Schoenauer and Hoflus, and convincing Hallamack that it was his day off.

Almquist, replacing him, went along nicely, allowing but five hits over the rest of the route until in the ninth, with two down, Fremling got hold of one of Almquist's fast ones for two bases, after which he wild-pitched him in from second base on two throws.

SPORTS Tid-Bits

By Buck Olson

League's Leading Hitter

I was under the impression that Plummer's Arv. Mortrude, with his .475 average, was the high man among the league batters; but checking into the records I find that Red Lake Falls' 50-year old veteran, Eddie Kiefenheim, in the nine league games played to date, has been at bat 40 times, scored 14 runs, and banged out 21 hits, for the remarkable average of .525. That average is all the more remarkable when it is remembered that Eddie has reached the half-century mark and that he has played ball, semi-pro ball that is, for the last 34 years. He was a sixteen year old catcher when he received his first baseball salary. Back in 1911, '12 and '13, Eddie was a pitcher for Thief River Falls, and he's not too old now to go in and pitch a few innings of baseball.

There are a lot of rumors about those big black bats that he uses. Some weeks ago, in the game with St. Hilaire, a couple of Eddie's bats were thrown out of the game, the contention being that Eddie had altered these bats so that they were illegal, that the bats had been flattened in order to provide a larger hitting surface. And then there is a rumor that one of these bats is 'loaded' with lead, in order to give his hits more "drive". But all these rumors may only be excuses to make his .525 batting average understandable.

Offerdahl Catches Musky

Judge Lincoln Arnold, Art Berge, and Clarence Offerdahl, made a hurry-up fishing trip, leaving Thursday morning and returning Monday morning, to Height of Land lake, north of Crow lake in Ontario, and they returned with a fine mess of fish. In their catch were four muskies, the heaviest being a 16 pounder that Clarence caught. They caught their wall-eyed pike in Sabascong bay in Lake of the Woods, and the small-mouthed bass in Knife lake. The party saw a number of muskies in Height of Land, but only a small percentage would strike. None of the muskies caught were hooked while casting, it was only while trolling that the musky strikes resulted in hooked fish. Clarence caught his musky while trolling a large, jointed pike minnow; and the Judge caught one of his muskies on a Bob Lincoln spoon.

And while they were on Height of Land lake last Thursday, whom should they meet but Bill Dahlquist, Haakon Olson, Paul Mellby, and Roy Oen, returning from their ten-day canoe trip. It was like old home week.

Miscellany

The averages don't always tell the whole story. For instance, Stan Cockrell, the local's first baseman, has a batting average of only .205, which leaves him in about 10th place in the averages, and yet he has scored 11 runs, being fourth in scoring, and he has driven in 7 runs, for fourth place in that category. And this in spite of the fact that he has missed four of the games that the locals have played.

There's going to be quite an argument about the league's best first baseman. I think that it's a toss-up between St. Hilaire's Lloyd Johnson and Thief River's Stan Cockrell.

The Harts players look pretty nifty in their red diamondball pants. The plain cuffless bottoms are tucked into the sweat socks, giving a pantaloon effect. Of course Carlo Columbo had to be different, so he had cuffs sewed on his trousers. His public demanded it, is his argument—and I guess that she did.

Walt Larson's Land O'Lakes team is the best team in the diamondball league—from Nov. 15th to May 15th, inclusive, that is. That 21 to 20 defeat they received from Bridgeman's last Friday night revealed a serious weakness in the Land O'Lakes team: they weaken when they score over 17 runs.

Legion Junior Ball Team Defeats Warren 7 to 1

The Thief River Falls Legion Junior baseball team Saturday defeated the Warren juniors on the local diamond 7 to 1 behind the pitching of "Teener" Olson, with Gordon Reierson and Merle Carlson providing punch at the plate. A return engagement will be played at Warren next Wednesday, while the Red Lake Falls juniors will furnish opposition for the locals Saturday, July 27.

BELTRAMI & PINE ISLAND NOW UNDER STATE AUTHORITY

Federal Government Turns over 1,500,000 Acre Area to State

Reserved once more for forests and wild life, the 1,500,000 acre Beltrami and Pine Island conservation areas were under state conservation department supervision this week after five years of federal development.

Approval of a 50 year "contract" by which the state assumes custody of the area from the federal Soil Conservation Service was awaited at Washington. Minnesota conservation officials have already signed the document.

Completion of the contract will give the state active management of Minnesota's great wilderness bog—an area that bristled with drainage projects in 1915, that saw futile attempts at settlement, and witnessed a mass re-settlement project in 1935.

Starting in 1935 the U. S. Resettlement Administration moved more than 700 impoverished families from submarginal land in the area. They were placed on arable acres farther north. At present only a dozen families remain.

More than 200 small dams were constructed in the area when the Federal Soil Conservation Service began bringing back the land to its original purpose. Game management was practiced widely. Rare game species were encouraged.

Forests—which represent the economic salvation of the area—will be brought back. State officials see the day when the huge Pine Island area will again be producing millions of board feet of saw timber, and thousands of cords of pulp logs.

With the land once more dedicated to wild life, the Soil Conservation Service turned the project over to the State Conservation Department July 1. Only minor details of the 50 year custodial contract remain to be settled.

already the effects of this great program have begun to be felt.

i quote from a letter received last week from one of america's greatest refrigerator manufacturers—"there is little doubt that within a very short time refrigerator prices will advance from $30. to $50. per unit."

to you—who have decided to "wait till this fall" to "wait till next spring"—i am saying . . .

a rise of this kind in the price you no doubt will pay—if you wait—will take care of all carrying charges on a contract—yes and your electric bill for your new philco refrigerator for a year—besides.

i'm not mentioning the government tax that is anticipated on each refrigerator in the future.

manufacturers have already started to lay in supplies of steel, copper, rubber, leather, chemicals, wool, linseed oil, etc., etc., in anticipation of drastic advance in the prices of all these commodities.

the time to buy is now. the refrigerator to buy is philco, where you may still secure the finest values in america at present low prices. the place to buy is here—at poppler's.

i've got a "beaut" of a glass water jug with stopper that is yours for just coming in and seeing the new philco. drop around today!

sincerely

FINDS WATCH AFTER NINE YEARS AT AITKIN

Aitkin.—On July 23, 1931, a resident of the Aitkin district left a watch with Jeweler J. N. Nelson for repair. A few months later the tag was lost from the timepiece, and there was no way to determine the ownership. Recently, however, after nine years of silence, a friend of the watch-owner saw the watch in the Nelson shop, took a fancy to it, and was coming back shortly to buy it.

PETERSEN FILES AS F. L. ASPIRANT TO GOVERNORSHIP

Enters Name Friday; Criticizes Administration of Gov. Stassen

Hjalmar Petersen, railroad and warehouse commissioner, filed for governor on the Farmer-Labor ticket Friday. Petersen, who served as governor following the death of Floyd B. Olson, declared "the fight for good government based on the fundamental democratic principles of the Farmer-Labor party will be carried on."

He attacked the homestead lien law, which he said "must go as well as its sponsor" (Governor Stassen), and declared "civil service must not be used as an excuse for political purges of many efficient employes as was done by the governor."

Petersen hit at the reduction of the state gas tax rate from 4 to 3 cents, as voted by the last legislature, asked for a tax on banks that is legal, and said "no loan shark business should be legalized under the hypocritical subterfuge of providing aid for the needy."

3 Brainerd Lumbermen Heavily Penalized for Disregarding Wage Law

Violations of the federal wage and hour act brought fines totaling $10,000 against three Brainerd lumbermen in federal district court in Minneapolis late last week, and they also were ordered to pay back wages of $35,000 to 700 employes.

Judge Gunnar H. Nordbye imposed the sentence after the three pleaded guilty to 161 violations of the law. The defendants were Edward B. Sullivan, Saul J. Zeman and S. William Locke, owners of two interlocking firms handling pulpwood, logs and lumber.

The charges, which grew from investigations by the wage and hour division of the children's bureau, ranged from failure to pay minimum wages to working employes overtime without proper compensation and employment of children.

L. A. Hill, regional director of the wage and hour division, said the defendants had brought whole families to their operations in Wadena, Cass and Crow Wing counties and had permitted parents and children to work in the woods.

Every man has a streak of sanity in him somewhere.

CCC ENROLLMENT PERIOD EXTENDED BY STATE OFFICE

Applications to be Received Until End of July, Says Rondestvedt

The current CCC enrolment period, originally scheduled to run from July 1 to 20, has been extended to July 30. Word to this effect was received from St. Paul this week by county welfare officials from C. B. Rondestvedt, supervisor of CCC selection.

All young men interested in CCC work are asked to file applications at the local welfare office by July 25 if possible, although the rolls will remain open until the end of the month.

To be eligible, young men must be between the ages of 17 and 23, be in need of work but not necessarily on relief, be in good physical condition and have a good moral record.

When present enrollees enter camp, they will be given special training in mechanical work, cooking, etc., as a part of the national defense program. However, the non-military nature of the camps, established at the beginning of the program, will be maintained, Mr. Rondestvedt emphasized.

"As a matter of fact," the supervisor said, "the new training program will give the boys an even better background on which to obtain employment in private industry when they complete the course."

Ignoring Traffic Laws Costs 1321 Motorists $15,535 in June Fines

Minnesota motorists who are tempted to "take a chance" with the traffic laws these rare summer days, may take warning from the experience of 1,321 automobile drivers who tried the same thing during those rare days in June—and paid $15,535 in traffic fines after their arrest by state highway patrolmen.

Not only may the timely tip save them time, trouble, and money, but it may save them from tragic traffic accidents, Chief Elden Rowe pointed out in submitting his monthly highway patrol report to Highway Commissioner M. J. Hoffmann.

During June state patrolmen not only arrested and hailed into court 1,321 motorists for major traffic violations endangering life on the highways, but they issued "don't repeat" warnings to another 3,082, and illegal equipment tags to still 4,969 more.

They also tested 8,212 sets of brakes and checked lights on 6,018 vehicles during June, at the same time inspecting 14,917 driver's licenses.

Throughout the month highway patrolmen rendered assistance to nearly 4,000 motorists in difficulty, of which 1,527 required minor mechanical adjustments or repair.

There would be more just nations if there were more "just folks."

THE RECORD.... Facts That Concern You No. 30 of a series

WHAT IS MALT?.. and how is it used in making beer and ale?

BARLEY

Answer: Brewers' malt is barley that has had its starches modified. The barley is first permitted to "sprout" by the addition of moisture. At the right instant, the growth is checked by heat and the sprouts are removed.

What remains is malt . . . the essential base of all good beer and ale.

Every step in the brewing of good beer and ale has been taught by centuries of experience. Today, amazingly expert brewers—using only the purest ingredients—make beer and ale the mild, tasty, wholesome beverages that they are.

Now the brewing industry is taking action to keep the retailing of beer as wholesome as beer itself. A plan to eliminate abuses is already in effect in a number of states. It is being extended. Ask us for an interesting free booklet.

Jellies and jams, to last thro' the year".

It is, indeed, jelly and jam time. What with all those luscious strawberries on the market every woman couldn't resist taking the advantage of reduced prices on these berries. Raspberry time is almost here and the currants are ripening fit for jellies. What a thrill it is for the busy farm woman to see those rows of unbelievably pretty red jellies on the kitchen table when jelly making is done for the day.

Mrs. Ted Markus entertained a few friends at a supper party Tuesday evening honoring her niece, Eleanor Ann's third birthday.

Don't forget to bring a dandy picnic dinner to the Smiley hall on Sunday, July 21st and spend the day listening to good speakers and good music. Free coffee will be served at noon. Everybody welcome.

Your mouth should not be thrown into high gear until you are sure your brain is turning over.

WALLACE GETS SECOND PLACE ON DEM TICKET

Secretary of Agriculture Is Named for Vice Presidency at Chicago

WAS PERSONAL CHOICE OF PRES. ROOSEVELT

President Accepts "Draft" in Radio Address Late Thursday Night

Roosevelt leaders made Henry A. Wallace the Democratic party's vice presidential nominee Thursday night in Chicago, but only after bucking an unexpectedly antagonistic, booing and widely divided national convention.

Wallace, the president's choice, won while the chief executive waited in the White House for the convention's decision. Already prepared was the address accepting his third term nomination, ready to be delivered to the delegates by radio upon Wallace's nomination, but requiring revision had the convention chosen any other nominee.

The Iowan, secretary of agriculture from the start of the Roosevelt administration and an uncompromising New Dealer, rode in mostly upon the shoulders of the populous, big-vote states, with the assistance of the smaller delegates from middle-western farm states.

President Roosevelt informed a silent and intently listening convention Thursday that he accepted his tradition-shattering third-term nomination and asserted that in the face of "grave public danger", his conscience would not let him ignore "a call to service."

But that, Mr. Roosevelt said, rested not with the party, but with the people as a whole and was subject to the national election in November which will have him pitted against Wendell L. Willkie, the Republican nominee.

"If such a draft should be made upon me," he said, referring to the election, "I say in the utmost simplicity, I will, with God's help continue to serve with the best of my ability and with the fullness of my strength."

The convention which had just nominated Secretary Henry A. Wallace, the president's choice, for the vice presidency, listened absorbed and silent to the president's voice, coming, it seemed, out of nowhere.

It had been warned, by the convention chairman, Senator Alben W. Barkley, against applause, because the president speaking by radio from the White House, could not hear it, and so could not suspend for it. But Barkley had added, Mr. Roosevelt would be able to hear the crowd's response at the conclusion of his speech. And, when the address was done, the big crowd broke into another of the turbulent Roosevelt demonstrations which had come so frequently throughout the week.

It roared its approval of Mr. Roosevelt's acceptance, it cheered, and shouted, danced and sang, and the mighty organ, thundering "God Bless America", reinforced the din.

As had Mrs. Roosevelt, addressing the convention personally an hour or so earlier, the president made it clear that the duties of his office would not permit much campaigning, and with the continuance of the crisis abroad, would keep him close to the White House.

Numerous Filings for State Office Received During the Past Week

O'Hara, Glencoe, Republican, for representative in congress in the second district; John G. Alexander, Minneapolis, for re-election to congress in third district as a Republican, and Ed Cornenby, Minneapolis, for congress in third district as a Farmer-Laborite.

MIDDLE RIVER LAD IS BADLY MAIMED BY GUN DISCHARGE

Donald Kezar, 16, Sustains Loss of Eye in Mishap Last Friday

Donald Kezar, 16-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Kezar of Middle River, suffered the loss of his right eye and possibly the use of his left, as well as sustaining a badly mangled hand as the result of the accidental discharge Friday morning of his .410 shotgun, with which he had intended to shoot gophers while spraying a field of potatoes.

The youth was riding on the running board of a car, holding on to the loaded gun, when it slipped from his grasp and discharged, embedding 27 pellets in his face and a like number in his hand.

He was rushed to a local hospital where the right eye was found to be so badly injured as to necessitate its removal, while two pellets were found to have entered his left eye. He also sustained the loss of the tips of two fingers on his mangled hand.

LOCAL CREAMERY PRODUCTION GAINS SHARPLY IN 6 MO.

Outlook Is for Output of One Million lbs. of Butter During Year

One of the most novel shows in the history of fair business is scheduled to make its appearance at Thief River Falls as a special feature of the Pennington county fair on Wednesday, July 31, when WCCO's Cross Roads Party will perform in the evening.

The Cross Roads Party promises to be something new in the way of Fair entertainment. Besides featuring outstanding radio name personalities like Clellan Card and Rollie Johnson, Rollie Altmeyer and others, the Cross Roads Party will present four unusual production numbers.

The opening will present the chorus of girls and boys in rural costume in a rhythm song and dance novelty similar to the old quadrille. As another novelty feature, the company presents the Washboard Chorus in which the chorus of girls comes out on the stage with their washboards and tubs and describe the drudgery of washday. This is soon followed by the girls having a change of heart, stepping in front of their washtubs and manipulating their trick costumes which present them in modern wardrobe, after which they go into a fast swing dance.

Possibly one of the numbers in the Cross Roads Party that has aroused more comment nationally than any other production number in recent years is the famous dummy number. This number is divided into four parts. First the girls, in sports clothes, open with a clever song and dance, each girl parading a small sized marionette with all the puppets in line of unison. Second, the ventriloquist act, presented by Ken Spencer, comes on with standard ventriloquist dummy. Third, the girls return with life sized male dummies for special jitter bug number. Fourth, Clyde Snyder, master of ceremonies, comes on with life sized girl dummy and does whirlwind adagio. The finale, the Gay Nineties number, is very colorful with a period of costumes worn by ladies of the gay nineties, with the girls in tights, Police Gazette style, the Bob-o-Links as barber shop trio, a special style show and a fast cakewalk by the entire ensemble.

These novel and humorous production numbers are interwoven in the program which, besides the personalities already mentioned, include such famous headline attractions as Charles Bruggs, eccentric tumbler, Bruce Patterson, famous colored "wizard of the banjo", formerly featured with Duke Ellington's Orchestra and in the motion picture Show Boat with Irene Dunne. All in all, Cross Roads Party will bring to the Pennington County Fair on July 31 something brand new in the way of fair entertainment.

PICNIC SPONSORED BY GOP WOMEN IS ENJOYABLE AFFAIR

Speakers See Good Outlook for Party Candidates in November

What was said to be the first picnic ever held in Pennington county under the auspices of Republican women was successfully conducted Sunday afternoon at the Smiley hall grounds, a large number of persons being present in spite of the extremely hot weather prevailing.

Mrs. J. N. Nesse, president of the county women's Republican club, sponsoring group, was in charge of the program which followed a picnic lunch. H. M. Hitterdal supplied a group of vocal solos, after which Mrs. E. C. Karwand, county chairwoman, discussed the work being done in organizing the county for the coming campaign.

County Chairman Paul A. Lundgren introduced W. L. Peterson of Lancaster, former state senator, who expressed confidence that the Republican state ticket will be reelected this fall if the necessary work is done in its behalf. Miss Marjorie Thompson of Baker, state vice chairwoman and Ninth district delegate to the Republican convention in Philadelphia, gave many interesting sidelights on events leading up to the nomination of Willkie, and said the convention was decidedly not a one-man affair.

Mrs. Chris Carlson, national committeewoman from Minnesota, discussed organization work and appealed for the election of a Republican congressman from the Ninth district along with the entire state ticket. She also praised Mr. Willkie for his engaging personality, his forthrightness and his demonstrated ability, at the same time criticizing President Roosevelt for his violation of the third-term tradition.

Mrs. I. W. Kinder of Crookston extended greetings from Mrs. Henry Harding, Ninth district chairwoman, who was unable to be present.

Fried spring chicken prepared by Mrs. Freeman Allen was served during the noon hour, while the coffee was supplied by Roy Oen of the Oen Mercantile company. Mrs. Willis Reese assisted in preparing the hall for the occasion.

The gathered full skirt was floor-length, there were short puffed sleeves, and a row of buttons extended to the waist in back. To complete her costume the bride wore long lace mitts and a wide picture hat of white pineapple straw, with streamers extending to the hem of her gown. Both mothers wore afternoon frocks in dusty rose, and each wore a shoulder bouquet of gardenias and gypsophila, as did the bridegroom's grandmother, Mrs. Ione Whybrew of Escanaba, Michigan, who also was present at the nuptials.

The groom was attended by his brothers, Edward and Robert Silvis, both of Grand Rapids.

Martin Nelson Enters Race for United States Senator on Wednesday

Declaring that Republican Senators and Republican Congressmen are needed to aid in the big job of "renovation and reconstruction" which Wendell Wilkie and Charles McNary must undertake in Washington, Martin A. Nelson of Austin Wednesday filed as a candidate for the Republican nomination for United States senator from Minnesota.

Widely known from his campaigns as Republican candidate for governor, Nelson issued a statement on entering the senatorial race setting forth his reasons for filing. In this he said:

"With capable and popular leaders like Wendell Wilkie and Charles McNary heading our national ticket and Governor Stassen and the other officials of our Republican state administration going before the voters with a splendid record, it becomes increasingly apparent that Minnesota will turn again to the Republican party in overwhelming numbers this fall. From all over the country comes evidence that Wendell Wilkie and Charles McNary will be sent to Washington to head the national administration next January and do the kind of renovation and reconstruction our Republican administration has done in the state of Minnesota during the last two years."

Thief River Falls Outing in California Was Big Success

The following account of the recent reunion of former Thief River Falls citizens in South Pasadena, California, was prepared for the Times by Homer L. Mussey, secretary of the picnic group:

South Pasadena, Calif. —"The older they get, the better they are" is an old, trite saying, and its application as descriptive of the annual Thief River Falls reunion in Southern California is most appropriate. Here in this beautiful little city at Garfield Park in 1940, we of the old home town feel doubly proud of our yearly picnic.

Not only was the setting wonderful, but the attendance—and consequently the enthusiasm—was very remarkable. Coming as it did on the last Sunday before Fourth of July, when so many plan extensive vacation trips and 4-day week-end outings, the president and secretary were agreeably surprised.

The attendance was above normal. But the most pleasing feature was the presence of many who might be termed "First Nighters". These included Mrs. Gilbert K. Hovie of Burbank, Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Myrom of Wilmington, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Engelstad of Newhall, Mr. and Mrs. Cleon Bottelson of Pasadena, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Uye of of Pasadena, Mrs. Jas. A. Wilson of Pasadent, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Ness and family of Long Beach, E. B. Larson and mother, Mrs. Mary Larson of Alhambra, Mrs. Myrtle Thomas Spear of South Gate, Mrs. Harriet (Mussey) Belvin and family of Tijunga, and Mr. and Mrs. Ted Mussey of Garvey.

Thus does our membership enlarge—and likewise our enthusiasm grow. Of course, there are some who could not attend. Of these we greatly missed Mother Caldwell and Mary—two real old faithfuls. Ill health kept them away, but we're looking for 'em next year. Another was Mrs. H. P. Sponheim and Mrs. Ila Reynolds, and daughter, Marion. Others we missed were Francis Ohm, Wendell Sether, Nils Christenson, Treolime Goodwin, Julius Olson and many more.

At a brief business session, E. L. Quist and Homer Mussey were "blitzkrieged" into office as president and secretary, respectively, for what looks like eternity. Next years picnic will be held at Centenella Park in Inglewood (by Bertil Hacke). And after that, each annual gathering will be heldat a certain designated central place. It was also decided to attempt a winter indoor gathering soon after New Years for the special benefit of winter visitors from the Old Home Town.

Both Lommen and Shipstead entered public office together in the same year, both as Farmer Laborites. Lommen has served as chairman at the Farmer-Labor state conventions, has for ten years carried a prominent place in the state-wide radio campaigns and speaking tours of Governor Olson, and other candidates of the party, and since 1931, he has been the floor leader of the Farmer Labor forces in the state senate.

RECREATION HIGHLIGHTS

By Ferd Klated

The Recreation program is sponsored by the city council in cooperation with Work Project Administration recreation leaders.

Crowds of people are taking advantage of ~~the swimming facilities~~ at Tindolph pool ~~during the~~ present heat spell. It seems to be the only one place where one can seek refuge from this current heat wave. Likewise, better participation has been registered at East side park. This increase is general throughout the entire program and continues to encourage those who are responsible for promoting all these activities. Everyone is welcome to make use of the facilities of the program. Those who have not yet visited any part of the program are asked to do so. Recreation officials in Thief River Falls urge all the citizens to become acquainted with the program they are sponsoring.

Tindolph Park

Swimming and diving instruction are given every day of the week for those who are interested. The instruction will serve to help those who plan to enter these events in the water carnival, which has been set for Sunday, August 18. All those interested in entering swimming and diving contests are urged to take advantage of the instructions. A new dart game has been introduced in the park, and it has caught the eye of numerous youngsters. After a good swim, most persons take advantage of the other play equipment in the park.

East Side Park

Tournaments in the following events will soon be held: Tennis, table tennis, horseshoe, and croquet. All those interested are urged to get "practiced up" for these events. Further notice will be given on bulletin boards at this park and Tindolph park. All entrants must sign with the recreation leader in charge before the event is held. These contests are for men, women, boys and girls, not just children.

Miscellaneous

Parents are asked to send their children to the craft shop. They learn to use their hands, and at the same time make useful articles. The show at the puppet theatre in the arena this afternoon at 2:30 is titled "Hansel and Gretel." No admission is charged for these shows.

Foot Bridge Serves Purposes of Smiley Community

A foot bridge across the Red Lake River at Smiley, constructed out of materials salvaged from the bridge that went out with the ice last spring, serves the needs of the Smiley community temporarily. Encouraging is the fact that a bridge is needed. There is a good flow of water in the river and, with weed cutting operations on the reservation flats well under way and a high water level in the Red Lakes, the river probably will continue to be a river for some time to come.

Continental Vanities Evening Show at Fair

An outdoor show with a plot is a new idea, so new, in fact, it bids fair to change the entire complexion of open-air entertainment of this kind in the immediate future.

Though often proposed in the past, this novel innovation has not been tried until the producers of "Continental Vanities Revue", coming to the Pennington county fair as the night feature before the grandstand, Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings, August 1, 2 and 3, successfully developed the idea and perfected it for a circuit of leading fairs.

"Continental Vanities" is based on an amusing and delightful story, with all the sweet tune hits, glittering parades of feminity, novel lighting effects, and specially designed scenery to carry out its unique theme.

The scene is that of a typical dude ranch in Wyoming, with all the appurtanances and effects for proper atmosphere. Ted Cook, long a favorite in Broadway musical comedies, has the important and fun-making role of the 'singing foreman' who greets the guests on their arrival at the ranch. At this point Ted briefly unfolds the story in song and dialogue. He is assisted by such capable artists as Louise Terry, who sells her songs with superb showmanship, and Art Manning, a comedian of no mean ability.

Discovering that the assembled guests are all extremely talented performers from the varied branches of the show-world, the versatile Ted Cook hits on the idea of 'cooking up a show'. From then on, until the last note of music in a rousing finale, the vacationing show folk put on a full-length musical that sparkles with good fun and youthful beauty.

"Continental Vanities" is in five acts, or ensembles, with a wealth of multi-colored costumes, many new tricks in lighting and appropriate specialties.

HOLD THE RATE DOWN

In order to balance its relief fund the county board will make an additional levy next year, increasing the tax, for county purposes only, to nearly 45 mills. The county levy 20 years ago was less than 12 mills, considered high at that time. By 1930 the levy had increased to a little more than 20 mills. During the past 10 years it has climbed steadily to its present high level and now is to make another big jump next year. Considering the fact that, in spite of these increases in taxes, little progress is being made in the reduction of the county's big debt, it would seem that the financial condition of the county is a thing taxpayers should start worrying about.

The problem of financing a unit of government is fundamentally the same as that of financing a farm, a home or a business. It is a problem of making both ends meet. It is a problem of living within our means, limiting our wants to the things we can afford.

It can be conceded that all of the things the county spends its money for are desirable, and there need be no question as to whether the county gets good value for what it spends. It probably is true that present county expenditures could be doubled and still many of the demands of the people would remain unsatisfied. There is no limit to the things we would like to have. But, unfortunately, there is a limit to our ability to pay and that disagreeable but important fact must be given consideration.

We find no fault with the action of the county board in spreading a special levy to meet an old obligation. But we do believe a reasonable concern for the interests of the taxpayers would have induced them to make corresponding reductions in the appropriations for other purposes in order that no further increases in the total levy would have been necessary. We would like to suggest, for instance, that for this one year the appropriation for roads and bridges could have been reduced without bad effect. We mention the road fund because it happens to be the one on which we probably are farthest out of line.

In 1929, aside from what was paid to bonds and interest, the county spent about $46,000 for roads. Five years later, by 1934, this amount had increased to about $58,000. Last year the total was in the neighborhood of $90,000. The county spent nearly twice as much for roads in 1939 as it spent in 1929. The 1939 expenditures average out to about $5,000 for each full township. Another thing to be considered in this picture is the fact that during this 10 year period two expensive sections of road were taken over by the state, additions to the trunk highway system.

We appreciate the need for good roads but a road program cannot be completed in one year. A road program is never completed. We realize that most of the money spent by the county for roads now comes from the state, but we remember very distinctly that the purpose of the gas tax was to relieve the tax load on real estate. It has not been used for this purpose in our county.

Considering all of these things, we believe the county board could quite easily have arranged its 1941 financial program so as to meet all its obligations without increasing the tax rate and without seriously retarding any necessary program. Under the circumstances it is to be hoped that city officials will make a special effort to offset the county increase by reducing substantially the city levy. The total rate in the city, now well over a hundred mills, should not be permitted to go higher.

A conference of American nations at Havana, called by our government, proposes a united front in the western hemisphere to thwart the evil designs of the dictators. Some plan probably will be adopted but it's a good bet that the United States will be the only country that will take the plan seriously. In our relations with South and Central America we are dealing with people with whom we have little in common. A New Jersey editor has aptly said, "One could haul away in a wheelbarrow all of the democracy that ever was south of the Rio Grande, or probably ever will be in our time."

Bolivia, one of the countries of South America that we will defend with all our resources, has quite a record as a Democracy. In a period of 72 years it has had 61 military revolts, 10 constitutions and 6 assassinated presidents. As long as we have decided it is none of our affair what happens in Europe perhaps our conscience will permit us to let the people of South America shift for themselves a little longer. We probably will have plenty to do defending the North American continent which, in itself, is a pretty big battlefield.

Prospects for the 1940 corn husking contest have materially improved since the fourth of July.

Most of our comforts grow up between our crosses.—Young.

There shouldn't be any question about the immediate need for compulsory military training in this country. It is essential to any realistic program of national defense. What is happening in Europe and Asia must convince everyone that national security rests on preparedness alone. A spokesman for the new government of Japan, completely dominated by the militarists, has declared, "We cannot doubt that the day will come when Japan can share the world with Germany and Italy." That is plain language. European dictators, still occupied at home, are not so outspoken but there can be no question as to their intentions. For us, at this time, to indicate that we are unwilling to go all the way in our defense program would be to hasten the plans for our own destruction.

We don't have to worry any more about the Washington school building being unsafe. Competent engineers have checked it thoroughly and have declared it to be in a satisfactory condition from a structural standpoint. Their recommendations for minor repairs are being followed. So, for the time being, the community can forget the discouraging report of the deputy state fire marshal who last April, after walking through the building, declared it to be structurally unsound and recommended that it be replaced by a new building. Alarmed by this report the school board properly took steps to learn the true condition of the building. It is comforting to know that it will not be necessary to build another new school building for a few years at least.

I believe in America—

Because in it we are free—free to choose our government, to speak our minds, to observe our different religions;

Because we are generous with our freedom—we share our rights with those who disagree with us;

Because we hate no people and covet no people's land;

Because we are blessed with a natural and varied abundance;

Because we set no limit to a man's achievement; in mine, factory, field or service, in business or the arts, an able man, regardless of creed or class, can realize his ambitions;

Because we have great dreams—and because we have the opportunity to make those dreams come true.—Wendell L. Willkie.

YOU CAN'T FOOL A BEE

(Montevideo News)

A city man who went back to the land has learned a lot, in addition to feeling better. Among other things he wonders if it may become necessary that men turn back to the soil for a thousand years "to exorcise them."

That middle word isn't exercise. Everybody knows that if men get on the land they will get exercise, even in the machine age. With the "o" in it the word means to get rid of evil spirits in men. It isn't so certain that a thousand years on the land will do a satisfactory job of exorcising. Getting back to the main point, David Grayson sees it this way:

"I thought, as I knelt there by my hives, of the absolute veracity of these natural processes. Here one comes to know the immutable logic of cause and effect. One cannot fool a hive of bees; There is no gambling short cut to honey; no getting by with clever words.

"Reward rests exactly upon effort, effort exactly upon knowledge. Man is constantly forgetting this law, becoming impatient of this order, despising the slow processes of creation and growing, seeking by silly force, or sillier duplicity, to satisfy his greed by short cuts. We who kneel by our hives know well that it cannot be done. We know that the attempt to do it results in what we see abroad in the world today: hunger, poverty, unemployment, hatred, bitter depression and dismay. It cannot be done."

SALUTE THE SPUD

(Minneapolis Star-Journal)

The potato is mighty in Minnesota. It ranks with the cow, the hen, the hog and King Corn as member of agriculture's "royal family" in our state. Minnesota is sixth among the 48 states in potato production; we grew in 1938 well over nine million dollars' worth of spuds. Our potato acreage—230,000—is second only to Michigan's. And ours is one of nine northern states that contain 48 per cent of the country's total potato acreage. These are some figures gathered by R. C. Rose of University farm, and they're impressive testimony of the scope of our potato industry. Some other facts cited by Mr. Rose should interest consumers of potatoes, fried or boiled with the jackets on: The potato (first cultivated by the Incas, who called it "battata") yields more food per acre than most other crops, which is the reason it is intensively cultivated in European countries of dense population. It is 78 per cent water. From 400 to 600 pounds of water is required by potato plants to produce one pound of dry matter. Annual rainfall in Minnesota of 25¼ inches makes potato production run to about 90 bushels per acre. A notable vegetable, the potato. Minnesota and Minnesotans can be proud of our sixth position as potato producer and should strive, both by consumption and advertising, to bring it closer to top place.

WILL BE SMOTHERED BY "WOO"

(Park Region Echo)

William Allen White of Emporia, Kansas, is the greatest country newspaper man America has produced, and his son, William L. White, war correspondent who recently returned from Europe, seems to be a chip off the old block. Sunday he gave an analysis of the Hitler campaign that every patriotic American should study. Six months ago in Berlin, he says one of the smartest Americans there told him that the Germans will not make an armed invasion of America. They will "woo" us first.

Before they invaded Austria a "woo" campaign was turned on all prominent Austrians to the effect that they had no territorial ambitions elsewhere; the "woo" was turned on Czecho-Slovakia that only the German-speaking Sudeten territory was wanted. The "woo" was turned on the Poles; they were told that Beck was the one ruler in Europe Hitler could deal with. They turned the "woo" on the Russians so they could clean up the Poles. After they have cleaned up France and England, he said, "woo" will be wafted to America in big sticky double-handsful. We will be offered a gilt-edged 100 year treaty of non-aggression and brotherly love, a guaranty of the Monroe Doctrine and democracy—anything to keep us quiet until they are ready. This will be popular with our people, who love peace and hate taxes. We will let down on the defense program and then, bang, in 1941 or 1942 they will grab for South America.

We would not be surprised if Bill White has something there.

If no more resistance was met with in drafting soldiers than in drafting candidates for the presidency, this country soon would be on a war footing.

The Duke of Windsor has been appointed governor of the Bahamas. Altho he will be closer to the tropics than if he had stayed on the British throne, his seat won't be quite so hot.

It didn't help Henry A. Wallace's vice presidential ambitions to have it revealed at the Chicago convention that he is a "boos" fighter.

There are some peculiar ducks in the world, comments Bachelor Billy Noonan. For instance, a western man who hadn't kissed his wife in five years shot a man who did.

Two New Dealers died while attending the national convention in Chicago last week. Surely not from shock over FDR'S renomination.

Random thought— Wonder why it is that "emergencies" usually develop in an election year.

The Democratic platform drafters in Chicago might have anticipated a bit and gone on record as opposed to a fourth term.

1930—TEN YEARS AGO

Hundreds of windows in local buildings were broken and the grandstand at the fair grounds was damaged in a devastating wind and hail storm July 18.—A Pennington county chapter of the American Red Cross was organized with Mrs. T. Reep as chairman; Mrs. Mary Shaw, vice chairman; Miss Avis Akre, secretary; and H. O. Chommie, treasurer.—Eighty local men made a two-day tour of Northwestern Minnesota in the interest of the county fair.—Miss Miriam Bishop received her master's degree at the summer session of the University of Minnesota. — Miss Selma Rustebakke returned from a trip to Canada and Montana.

1920—TWENTY YEARS AGO

The nation's railroad workers received a pay increase averaging 21 per cent as the result of action taken by the federal railway labor board.—With the removal of the last legal barrier, the city council signed a contract for the paving of city streets in the business district.—Mrs. L. G. Larsen and E. O. Mogenson were elected to the local board of education, succeeding H. S. Dahlen and F. F. Haynes, who had not filed for the office. — Manager Brumund announced the showing at the Lyceum theatre next week of "The Birth of a Nation."

G. N. Roadbed Is Being Improved at R. L. Falls

A crew of some 25 rail workers have been putting in new ties and heavier steel on the Great Northern lines south of Red Lake Falls and it is reported that heavier steel will be laid north of the city later in the season, says the Red Lake Falls Gazette. The Great Northern does an extensive hauling business on the line during the fall and winter months and an improved rail bed is necessary for the heavier trains that are being hauled.

Doctors Give Warning Relative to Drowning Danger to Little Tots

Far too little attention is given to protecting young children from drowning, the Minnesota State Medical Association's committee on public health education declared in a bulletin issued today.

The general problem of preventing deaths by drowning concerns everybody at this time of year according to the doctors; but precautions against accidents to swimmers do not meet the problem.

More one-year-old children than persons of any other single year of age drown annually in the United States and two-year olds also contribute a number of drowning deaths far out of proportion to the number in the population. The total is approximately 400 for both each year.

There is only one way to prevent these tragic mishaps, according to the doctors. That is to watch the babies constantly if they are anywhere near water.

Only a small number of the drownings take place at beaches or other resorts, according to figures quoted from a June report by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company. Most of the fatalities occur in the back yard at home, many of them in fish ponds or in ditches, cisterns, cess pools or nearby small streams or lakes.

Municipal Band Gives Fine Concert Friday

Favored by an ideal summer night, the concert by the municipal band Friday evening was an enjoyable affair, the west side park being lined with cars for the occasion. In addition to a group of well-rendered selections by the band, Adolph S. Herseth of Bertha, soloist with the Luther college band of Decorah, Iowa, supplied a group of cornet solos, responding to several calls for encores. He was accompanied on the piano by Mrs. A. W. Carlson of Holt.

CAR STRIKES HYDRANT; GUSHER RESULTS

St. Cloud.—A geyser just as spectacular as "Old Faithful" spouted an estimated 100,000 gallons of water, at a rate of 1,800 gallons a minute at the intersections of Fifth avenue and Third street south one night recently. The stream of water resulted after a car struck the hydrant there. The impact of the crash sent the car across the street to break off the hydrant, four feet below the ground.

A man could not live a moment at that speed."

Game next Sunday: All-star game at Plummer. Team selected from St. Hilaire, Thief River Falls, and CCC Co. meet a team chosen from Plummer, Red Lake Falls, and Oklee.

The regular schedule of games for the Northern Minny league was completed last Sunday, and the Plummer and Thief River Falls team are tied for the league championship. Arrangements are now being made for a best 2 out of three series for the league championship and the right to participate in the regional championship at Bemidji.

Plummer, with their ace pitcher, Arvin Mortrude, back on the mound, defeated the Middle River CCC 5 to 1, before a small crowd at Plummer Sunday.

Thief River Falls made hard work out of their game with Red Lake Falls and it was only through loose play on the part of Red Lake and numerous bases on balls that Thief River edged out a 7 to 2 victory.

In the third league game, St. Hilaire defeated Oklee, 4 to 0, behind the shut-out pitching of Woody Almquist.

Locals Win Tilt From Red Lake Falls Sunday

Playing a spotty brand of ball here last Sunday, Thief River Falls nudged out a 7 to 2 win over Red Lake Falls in the final game on the league schedule, thus forcing the decision on the league championship into a play-off series with the Plummer aggregation, who defeated the CCCs 5 to 1, in a game at Plummer.

Red Lake Falls and Thief River both scored in the opening inning. With one away, Lynn Kiefenheim was given a life when Roy Lee booted his grounder, and when Roy threw wildly in a desperate try to get the runner at first, Lynn sped on to second, and scored Red Lake Falls' first tally on Gagner's drive into right field. The locals knotted the score in their half of the inning. Nick Bromberg punched out a left field double, stole third base, and scored when Jorgenson heaved the ball into left field.

The two teams, with sparkling defensive plays, continued in a 1-all deadlock until the sixth inning. With two men retired, Columbus sent a single into right field, made a steal of second, and scored the tie-breaking run when Ray Perras doubled down the right field foul line. Thief River came back with a cluster of three runs in their half of sixth. Bergstrom walked, to open the inning, but was forced at second on LaFave's ground ball to the third baseman, LaFave reaching first on the fielder's choice. LaFave went to second on a passed ball; Bob DuChamp was hit by a pitched ball; Roy Lee reached first base, and the sacks were loaded, when the third baseman fumbled Roy's bounder. LaFave scored when Jorgenson let a pitched ball get away from him. And Bob DuChamp and Roy Lee tallied their runs when Rasmusson singled through the infield.

With Eddie Kiefenheim on the mound for Red Lake Falls in the seventh inning, Thief River, on four bases on balls, and a fly ball to center field, scored two more runs; and in the eighth inning the locals registered their final marker, on a base on balls, a stolen base, and Wally DuChamp's looping hit into right field.

Out-hit 8 to 5 by Red Lake Falls, the locals made use of the 13 bases on balls issued by Kelly and Kiefenheim, and six errors, to win the game.

Next Sunday will see the northern division of the Northern Minny league meeting the southern division in an "All-star" game at Plummer.

NORTHERN MINNIE ALL-STAR TILT IS SLATED ON SUNDAY

T. R. Falls, St. Hilaire and CCC Teams Join Forces at Plummer

The Northern Minnesota baseball league 'All-star' game is on the schedule for next Sunday, to be played at Plummer. Manager Bud Jaspers, of the Plummer team ger, of Oklee, will select a team with the assistance of Ray Perras, of Red Lake Falls, and Joe Belanger of Oklee will select a team from those three clubs, Plummer, Oklee and Red Lake Falls, which will meet an all-star team chosen from St. Hilaire, Thief River Falls, and the CCC.

T. W. Williamson, manager of the Thief River club, will have the aid of St. Hilaire's Klemens Gigstad, and the CCC's Bakke, in selecting the team to represent the northern section of the league. It is expected that the starting batteries for the two teams will be Mortrude, pitching, and Benson, catching, for the southern division; and Hemmy Sahl, pitching, and Bing Bergstrom, catching, for the northerners, although the northerners have Woody Almquist and Arlo Jacobson ready to send into the game, and if this battery does not start they will be sure to see action sometime during the game.

TOURNAMENTS ON PLAYGROUNDS TO START AUGUST 4

Tennis, Croquet, Horseshoe and Other Tourneys Scheduled

Tennis, croquet, horseshoe, and table tennis tournaments are to be held at Tindolph and East side parks as a part of the recreation program sponsored by the city council in cooperation with WPA recreation leaders. The tournaments will not start until the week of August 4th, but all those interested are urged to use the facilities at both parks for practice sessions.

The tournaments have been planned so that everyone has an opportunity to enter. There will be various age groups for the different sports. In tennis there will be four groups: Boys up to eighteen years of age, men over eighteen, girls under sixteen, and women over that age. There will be no horseshoe tournament for the women. Boys up to eighteen and men over that age will vie for honors in the two groups. Only children will compete in the croquet contest. Boys and girls up to fourteen years of age will make up the two groups for this activity.

The division of groups in table tennis will be the same as that for tennis, with four different groups competing. Several other tournaments are being considered, but will probably not be run off until the fall program gets under way.

All men, women, and children wanting to take part in any of these tournaments are asked to sign up with the recreation leaders at the two parks. Finals in all the tournaments with the exception of tennis will be held at Tindolph park, Sunday, August 18th, as a part of the water carnival. Ribbons and prizes will be awarded winners of the first three places in every event.

Games to be played:

Thursday, July 25th, Kiewels vs. Greenbush.

Bridgemans 15, Middle River 8.

Bunching six hits, and a walk, the Bridgeman's scored six runs in the 1st inning of their game with Middle River last Thursday night, and went on to win an easy 15 to 8 victory.

Land O'Lakes 8, DeMolay 3.

Digging into the bat sack for some strategy, Walt Larson, manager of the Land O'Lakes, came up with a new pitcher, Clyde Annett, and in the three innings that he pitched he looked good.

Harts 7, Land O'Lakes 1.

In a bitter 'grudge' game, filled with argument and good play, the Harts turned back the threatening Land O'Lakes team by a 7 to 1 score last Monday night. Twice during the game the Lakers had men in scoring positions without a man out, and Harts pinched off the rallies without allowing a score. A big crowd witnessed the game, and came away from the Fair Grounds with the belief that the Harts team is the club to beat for the championship.

Kiewels 17, Middle River 5

With five of their 'regulars' unable to be on hand for the game, Middle River, making 7 errors, lost a lopsided, 17 to 5 game to Kiewel's last Tuesday night. One of the high-lights of the game was Bob DuChamp's single in the 3rd inning, for it marked the first base hit that he has made during the diamondball season.

SPORTS Tid-Bits

By Huck Olson

Fine Plays Made Last Sunday

It seemed to be 'Outfielder's Day' at the ball game last Sunday, for the spectacular defensive plays of the game were made by the two outfielders, Wally and Bobby DuChamp making fine catches for the locals, and Buster Fournier and Lynn Kiefenheim doing the fly-grabbing for Red Lake Falls. In the 5th inning Red Lake Falls' Gagner got a big piece of one of Hemmy Sahl's pitches and poled out a whistling drive into right-center field, and Wally made the put-out on a fine running catch. And in the 7th inning, with the singling Kelly on first base, Lynn Kiefenheim sent a low line drive over the infield, toward left field, and after a hard run, Bobby DuChamp made a lunging catch, and so sure had Kelly been that the ball would fall safely for a base hit that he had nearly reached second base when Bob made the catch, and when Bobby made the peg to first base Kelly was easily doubled. But Thief River didn't monopolize the fine catches. Buster Fournier, in left field, made three put-outs, and all on running catches; and Lynn Kiefenheim, in center field, made a remarkable grab in pulling in Wally DuChamp's bid for a hit in the 6th inning. Wally's usual custom is to pop a hit over the infield, so this hard, long drive surprised Kiefenheim to the extent that he did not start for the ball as quickly as he should, and consequently the catch was somewhat harder than it should have been.

Plummer T. R. F. in Play-off

The deadlock between the Plummer and Thief River Falls teams for the championship of Northern Minny league, makes a play-off series necessary. And an interesting series it should be, for the two teams are well-balanced and evenly matched, and in the two league games played between the clubs, each team won a game. Thief River is perhaps the best defensive club, while Plummer appears to be a bit stronger on offense. The records reveal that Plummer has scored 75 runs on 117 hits, and committed 32 errors; while their opponents have scored 37 runs, made 64 hits, and erred 43 times. Thief River Falls, on the other hand, has scored 59 runs, banged out 86 hits, and committed 21 misplays; while holding their opponents to but 19 runs and 52 hits.

And speaking of the play-off. Only some hard luck kept the St. Hilaire team from finishing in a three-way tie for the championship. Their league record shows that the Saints have won six games and lost four, but at least two of these losses could as easily have been wins. The second game at Thief River Falls, when St. Hilaire led going into the last half of the 9th inning, and then with two men out, lost the game. And the Plummer game at St. Hilaire could have been a victory for the home club, with a 'break' or two.

Benson Shoots 'double eagle'.

Playing with Wally Benson, over the Armour course in Minneapolis last week, Marvin Benson made a double eagle on the 448 yard par 5 9th hole, the first time that this feat had been accomplished on this particular hole. Marv's tee shot was 246 yards down the fairway, straight to the pin, and then taking a spoon, he sank the 202 yard shot for his double eagle.

Well, Marv Benson may have been making double eagles on the Armour course; but Lloyd Bennes certainly wasn't double eagling the local course last Sunday. Paired with Doc Borreson in a team match, Lloyd shot a 60 and a 52, for 112 stroke total for the 18 holes. The consensus seems to be that Lloyd should throw away those golf books of his, or at least not read them the Saturday night before a Sunday golf match. There's another consensus, too, and that is that Lloyd should keep the books and throw away the clubs.

All-Star Game

There should be a number of fans at the all-star game at Plummer Sunday, and they will see a game that will be a preview for the play-off series, for Plummer and Thief River will have the majority of their players in the game. The pitchers are to work but three innings each, and that means that Jesse DuChamp won't have to face Woody Almquist or Hemmy Sahl more than once each.

'Blurb' for Land O'Lakes

They lost to the Harts last Monday night, 7 to 1, but Walt Larson wants the fact made public that his team played errorless ball. He says it takes smart managing to get results like that.

PLUMMER DOWNS CCC TEAM 5-1 IN LAST LEAGUE TILT

Game Halted after Seventh Inning Because of Intense Heat

Playing before a small crowd, Plummer defeated the CCC team, 5 to 1, in a game played at Plummer Sunday, and by the win the Red Sox earned a share in the Northern Minnie baseball league championship. The intense heat handicapped the players on both teams, and it was necessary to abbreviate the game to a 7 inning affair.

Plummer next Sunday will be host to the 'All-star' game, with the league's northern division meeting the southern division.

WATER CARNIVAL IS SCHEDULED FOR SUNDAY, AUG. 18TH

Enlarged Program Is Being Arranged for Event, Says Elstad

Sunday, August 18th, is the date set for the water carnival sponsored by the city council and WPA recreation leaders. This event is a part of the recreation program and will be held at Tindolph Park, Ford Elstad, director, said today.

Present arrangements are incomplete and only tentative, but plans are being laid for a big and better carnival. Swimming and diving contests are being arranged for the event. Motor boat racing and other boat races are planned as part of the carnival. For the fishermen who missed the big ones, there will be a bait casting contest. Finals of the table tennis, croquet, and horseshoe tournaments will be included as a part of the carnival.

It is hoped that the services of some local music organization can be obtained to provide musical entertainment during the afternoon. There is a possibility of having a public address system on the grounds so that events, contestants, and winners can be announced.

MINNESOTA HISTORICAL SOCIETY

STATE FAIR WILL FEATURE 12 NEW FRUITS, PLANTS

Horticultural Show to Include Wide Variety of Products

Twelve new varieties of plants and vegetables including a new apple, plum, Bantam pear, and bush cucumber, will be exhibited for the first time in the horticultural display at the Minnesota State Fair, August 24 to September 2.

Perfected by University of Minnesota after years of painstaking crossbreeding and selection, the new varieties are developed for Minnesota weather and soil conditions, according to Prof. W. H. Alderman, chief of the division of horticulture, University of Minnesota.

The new varieties indicate Minnesota is well on its way as a leading fruit and vegetable area of the Northwest. The 1940 exhibits will include varieties that are especially adapted for the short growing season of Northern Minnesota.

Ready for distribution is the new Bantam pear, a small, but luscious green-fruited variety suitable for dessert or canning. For 25 years, this fruit has been developed for growth in the Northwest and combines for the first time a high quality dessert fruit that is highly resistant to severe cold and fire blight disease.

Also ready is the newly named Prairie Spie apple, a variety of unknown parentage, as is the Bantam pear. Records on these fruits were confused during the war years of 1917-18 when inexperienced help was necessary on the experimental farms. The new apple is crisp, nutty in flavor and an excellent keeper. It is suitable for eating or cooking.

Three new grape varieties will be shown. Two are dessert varieties developed from native wild stock and crossed with the large eastern red grapes. The third, is a vintage or jelly grape, developed from wild and blue varieties.

MARSHALL COUNTY HISTORICAL GROUP MEETS ON SUNDAY

Old Settlers Reunion Also to be Held on County Fair Grounds

A new type program with no formal addresses will feature the annual summer picnic of the Marshall County Historical Society and Old Settlers' association at the Fair Grounds in Warren Sunday, July 28, H. M. Hanson, picnic chairman, announced this week.

Headlining the afternoon's picnic will be the dedication of the historical marker which will be placed in Island Park in recognition of the late Charles Wentzel, Warren's first citizen, who settled on the banks of the Snake river near the park in June 1874. Nels M. Engen, Warren attorney, will give the historical background of Mr. Wentzel and will dedicate the marker in behalf of the society.

Two prominent state officials, both former residents of Warren, Julius J. Olson, associate justice of the Minnesota Supreme Court and Mike Holm, secretary of state, expect to return to Marshall county for the big picnic and will renew acquaintances with their many friends in the community. It is expected that both men will relate some of their early day experiences in Warren and Marshall county, said Mr. Hanson.

Rain is a wonderful invention!

a short time ago everyone you talked to whether farmer, business man or housewife had a tale of woe about the drouth.

the crops were being ruined—wheat, potatoes, beets, corn—everything had gone zowie because—there had been no rain.

now after a few down pours—look at the smiles on the faces of the people you meet—the happiness—and the confidence that rain has brought.

yesterday it looked tough. today we feel we're going to have a crop—some money to spend—money to pay the note at the bank—money with which to buy some of the things we have wanted—a new car perhaps—new fall outfits for ma and the girls—money with which to send jack and jill to the u.

the rain has done something else—it has saved the jobs of hundreds of employees—made them feel safe and secure in the knowledge that their pay checks are assured in the future.

you men on a salary are the back bone of our business, men who can handle small regular monthly payments on furniture, refrigerators, washers, pianos, radios and the thousand and one items we sell.

for you and for me—i am glad the rain has come—and i invite you to shop here at this old reliable store—well, to "see si before you buy" any thing for your home. get our prices. acquaint yourself with our easy payment plan—with the quality of merchandise we sell.

we're carload buyers. many of the lines we sell we also distribute to retailers. we are in a position, in consequence, to make prices that no one can beat.

here's a little good advice too. it pays to put all your purchases on one contract with one concern. it simplifies your budgeting and eliminates the trouble that often comes from having two, three or four contracts outstanding with as many different concerns.

come in—today—let's talk things over.

Dobermann Pinscher Dogs to Perform at County Fair Aug. 1, 2, 3

Willie Necker, internationally famous trainer of dogs, will bring his $20,000 group of Dobermann Pinchers to the Pennington county fair to perform twice daily before the grandstand, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, August 1, 2 and 3.

Ten thousand people at the Chicago Stadium showed their approval of Necker's act by a burst of applause seldom equalled in that great building. They knew they had seen something entirely new in dog training—they had seen beautiful, high-strung Dobermann Pinchers combine 'dog intelligence' and laughter in one of the smoothest, most appealing performances of this kind ever presented to the public.

These lithe, beautifully formed animals win admiration instantly. They are the finest of their breed, raised and trained by a man who has spent years, here and abroad specializing on this one type of dog.

"Tiger" valued at more than $5,000.00, can walk a wire, sit on the slender handle of a broom held high in the air, leap up and remove its master's cap, jump through an automobile tire without touching it with any part of its body, smoother and faster than these tricks have ever been done before by a canine.

HORSE IS STUCK IN MUD FOR TWO DAYS

Clarissa.—It took a block and tackle and a tractor to pull a horse out of the mud on the Fred Johnson farm, northwest of Clarissa. The horse was found mired in Eagle creek bottom. Only the head and back were showing above the mud. A difficult job, the men managed to get supports under the horse and pulled the animal out of the slough. Almost exhausted the horse is slowly recovering.

REP. R. T. BUCKLER FILES CANDIDACY FOR FOURTH TERM

Ninth District Congressman Announces He Will Seek Reelection

Seeking a fourth term, Congressman Richard Buckler, Crookston farmer and sole Farmer-Labor party member of the U. S. house of representatives, mailed his filing papers to the secretary of state office in St. Paul from Washington, D. C. on Monday of this week. A statement issued to the press at the time of filing follows:

"Because of the urgent and insistent requests of friends and liberals in my district, I have decided to again enter the race for Congress in the coming campaign.

"The next two years are going to be most critical years for our state and nation. As I view the situation, we are confronted with these and other important problems and great tasks, namely: to make this country strong in national defense so that no foreign nation or combination of nations will dare attack us; to keep out of war; to solve the "money question;" to advance the welfare of the farmers and workers and the small business man; to not only preserve, during this period of national emergency, the social gains we have made but even to expand them, and especially, in this connection, to provide a much more adequate old age pension; to open up job opportunities for the unemployed men and women and youth of America.

"I have supported "New Deal" legislation, whenever, in my opinion, I thought that it was in the interest of the common people to do so. I have pledged that under no circumstances would I vote to send American boys to fight on foreign battlefields. I reaffirm that pledge. Furthermore my efforts will continue to be directed toward keeping America at peace."

Large Hog Supply Now, But Smaller Crop, Seen, Says U Farm Economist

Supplies of hogs offered on the market will probably continue larger than 1939 marketings during the remainder of 1940, but the unfavorable ratio between corn and hog prices should result in smaller fall and spring pig crops during the coming year, says Ernest Baughman, extension assistant marketing economist, University Farm, St. Paul.

For the year ending with September, hog marketings will total about 48 million head as compared with less than 40 million last year, Baughman says. Storage holdings of both pork and lard are also above last year and above the 1934-1938 average.

War and its influence on exports is an important "unknown" as far as the future is concerned. Exports of both pork and lard fell off sharply during March after several months of strong export demand.

MODERNIZE YOUR MECHANIZED EQUIPMENT WITH CHEVROLET TRUCKS at today's low prices!

YOU KNOW THE LEADER IN TRUCK SALES MUST BE THE LEADER IN TRUCK VALUE

Truck buyers are careful buyers—they thoroughly analyze and compare all types of trucking equipment—they want to make certain that they'll get the make and type of truck best suited to their business requirements.

It is a significant fact that more truck users choose Chevrolet than any other make of truck . . . because Chevrolet trucks could not have established their record of leadership in 1940 and maintained it for six out of the last eight years had it not been that Chevrolet trucks deliver more dollar-for-dollar value than any other make.

All models and types of Chevrolet trucks may still be purchased at today's low price levels, so it would be wise to consider replacing some of your trucking equipment with new Chevrolets now.

TRUCK OWNERS WANT FACTS...CHEVROLET GIVES Certified Proof!

On the longest test run ever conducted under the supervision of the American Automobile Association, a stock Chevrolet 1½-ton truck turned in a marvelous performance and economy record. The facts of this test run are clearly outlined in an interesting booklet entitled "Says Who?" Roaming the ROUTES

—With Janney

The growing Times family of new subscribers was recently joined by the Dick Kolestrands, River Valley. "Old Dick" as Kolestrand prefers to be called was so impressed by the recent editorial, "Witch Burners" that he felt he couldn't be without the Times henceforth. He cut the article out and after reading it over many times feels he has digested its contents thoroughly. Mr. Kolestrand is one of the north country's best well-read men, as well as one of its deepest and most thorough thinkers. Even before you become acquainted with his mind one is drawn to his unusual face and its attributes. His beard trails down his face into a becoming point which gives character to his appearance. He is very proud of his hospitable wife and family which make a pleasant asset on his River Valley farm. A hint towards gaining his friendship—Don't agree with "Old Dick" all the time, he likes a bit of dissension to pepper things up a bit.

A farm which must bring memories to many of the citizenry is the William Ringer home. Many years ago this was the location of the Rhoda store and to this day is referred to the same. Not much trace is left of the small community with the exception of the old postoffice. The Ringers showed artistic keenness in the placement of their buildings. The low buildings are grouped to the south and west in even order. Then to the north the trees offer a likely windbreak. The house itself is set on the southernmost corner leaving a wide space for a well-kept yard, making it a jinty show place of just plain "Rhoda".

Have Fine Colt

During my constant roaming I've chanced to see many newly-born colts. But few of them can hold a candle to the new animal member on the Ed Van de Streek home, near St. Hilaire. This colt is of a buff color, which horse fanciers tell me is hard to find. The Van de Streeks have a large family and the latter take especial interest in the animal. They didn't know it was born until they noticed their band of cows acting funny in the pasture. Upon examination they found the cows as excited over the colt as they later became. The Van de Streeks are among the few Dutch families in this territory and were pleasantly surprised to read of another Dutch family mentioned in this column.

Sometimes one wonders if the beautiful, snaky, Red river means anything to the farmers whose farms border its banks. But I was reassured by Nels Burtness, east of Thief River who says, "The river means more to me than anything else on my farm. It seems to be a constant pleasure which is always there." The Burtness' are very proud of their gate, which proved to be a sliding one of "local color" invention. Their son John, when still at home devised it and it has been doing the trick ever since, though it does baffle strangers.

Near neighbors, the Carl Reiswengers, Sr. homesteaded this farm over thirty years ago. Their two sons live nearby, while Herman is at home farming. Mrs. Reiswenger is very firm in her opinions of papers. She claims that she never will change papers for papers such as the Times become such a habit and necessity, it is like losing a friend to be without or change them.

Building New Homes

Within two days on the same route I chanced upon farms that were building new houses. The first of these were Mrs. Olson and her son T. Miles. It is to be a five room bungalow, painted white, which will be completed soon. Mrs. Olson has planned on this for a long time and is becoming more thrilled daily as she sees its day of completion drawing nearer.

Further to the north the next new home under construction was that of Ole Kolbergs. They have it almost ready to move into. Like the Olson home it will assume a white hue, but is a bit larger having a huge attic which will be made into three bedrooms. The two Kolberg daughters, together with their lovely mother will take up the task undoubtedly of fixing the house up attractively.

The I. J. Wolds are the third possessor of a spacious, fine home in the future. Mr. Wold's brother, who built a large, handy barn three years ago, is in charge of building this house. As his allies he has the entire Wold family, boys and girls who are exceptionally handy with the hammer and nails. Though many of them have different jobs they spent their spare time putting a few touches to their new home. As a part of the old house had to be torn down to make way for the new structure their dining room is now under the trees. Perhaps they are the few people who can laugh and hope it won't rain to hurt their dining room, forgetting the crop situation for a moment. The Wold girls laughed and said their mother wouldn't let a person visit there and leave without having some lemonade in the "Wold Park", so they treated me generously.

Bees Bring Honey Home

The closest I've been to the ocean, this summer was sitting on the davenport in the G. B. Tveit home, east of Thief River, and hearing the murmur of the bee colony, which has inserted theirself under the boards of the house. The Tveits have tried to drive out the bees a few times, but have been unsuccessful. This fall they are going to take the honey which has been made in the spot. But for the time being the bees make a lulling sound, which the Tveits are unconscious of, having become accustomed to it.

Grows Danish Peas

A family well-known in Thief River are the August Johnsons. Mrs. Johnson who is of Danish blood, showed me a special variety of Danish peas she has grown ever since coming over from Denmark. They are much bigger, and sweeter than the local kind. Though an older lady she seemed such a joy to know, for her eyes sparkle, as she smiles and she talks so interestedly. Her two granddaughters who live with the Johnsons could scarcely find a happier home.

We've changed to simple silence
BY DON HEROLD

More and more families are changing from impolite, old refrigerators which grumble at their work to the modern, permanently silent, polite SERVEL ELECTROLUX which has no moving parts to wear and whimper for help.

A safe little flame simply keeps a harmless, sealed-in refrigerant in constant circulation—that's the whole secret of SERVEL ELECTROLUX operation.

Even families who live out beyond the gas mains may now revel in a SERVEL, because SERVEL now also

RUNS ON KEROSENE OR SKELGAS for a few cents a day

Whether you now have a drippy old drip of an ice box or any other kind of old or outmoded refrigerator, consider a shift to a smooth-going, modern-to-the-minute SERVEL. You get perfect food preservation (moist or dry—as you prefer), plentiful crops of ice cubes, delightful cold desserts—with no headaches from noise, and with continued low operating cost and real savings on upkeep.

GARNES YOUTH CHARGED WITH OKLEE SLAYING

NORMAN MOREVITSKA, 22, WAIVES HEARING

Said to Have Admitted Clubbing and Shooting Carl Parr Last Week

Norman Morevitska, 22, of Garnes township arraigned in justice court in Red Lake Falls Saturday waived hearing on a charge of first degree murder in connection with the killing Tuesday of last week of Carl E. Parr, 47, Fertile, piano turner.

The prisoner was arraigned before Justice V. M. Healy. He was taken back to the Red Lake county jail where he will remain pending a grand jury investigation of the case.

If he is indicted by the jury on evidence presented by Red Lake county officials, he will be held for trial in district court. Time of the next action in the case has not been determined, county Attorney Ralph E. Lee said.

Morevitska, confessed late Thursday night to the slaying of Parr, according to the Red Lake county attorney.

Robbery was his motive, he told officials, but he obtained only $4.

Parr's body was found in his pickup truck a half mile east of Oklee Tuesday morning, and authorities had been investigating the case since. Arrest of Morevitska, last man seen with Parr, followed at 8 p. m. Thursday.

Found at his home by Sheriff Carl Kankel and Deputy Thomas Toulouse and State Crime Bureau Agent Max Raines, Morevitska was brought to Red Lake Falls.

At first denying any connection with the crime, he broke down under grilling by County Attorney Lee and the other officers and confessed the slaying.

He told of meeting Parr in the Oklee municipal store Monday night and then luring the Fertile man to his farm home to get money, to go to Grand Forks for the rest of the evening.

He went into the darkened kitchen, he told the officers, grabbed a stick of wood, and felled Parr with one blow. Parr was able to climb back into his car, which was parked in the farmyard, but Morevitska, the officials said, took a .22-calibre rifle and shot Parr through the head.

Confused, Morevitska said he fled to the barn, waited 15 minutes and then went out to Parr's car and got in beside his victim. He drove it 10 miles, to the side-road a half mile east of Oklee, where it was found the next day.

Then, Morevitska told the authorities, he rifled Parr's pockets of the four dollars, walked back to Oklee, where he had left his own car, drove home and went to bed.

It was thought at first Parr suffered a fractured skull when his truck ran into a ditch.

It developed during a coroner's inquest, started Thursday and then adjourned, that a .22 calibre bullet had been found lodged in Parr's brain.

Morevitska is the son of Joseph Morevitska. His mother is dead and two of his brothers died in a drowning tragedy two years ago.

Parr is survived by his widow and seven children. Funeral services were held late Thursday at Fertile.

SPORTSMEN OF N. W. HEADED BY E. G. FORKS MAN

Harry Gregg Named President Here Monday to Succeed John Dokken

CONSERVATION CHIEF GIVES MAIN ADDRESS

Group Takes Stand on Issues, Adopting Series of Resolutions

A large majority of the twenty sportsmen's clubs affiliated with the Northwestern Minnesota Association of Conservation Clubs were represented at a well-attended annual meeting in the Thief River Falls Auditorium on Monday evening. In the course of the session officers were elected for the ensuing year, resolutions adopted and the members heard an address by Dr. W. L. Strunk, Minnesota commissioner of conservation.

Named to succeed John Dokken as president was Harry Gregg of East Grand Forks, long active in conservation affairs. William F. Zanche of Baudette was elected vice president, and Joe Brovski of East Grand Forks, secretary-treasurer.

Elected directors of the association from the various counties were George Foss, Kittson; Jack Manweiler, Lake of the Woods; Oscar Knutson, Marshall; Lewis A. Nelson, Pennington; J. C. Sherlock, Polk; Alfred Emard, Red Lake; and Joe Renowski, Roseau.

Resolutions adopted included urging the same season dates for upland game birds as for pheasants in other sections of the state, as a means of preventing an influx of hunters into one locality; urging cooperation of the state department in game propagation in the Beltrami Island area; asking that shooting of one deer of either sex, regardless of age, be permitted during the projected 1940 deer season; and urging the placing of authority for the opening and closing of hunting seasons in the hands of the commissioner of conservation.

Another resolution opposed trapping by agents of the state department in game refuges to remove excess fur-bearing animals. It was contended that under these conditions trapping in the areas should be permitted by licensed trappers under state supervision.

President Dokken, who was in charge of the meeting, first called on Mayor W. W. Prichard for an address of welcome, following which Dr. Strunk discussed some of the problems confronting the conservation department. He cited the "mess" in which he found affairs of the department on taking over his new duties six months ago, and said his aim is to put competent men in charge of the various divisions and to halt diversion of funds from their proper conservation function. In closing he solicited the cooperation of sportsmen in carrying out the department policies.

Others who spoke briefly were A. A. Trost of Warren, former president of the association; Harry Gregg, president-elect; and State Senator E. L. Tungseth. LeRoy Rupprecht supplied a well-received group of songs with guitar accompaniment.

BOY SCOUT TROOP ESCAPES HARM IN CASS LAKE STORM

Tornadic Wind Fells Trees on Scout Camp Grounds at Pike Bay

Twenty Thief River Falls Boy Scouts, returning Sunday from a week's sojourn at the Scout camp at Pike Bay, Cass Lake, had a memorable experience from which they fortunately escaped unscathed. They were camping among huge Norway pines when, early last Wednesday morning, a terrific gale developed, blowing down a large number of the giant pines on the camp grounds. Two trees fell across the building used for officers' quarters, crushing in the roof, but injuring no one, while two tents just vacated by Grand Forks Scouts who had fled to an adjoining building were knocked down by falling trees. At the time of the storm about half of the local Scouts were on an overnight hike on the other side of the lake, which escaped the brunt of the storm.

Pennington Fair Goes into Full Swing Today

ERNIE YOUNG REVUE IS EVENING OFFERING

Exhibit Space Crammed to Capacity with Varied Displays

With all exhibits in place and a full and varied program of entertainment features scheduled, the Pennington county fair goes ahead at full speed today and continues thru Friday and Saturday. Today is designated as Thief River Falls Day, while Friday afternoon, Farmers and 4-H Club Day, the fairboard will award a free tractor in the afternoon, with the presentation of a free automobile in front of the grandstand Saturday evening.

Ernie Young's "Continental Vanities" will be presented tonight, Friday and Saturday evenings, featuring a cast of more than forty singers and dancers in a revue with a western theme. In the afternoon of each day the offering will be Hoagian's Hippodrome, presenting a troupe of more than twenty educated horses and mules in chariot races, hurdle-jumping and other stunts, in addition to daredevil auto polo games.

Band music will be supplied this afternoon by the Thief River Falls municipal band, Friday afternoon and evening by the Greenbush band, and Saturday by the Lincoln high school band of Thief River Falls.

With entries pouring into the fair grounds late Wednesday afternoon, indications were that space in the exhibit buildings would be taxed to their capacity. Entries in the livestock, including horses, cattle of various breeds and sheep, as well as chickens, are well up to the standard of former years.

A feature of the interesting exhibit of the Pennington County Sportsmens club is the famous doe with her triplet fawns two months old, raised by Anton Budzinsowski of the Strandquist community. A bear also is attracting much attention.

The women's building is filled with an interesting array of home craft and school exhibits, in addition to a number of commercial displays. Oakland Park sanatorium again has a booth, as has the Middle River CCC camp 710. The flower display is especially attractive.

Despite threatening weather, a good-sized crowd turned out Wednesday evening for the WCCO Crossroads Party, a fast-moving show offering a variety of entertaining features, including Rollie Johnson and Clellan Card, Meebologists; Professor Wart, dialect comedian; the Piehal brothers, harmonica players; and a group of a half-dozen well-trained dancing girls.

ERNIE YOUNG WILL OFFER HIS REVUE 1ST TIME TONIGHT

"Continental Vanities" to be Grandstand Feature Three Nights

The latest Ernie Young revue, "Continental Vanities", will be given its first showing in front of the grandstand at the Pennington county fair this evening, with later performances slated for Friday and Saturday nights.

The scene is that of a typical dude ranch in Wyoming, with all the appurtenances and effects for proper atmosphere. Ted Cook, long a favorite in Broadway musical comedies, has the important and fun-making role of the 'singing foreman' who greets the guests on their arrival at the ranch. At this point Ted briefly unfolds the story in song and dialogue. He is assisted by such capable artists as Louise Terry, who sells her songs with superb showmanship, and Art Manning, a comedian of no mean ability.

Discovering that the assembled guests are all extremely talented performers from the varied branches of the show-world, the versatile Ted Cook hits on the idea of 'cooking up a show'. From then on, until the late note of music in a rousing finale, the vacationing show folk put on a full-length musical that sparkles with good fun and youthful beauty.

"Continental Vanities" is in five acts, or ensembles, with a wealth of multi-colored costumes, many new tricks in lighting and appropriate specialties.

One of the falling trees struck a corner of the cottage, causing slight damage to the structure, while another crushed the Carlisle coupe parked in the yard, Mr. Carlisle reported after visiting the scene Thursday.

Water Enters Many Basements During Heaviest Rain of the Season

A total of 1.95 inches was recorded on the power plant rain gauge, while the Thief River Seed House gauge showed a fraction more than two inches.

The rain, beginning at 1 a. m., came in such torrents along toward 5 o'clock in the morning that the water backed up over the curb in several places in the downtown district and entered numerous basements thruout the city.

Water backed up thru the floor drain in the band room in Lincoln high school, and caused some damage to snare drums and instrument cases. Water also entered the craft shop in the basement of the arena.

A brilliant electrical display accompanied Sunday's storm, and a bolt struck the L. H. Harts home, inflicting slight damage, Mr. and Mrs. Harts being away from the city at the time. A bathroom switch was burned out, and a few shingles were knocked off the roof.

Gold, tungsten and other precious metals are "cleaned" today from sands that had been abandoned as worthless. A "dry cleaning" process that separates tiny particles of ore according to their atomic weights is being used where cyanide and oil flotation processes are uneconomic because of transportation and water costs. The new method was evolved by a New Orleans man from a machine he had devised to separate weevils from rice.—Popular Mechanics.

Tenderizing Steak

Instead of pounding a piece of tough steak to make it tender, you may soon be able to make the toughest cut off the bottom as succulent as tenderloin by subjecting it to the action of ultra-violet rays. This method, recently developed at the Mellon Institute of Industrial Research after three years of study, involves also subjecting the meat to temperatures between 60 and 65 degrees Fahrenheit.

Science Endangers Miners

Danger in mines has been increased by science, declares M. Petrus Faure, French deputy, in a survey of mine accidents issued in Paris. "Before mines were mechanized," he writes, "the noise of cracking gave warning of danger. But today the noise of mechanical drills and picks, running belts and locomotives robs the miner of all security."

Singing for Health Urged

Singing as a health restorer, especially for those having high blood pressure, is being recommended by Dr. M. Diehle, a medical expert of Berlin. When he examined 83 professional singers and found that no one had high blood pressure he concluded that singing prevents and relieves the ailment. Continuing his experiments with patients in several of Berlin's leading hospitals, he put sufferers from high blood pressure on a "diet of song," varying the diet, according to the condition of the patient.

Lobster a la Shangri-La

According to the Soviet Academy of Science, a small variety of lobsters born thousands of years ago have been revived and are today pursuing a normal existence. The immortal crustaceans were found buried under the surface of a region of eternal snow in the Siberian peat fields, 15 to 20 feet beneath the ground. Some of the lobsters, since their revival, have given birth to a new generation.

Bright Paint Cools Radiator

Bright paint on radiators, like aluminum or gold, cuts down the heat by a large percentage. It acts like a mirror and reflects heat; the reflection is back into the radiator. This applies to all the radiant heat given off, which is about 25 to 30 per cent of all the warmth of the radiator.

Way Down Yonder

Traveling in America as late as 1854 was an adventure. The trip from Baltimore to New Orleans required the use of five railroads, two steamboats and two stage coaches. The elapsed traveling time was about seven days and a ticket cost $62.90. Today the same trip by rail costs $17.75 and the required time is a little less than 33 hours.

Growing With Your Child

Institute of Child Welfare, University of Minnesota

"Why Do Children Daydream?

"Jennie! I've called you twice! Why do you sit there daydreaming? Imagine! A girl of your age sitting around the house. Why in the world aren't you out playing tennis?"

As a matter of fact, Jennie isn't "sitting around the house!" No, her day dream has transported her far away from the unpleasant circumstances of her own life. A new girl has struck up an intimacy with Jennie's one chum, and Jennie is lost in dreams of how she would like to be so attractive that it would be she the newcomer would immediately pick out. Why do children daydream? To get away from where they really are! To imagine a more favorable set of circumstances than the one in which they find themselves caught!

Sometimes a child needs, by way of the daydream, to get away where he can plan something that he wants to accomplish. When a daydream is the starting point of real accomplishment, it is constructive and useful. But when it is a means of escape from uncomfortable surroundings, a child is building castles that are more pleasant to live in than his real world, it represents a maladjustment, and needs attention.

Of course everyone daydreams more or less. When one is bored, when the attention has been forced too long in one direction, the mind simply takes things into its own hands, and lets us drift away. But a chronic daydreamer should be studied carefully, to see whether he is using his daydream to keep him from having to tackle his real problems.

If a child is frustrated at every turn, he may try to build up for himself a setting in which he can do the things he wants to, instead of the things that are expected of him. Thus, if parents are continually nagging a child to live up to their expectations, whether it be with respect to table manners, behavior with companions, or amount of studying, the child may let his mind wander in fields where he hears very different words than those that have become so deadly familiar.

Again, if a child feels inferior to other children, feels unwanted or left out, he may retreat to play with a group of imaginary children who look up to, admire and love him. If he is without suitable playmates, he may have to create companions of his own, who give in to him, and let him have his way.

A child who is bored at school may acquire habits of daydreaming that seriously interfere with good study habits. For this reason it is often unwise to leave a child in a group of children among whom he has to make no effort. Unless he has a very alert teacher, he may turn away from his books to the more interesting things in his daydreams. Of course such a child may turn into a mischievous disturber of the school room, but this is less likely. A teacher doesn't usually object as strenuously to day-dreaming as she does to a noisy, active child.

Instead of trying to make a child stop daydreaming, look for the cause. If that is removed, the tendency to the dreamy behavior will probably also disappear. It is putting the cart before the horse to assume that a child can immediately put an end to something that has grown up as an unconscious way out of some unsatisfactory situation.

Supply of Vitamin B Is Important to Health

Some of the aches and pains which have been chasing themselves up and down the physical framework of human beings for many years might disappear if people paid more attention to the amount of vitamin B they are getting.

To be more specific, it's really vitamin B-one, called thiamin, which is causing so much discussion in nutrition circles these days, says Miss Julia Outhouse, professor of nutrition at the University of Illinois. This elusive-sounding substance is found most prominently in whole-grain cereals, so it might behoove more people to see that they have whole wheat bread, or oatmeal, or graham muffins for breakfast. Vegetables and fruit contribute somewhat to the vitamin B-one supply, as do nuts and legumes and pork.

While eating vitamin B-one in generous amounts does not absolutely guarantee that one's individual ailment will disappear, still physicians have proved that certain types of neuritis are due to a lack of the substance. Two examples are the neuritis of pregnancy and the neuritis of chronic alcoholism. Pains and numbness accompanying several diseases have been dramatically relieved within a few days by this B-one. Furthermore, doctors believe that the pain, numbness and muscle weakness which accompany many diseases are merely variations with one cause—lack of thiamin.

All physical difficulties, of course, cannot be attributed to one specific source, but it might be a good idea for people who feel "all dragged out" and incapable of a full day's work to see if they haven't been getting a "little too little" of vitamin B-one, says the nutrition authority.

Thiamin-deficient persons often are the victims of such digestive disturbances as ulcers, constipation, loss of tone of the digestive tract and lack of appetite. Authorities, also, are finding that there seems to be a close relationship between lack of thiamin in the diet and the ailment edema, and also between lack of thiamin and heart disease.

Well-Trained 'Wolf' Dogs Assist Jugoslavia Police

Ferocious but well-trained dogs make efficient criminal catchers on the regular police force of Jugoslavia. Mostly Alsatian wolf dogs, although other breeds are also used, these animals are taught to give instant obedience to a word from their trainers.

Never barking except on order, retaining their poise in emergency, the Jugoslav police dogs are especially drilled in tracking down fugitives by scent, in high jumping, and in keeping out of the way of unexpected shots. They are as gentle as kittens to their masters and their friends, but sudden death in attack on an enemy. In one police museum of Jugoslavia are dramatic souvenirs of criminal hunts in which the police dogs played leading roles.

Such trophies include masks used by bandits, arms, and other objects reminiscent of the exhibit on display in the Washington, D. C., headquarters of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, and dramatizing the exploits of the "G-Men" against American gangsters, according to the National Geographic society.

Weather May Influence Asthma

The popular belief that weather affects the severity of asthma has recently received experimental confirmation by studies on laboratory animals, according to the Journal of the American Medical Association. Symptoms identical with those of human asthma were produced in guinea pigs by allowing the animals to breathe "vaporized antigens," i. e. invisible sprays of foreign proteins. The animals were then subjected to various artificially produced weather conditions. Although it was found that the "vapor" asthma is not dependent on such factors as temperature, humidity or atmospheric pressure as long as these remain constant on the day of the experiment, rapid changes in the weather conditions resulted in increasing the average severity of the process by about 50 per cent.

Color-Changing Amphibian

The olm, or proteus, is a blind, water-breathing tailed amphibian living in the limestone caves east of the Adriatic sea. If caught and exposed to white light, its skin is blackened, even over the eyes. But if kept in red light, no blackening of its skin occurs and the eyes become large and able to see. The olm, like the Mexican axolotl, is what scientists call a larval creature—the "forgotten" man of the animal kingdom. Amphibians, like frogs, have an intermediate stage of development before taking on their adult form. The frog, explains the Better Vision Institute, is first egg, then tadpole, and finally frog. The olm never got beyond the second, or larval, stage.

First Venetian Blinds

As long ago as the Eighteenth century Venetian blinds were being made in the West Indies by a ship wrecked Frenchman. Owing to the name he gave them, it is surmised that the idea was not original but was an adaptation of some blinds which he had observed in Venice. In the United States they have been manufactured since 1876.

RULES FOR FARM STORAGE OF GRAIN IN COUNTY GIVEN

Loan Rates for Wheat and Rye Are Same as in 1939, Says Chairman

Wheat, rye and barley producers in Pennington County planning to obtain a government loan on these grains should check their storage facilities at once, according to Carl R. Anderson, chairman of the County AAA committee.

"Only grain stored in a bin or granary that meets with government specifications will be eligible for the loan, Mr. Anderson warned, in urging farmers to find out about storage requirements from the county office at the earliest possible time.

The Commodity Credit Corporation will pay a storage allowance of 7 cents a bushel to farmers storing rye and wheat on the farm if the grain is delivered to the corporation in payment of the loan at time of maturity. No storage charge will be paid for barley.

Loans will be made on rye and barley only when it is stored on the farm. Wheat can be stored either on the farm or in eligible local elevators.

Loan rates for wheat and rye are the same as in 1939. The rates for Pennington County are: Wheat No. 1-DNS, 73c; Rye No. 2, 38c. The loan rate for barley is 25c for No. 1. Lower rates apply on lower grades of wheat and barley. Only one loan rate applies to rye.

Doctors Issue Hints to Avoid Prostration in Hot Summer Days

Take it easy. Eat lightly with vegetables, fruit and milk taking first place in your diet. Drink lots of water and add some extra salt to your rations. Wear light weight, light colored clothes minus tight belts and girdles.

These are the main points in the hot weather program recommended by the Minnesota State Medical association's committee on public health education issued today.

Heat prostrations are usually caused chiefly by excessive heat plus loss of large amounts of body fluid and salt through excessive perspiration. As much as two gallons may be lost in perspiration on a hot dry day; and since perspiration contains from 0.1 to 0.5 per cent salt a total of 10 grams of salt may be lost if you get hot and dry enough.

The remedy is to drink more water than usual and to eat more salt. To replace the salt loss, a teaspoon of salt can be added to a gallon of drinking water or you may take 10 or 15 grain salt tablets which can be purchased in any drug store if you wish, the bulletin says. These tablets should be taken at frequent intervals during the day. Many industrial plants make use of both methods to safeguard their workers during hot spells.

STASSEN, FILING FOR REELECTION, OUTLINES PLANS

Governor Reviews Achievements of the Present Administration

Filing for reelection as governor of Minnesota Tuesday, Governor Harold E. Stassen reviewed accomplishments of the state administration during the past two years and outlined a program for further improvements.

High points in the program the governor advanced include proposals to cut the taxes on real estate, reduce state debt, complete reorganization of the state government and encourage the development of jobs in private employment. His statement, in part, follows:

"In filing for a second term as your Governor, I wish to express my appreciation of the strong support and cooperation of the people of Minnesota, and of the public officials legislators and employees of the state.

"Working together, under our Republican Administration, in less than two years time, we have kept our promises and have made this record of accomplishment:

"We have cleaned out widespread corruption and waste, convicted wrong-doers, collected back illegal payments of state money, and installed integrity and efficiency in your state Capitol.

"We have in large measure ended violence, bitterness, strike, lockouts and loss of wages and substituted peaceful settlements and steady wages.

"We have changed debts and deficits to a balanced budget and a sound financial position improved to the extent of 18 million dollars and spent less money at the capitol.

Over 20,000 men and women who were unemployed have secured real jobs in private employment and private payrolls have increased 40 million dollars.

"The intolerant supporters of either Communism, Fascism or Nazism are no longer incited and encouraged from the Capitol, but instead we are building a united people, strong and loyal in their support of the great fundamental principels of this nation."

Caution Is Advised When Driving Near War Maneuver Area

A warning to avoid possible traffic accidents and inconvenience in and on roads approaching the half-million acre military maneuver area in Mille Lacs, Morrison and Crow Wing counties was directed to motorists today by Elden Rowe, chief of the Minnesota Highway Patrol and Governor Harold E. Stassen's personal representative in charge of traffic control during the maneuver period.

"More than 50,000 National Guard and regular U. S. Army men, with full equipment, will be in this area during the entire month," said Mr. Rowe, "and motorists who will have occasion to travel on highways in this 'combat zone' during this time are reminded of the hazards presented by the concentration of the troops."

Mechanized and infantry troops will be required to cross roads and highways while carrying out their military assignments, he said, while other highways will serve as communication and supply lines. To prevent any unnecessary accidents, it is suggested that motorists exercise especial caution and alertness on the following trunk highways in or leading to the maneuver area: T. H. 25, 10, 371, 218, 27, 115 18 and 169.

Large warning signs, urging motorists to "Look Out for Troop Movements", are being placed on highways at the boundaries of the combat area, giving ample warning to the travelling public.

Wool From Whale Meat

Plans are reported under way for the manufacture of artificial wool from whales, according to a process perfected by a scientist in Japan. Tokyo has learned that the process consists of reducing the whale meat to a viscid mass, which is forced through small holes and spun into a thread. The fiber floats in water and is said to have considerable strength. The new wool is expected to compete with that made in America and Italy from the casein in milk.

Meteorite Nursed

To save what remains of an iron meteorite which fell near Melbourne, Australia, many years ago, it has been placed in an air-tight case in which the atmosphere contains only nitrogen. The gas was pumped in at a pressure equal to a wind blowing at 45 miles an hour against the sides of the enclosure. With the nickel iron of the fragment is a chloride of iron which rusts readily. The rusting splits up the meteorite to such an extent that in its 70 years stay at the Melbourne museum it has lost more than 600 pounds.

Approximately $1,440,000,000, or $11.21 for each man, woman and child in the country, is spent annually in America at soda fountains for soda-water drinks and light lunches, a recent survey discloses.

NEW QUICK WAY TO PREPARE
Fried Chicken

Crisp golden crust outside, so tender and juicy inside

● Bring on a platter of this Crisp-coated Fried Chicken and see the welcome it gets. And when your family taste it, they'll be still more delighted. For chicken fried this way is meltingly tender and wonderfully juicy, with a crisp, golden, delicate-tasting crust.

And there's no need for smoke or unpleasant odor when you deep-fry. New, purer ALL-vegetable Spry stays sweet and fresh through repeated fryings, and can be used over and over—simply strain out food particles. Why not have this fried chicken tonight? It's a real treat and so much easier and quicker—so much juicier, too, than chicken fried by the usual recipe.

Crisp-coated Fried Chicken

3-pound frying chicken, cut in serving pieces
1 cup buttermilk
1 cup flour
1½ teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon pepper

Dip pieces of chicken in buttermilk and drain thoroughly. Combine flour, salt and pepper in paper bag. Place one piece of chicken at a time in bag and shake well to coat evenly with flour. Fry chicken in deep hot Spry (new ALL-vegetable shortening) at 375°F. until brown and crisp on both sides (about 7 minutes). Serves 4.

(All measurements in this recipe are level.)

Pedestrians Who Flout Highway Regulations to be Arrested from Now on

Citing that 20 more people were killed in traffic in Minnesota during the first half of 1940 than during the same period last year, and that this increase is more than accounted for by an increase of 27 in pedestrian deaths, Elden Rowe, chief of the state highway patrol, has issued instructions to Highway patrolmen encouraging them to arrest pedestrians who deliberately endanger their own lives by improper and illegal walking habits.

Chief Rowe directed his instructions specifically against those pedestrians who invite tragedy by walking on the wrong side of the highway and those pedestrians who venture out on a highway under the influence of intoxicating liquor.

Although a majority of pedestrian fatalities occurred in municipalities, especially in the larger cities of Minneapolis, St. Paul and Duluth, Chief Rowe pointed out that there have been 21 pedestrian traffic deaths on rural trunk highways policed by Highway patrolmen as compared to 10 for the same period of 1939.

Patrons of REA Lines Use Many Appliances

Nearly nine out of ten farm homes on REA-financed electric lines have radios, more than eight in ten have electric irons, more than half have electric washing machines, and nearly a third have electric refrigerators, according to REA's third annual utilization survey, just made public by Administrator Harry Slattery. The survey, which shows the extent of use of various electrical appliances on newly electrified farms, is based on questionnaires returned by 43,000 families served by 82 REA-financed systems in 27 States. While the systems have been in operation for periods ranging from six months to a little over four years, Mr. Slattery said, the average length of service for consumers reporting is 13.6 months.

ENRIGHT COLLECTS!

Preston,—In September, 1938, two brood sows were stolen from Jack Enright of Irish Ridge, and investigation failed to disclose the thieves. It was only recently that Deputy Sheriff Al Morem happened onto a piece of information concerning the three-year old theft, and upon following up the clue obtained a confession from one of the two parties who stole the sows. As a result, Enright collected for a three-year old theft.

RECREATION HIGHLIGHTS

Tindolph Pool

Swimmers and divers are coming in great numbers to take advantage of the instruction offered daily in these two activities. Most of these participants are getting ready for the competition to be to be held at the water carnival Sunday, August 18th. Leaders in charge of the instruction report that all those who have enrolled are making satisfactory progress. The leaders are interested in receiving the names of new applicants for this instruction. The more taking the instruction now, the greater the number there will be entered in the carnival competition. Everyone is welcome to come and take lessons.

Playgrounds

Things are humming at Eastside and Tindolph playgrounds these days with tournaments only a few days off for the various activities held at these places. Numerous participants are "warming up" for the tennis, table tennis, croquet and horsehoe tournaments. These tourneys start the first of next week and continue on through Saturday. Finals in all events except tennis will be run off at Tindolph in connection with the water carnival.

Craft Shop

The shop has taken on characteristics of a lake bottom as a result of recent rains. The leader in charge seems to think that all the water from through out the city worked its way into the shop.

The best course that could be offered at present is making mud pies, but there is no qualified leader available for that instruction. However, men have been working on the problem and have remedied the trouble. Activities are schedule as usual.

Puppet Theatre

Because of the fair this week, there will be no show. There will be one next week for those interested in watching these fine performances. Other work will continue as usual.

Miscellaneous

No softball game this week, but plenty on schedule for next week. Come out and see the games. Get into the tournament competition for the sake of fun. REMEMBER: Water Carnival, Sunday, August 18th.

Wardens Patrol Average of 650 Square Miles

Don't blame the warden if you never meet him in the field. The poor man has an average of 650 square miles to patrol. The Department of Conservation released figures showing there are 130 assigned wardens from 54,000,000 acres or 84,682 square miles. That is 650 square miles apiece—not to mention 11,007 lakes and some 25,000 miles of streams and waterways.

REGISTRATION OF YOUTHS FOR WORK IN DEFENSE PLAN

Applications Being Taken at Local NYA Resident Center

First effect, locally, of the National defense program came this week when it was announced that the division of employment and security and the National Youth Arministration has completed a cooperative arrangement to register, under revised regulations, young men who are interested in NYA work in the defense training program.

Registration for the Pennington County area will be at the NYA resident center at Thief River Falls which is in charge of Wendell Christopherson. The office is open during regular business hours.

As the registration gets under way, major changes have been made in certification procedures in anticipation of the part NYA will play in the defense program.

Eligibility for NYA employment now is broadly interpreted as the need of employment, work experience or training. Heretofore "need of relief" has been the controlling factor. To be eligible to register, individuals must be between the ages of 18 and 25 inclusive, be citizens of the United States and unemployed. Youths attending high-school or college during the regular school year, are not eligible. Individuals receiving unemployment compensation benefits also are ineligible.

Mrs. Roy Halseth of Grand Forks Dies in Local Sanatorium

Mrs. Roy Halseth of Grand Forks, formerly of this city, passed away Saturday in Oakland Park sanatorium, where she had been a patient the past month.

Mrs. Halseth, the former Verna Irene McMahon, spent most of her early youth in Thief River Falls, coming here with her parents at the age of two years from Glaston, N. D., where she was born Dec. 27, 1895. She grew to young womanhood in Thief River Falls and was married here on March 28, 1916, to Roy Halseth. In 1922 they moved to Goodridge, and in 1925 to Detroit, Mich. In the following year they went to Grand Forks, later moving to Farwell, Minnesota, and returning to Grand Forks in 1936.

Her husband and one daughter Ardith of Grand Forks survive her death, as do her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam McMahon of Angus; three sisters, Mrs. Severin Nelson of Thief River Falls, Mrs. H. H. Dickey of Des Plaines, Ill., Miss Ina McMahon, also of Des Plaines; and two brothers, Lionel McMahon and Ira McMahon, both of Angus. One sister, Mrs. Otto Johnson, preceded her in death.

Funeral rites were held Tuesday afternoon from the chapel of the Larson Funeral home and interment was in Greenwood cemetery. Rev. S. S. Olafson of this city officiated.

1800 PRESENT AT PIONEER REUNION HELD IN WARREN

Julius Olson and Mike Holm Deliver Addresses Last Sunday

Signal honors were paid to the late Charles Wentzel, Warren's first settler and home builder, at a fitting dedication program at the Marshall County Fairgrounds Sunday afternoon when a crowd estimated at 1800 people gathered for the annual summer joint picnic of the Marshall County Historical Society and Marshall-Kittson County Old Settlers association.

The early Sunday morning deluge of rain which measured 2.60 inches in Warren followed by overcast skies and sultry air greatly curtailed the expected record crowds at the annual picnic. The grandstand which has a seating capacity of 2500 people was about three-quarters filled during the program.

Julius J. Olson, former Warren resident and now associate justice of the Minnesota Supreme Court and Mike Holm, also an early day Warren resident and now Minnesota Secretary of State, were also honor guests of the historical society during the picnic.

He is survived by two sons Carl and Albert, both of Grygla, and two daughters, Mrs. Carl Young of Grand Forks, and Mrs. Ed Engelstad of Gatzke; also four sisters, Mrs. Pete Rustad of Amherst Junction, Wisc., Mrs. Andrew Mellem and Mrs. Ole Kinsmoe, both of McCluskey, N. We aren't feeling any too well this morning. There are some shocks that a person simply can't stand. We had almost got to town on our way to the office when we saw a driver signal for a left turn.

Hoff (Himself)

We're going to report our findings to an archeologist friend of ours. He has been saying that the left - turn - signaller is extinct.

Insults can be delivered with a great deal of artistry. For example, the other evening we overheard a couple of young ladies speaking. One of them said:

"Well, if he isn't an insect, at least he ought to be careful around flit!"

They have discovered pigmies in South America who can't count beyond six.

JOB OFFICE ASKS REGISTRATION OF DEFENSE WORKERS

Christgau Expects Demand for Many Skilled Artisans

Skilled workers of Minnesota now employed on semi-skilled or unskilled jobs, are urged to register at the local office of the division of employment and security for work in the national defense program. A request was made last week by Victor Christgau, division director, just before he and L. B. Ryan, assistant director, left for Washington to attend a conference of employment service administrators as to the part those agencies are to play in the national defense program.

Employers are asked to advise local offices of the division as to their immediate, as well as prospective, worker requirements and not to solicit competitively nor recruit workers outside their immediate locality until the Division has been given an opportunity to meet such requirements locally, through its intercity and interstate clearance machinery.

Classifications in which there is likely to be an immediate demand, Mr. Christgau said, are: die makers, precision machinists, sheet metal workers, millwrights, draftsmen, ship fitters, boiler makers, riveters, electric welders, constructural designers, drill runners, assemblers, foundry workers, core makers, erectors, gauge makers, grinders, lay-out men, wood workers, drill press operators and lathe operators. This list, Mr. Christgau added, is not all-inclusive but indicates the type of workers whose registration is desired.

HISTORICAL TOUR PLANS ANNOUNCED

Plans for the Minnesota Historical society's eighteenth summer tour and convention, which will have for its objective the iron-mining towns of the Mesabi range, have been announced by Arthur J. Larsen, superintendent. The tour will leave the Twin Cities on Friday, August 9, will visit Garrison, Hibbing, Mountain Iron, and Lake Vermilion, and will return to the Twin Cities on Sunday, August 11.

A Straphanging Nation

Americans took 12,863,000,000 rides on trolley cars, subway trains, and buses in 1938, according to the Transit Journal. This equals 97 rides each for every man, woman and child in the country.

Physicians Recommend Care to Guard Against Serious Burns from Sun

People who take a deep chocolate hue under the summer sun may be admired; but they get less solid benefit from the sun's rays, than the people who burn often and never acquire anything but bright pink as a vacation color.

This consolation is offered to blondes today by the Minnesota State Medical association's committee on public health education because blondes and others who burn readily are likely to imagine that they get no benefit at all because they do not tan.

The fact is, according to the doctors, that tan is a protection pigment of the skin which, if it becomes deep enough, entirely prevents the entry of the ultra-violet rays.

Mothers of youngsters who tan readily are especially warned by the doctors in this bulletin to keep that fact in mind. The child who is deeply tanned needs cod liver oil, or equivalents containing vitamin D earlier in the fall than the light, thin skinned child who is out in the sun but never acquires what looks like "a healthy tan."

Everybody should remember, also, the bulletin says, that excessive sunburn is as serious as any other kind of burn and should be avoided.

We hear many conflicting reports on crop conditions in this territory and in spite of the fact they conflict they nevertheless may all be true. Much of the crop is good and much of it is bad. Under favorable conditions from here on in it should average up fairly well.

Since June 18 there have been 153 civilians killed in the air raids on Britain. During that same period 479 Britishers lost their lives in auto accidents. While this was going on in England, 3,000 citizens of our peaceful and happy land were killed by automobiles.

During the past eight years we have said some unkind things about our dear President. Occasionally we have agreed with him. Many of his theories have been admirable. Some of his promises have been excellent. He has been one of the most promising presidents we have ever had. His practices have annoyed us consistently, however, hence a few of the many unkind things we have thought of him have found expression. We are sorry for this, so sorry that we are now glad it is going to be possible for us to favor him in a small way. Mr. Roosevelt has said that nothing would please him more than to be able to retire to private life after January first. We certainly will do our bit to make this wish come true.

Germany is placing orders for South American agricultural products for delivery this fall and is in turn guaranteeing delivery of German industrial products in October. These gestures are considered by most observers to be a part of the propaganda program to break down pro-British support. If he is to succeed in making good such boasts Hitler must crack the British blockade during the next few weeks. This must mean that the supreme effort is near at hand. Necessity probably compels the Nazi leader to take a desperate chance. He has huge supplies of munitions but his people cannot eat planes and tanks. The winter will bring a food shortage. That food is becoming scarce on the European continent is indicated by the steps already taken. Because of a shortage of feed the hog population of Denmark is being reduced by a third. Similar action is being taken in other conquered countries according to reliable reports. If the war is to be won it must be won fast. That should mean that we will not have to wait long now for the big show to start.

Europe needs food. North America has food to sell. South America has food to sell. Europe has no money but has machines to sell. North America manufactures its own machines. South America needs machines and will buy them in exchange for agricultural products. South America and Europe are natural customers of each other. Our country is nearly self sufficient. We need a few items from the rest of the world, tropical fruits, rubber, tea and coffee. But there is little that we need to buy from other countries. So, in the nature of things, there is little we can hope to sell to other countries. That picture is not necessarily discouraging. We have the best market in the world right here at home. Here we have forty-eight countries doing business with each other on a natural exchange basis, without tariffs to worry about. Then why all this fuss and worry about our foreign trade. At its peak our foreign trade was never more than a small fraction of our total business. If we lost all of it we still would be able to get along nicely—if we managed our own internal affairs properly. To buy a volume of foreign trade by extending credit that will never be repaid is sheer folly.

Yes, there are no horse races at the fair this year, but if you are a horse race fan do not be too severe with the fair management for making such a revolutionary departure from time honored custom. This year's program is an experiment, justified by the fact that in recent years attendance at the horse races has steadily decreased. This in spite of the fact that every effort has been made to revive interest in them. Liberal purses have assured good races and a professional starter, the best available, has been hired to make them interesting. Still the afternoon gate receipts fell off. And that is why something different is being tried this year. A strong program is being presented each afternoon that should please the customers. If the customers like it all is swell. If not no one is hurt very much. In making the change this year the management is merely trying to give fair patrons an afternoon program that will please more people.

WE CAN'T CURE TROUBLE WITH MORE TROUBLE

(Morris Tribune)

We may be provincial, but here in the agricultural Northwest, we have little more interest in defending South America than we have in the Philippines. The latter are competitors of ours in supplying vegetable oils and sugar, and southeastern South America are competitors of ours in supplying wheat, beef and flax.

It's all a big question, with military defense and economic defense more or less loosely mixed up in the situation. It is by no means certain that it is necessary to undertake either the military or economic defense of the entire Western Hemisphere, and yet that is just the thing that the present national policy is headed towards—and we may be undertaking too much.

The present national policy now in the making is to set up an economic coalition in this hemisphere as a defense against the economic empire which Hitler will set up in Europe and Japan will set up in the Orient. Each group will aim to be self-sufficient, and the group in this hemisphere could perhaps be self-sufficient more easily than any other, but this group will be made up of independent nations each with their own policies, and not to be compared with the other groups headed by a dictator nation.

Already our own nation is confronted with the problem of a surplus of farm products, and if we attempt to set up a group in this hemisphere and include nations of South America which are also facing a surplus of farm products, we are just adding to our trouble.

The Nazis have already secured a considerable economic interest in some countries of South America. They desire to exchange their manufactured goods for surplus food produced in those countries. That is a natural exchange. For the United States to attempt to dictate that this food should not be sold to the Nazis and that the South Americans shall not buy manufactured goods from Germany not only aggravates one of our domestic problems but savors of an economic dictatorship which would be a strain on friendly relations that might lead to military trouble.

Of course, this whole question of military and economic defense of this hemisphere is a big one, towards the solution of which a great deal of careful thought should be given. The proposals that are being made, however, would seem to indicate that the American farmer should be on his guard against being used as a mere pawn in the game.

THE TEST OF NATIONAL ABILITY

(Montevideo News)

Statements made in the Land O' Lakes News on the subject of national defense get attention. It is the paper published by and for the farmers who are members of Land O' Lakes Creameries. The reader may not like some of the things said; like them or not, he will find them challenging. As in these paragraphs:

> The real test of our ability to prepare will be focused around the question of whether we can rid ourselves of the complex that American people can have the highest standard of living in the world and at the same time make the greatest preparedness for all emergencies with the least individual effort.
> The test of our ability to prepare and protect ourselves is going to rest squarely upon our ability to snap out of our present complex—that social gains and security rest upon doing less, for which we are being paid more.
> America has already lost a lot of that industrious aggressiveness that made it a great nation. Regardless of whether we are preparing for war in the sense of military action or for the economic war that is bound to follow the settlement of the present conflict, we are going to have to correct our present trend of thought and action and realize that the security of our individual and national liberty rests entirely upon our ability to use our minds and the hands that God gave us to economically create and distribute the fruits of the great resources of the land we are fortunate enough to be living in.
> Our preparedness does not rest upon our ability to raise taxes and borrow money—it rests upon our ability to put ourselves back to work, in that way getting a dollar's worth of service and consideration for every dollar we spend in the production of foods and materials for the manufacture of defense equipment.

A PROBLEM IN EARNINGS

(Louisville Courier-Journal)

Seabiscuit, a horse, earned in five years $437,730, an annual average of $87,546.

Greta Garbo, the Swede who finally learned to laugh, earned in 14½ years $4,600,000, an average of $317,241.

Babe Ruth, the old Bambino, earned in 21 years one million dollars, an average of $47,619.

Franklin Delano Roosevelt, who has achieved some prominence in public office, collected 695 thousand dollars in salaries during 21 years, an average of $33,100.

Dr. Harry Steenbock, whose researches with Vitamin D and ultra-violet rays have saved millions of children from the crippling effects of rickets, is estimated to have earned an average of about five thousand dollars annually during 32 years of service to humanity.

CONSIDERATION IN FREE SPEECH

(Grand Rapids Herald-Review)

The United States is not at war.

The rights of freedom of speech have not been suspended.

Any citizen has a right to express his opinion as to any subject at any time. If he thinks Hitler is right, he can say so. If he wishes to publicly curse him, in language not too strong for press or platform, he may do so.

While the right of a citizen of the United States to express his opinion has not been abolished, there is need for some sense on the part of everyone.

Those who hear things that they do not like should be reasonable. They must concede the right of freedom of speech and thought.

On the other hand those who have opinions to express should also be considerate of the feelings of others and the opinions of others. There are places where it is not wise to discuss prohibition or religion. There are also places where national and international issues should not be discussed. Good sense should temper the right of citizens to think and speak as they wish.

If those who speak and those who listen will both use some little forbearance, some of the hysteria which springs up in these perilous times may be avoided.

There is a little street in Chicago that had not had a painted house for several years. Then, some energetic homeowner got enough money and had enough pride left in him to desire better things. Within six months over half the houses in the block were repainted, and flowers began to appear here and there. You know, it isn't the block you live on, but the "block" you live under that makes the difference.—Dr. Holland in The Farmer.

A Japanese professor now lecturing in Germany says "three meals a day are quite unnecessary and actually harmful." It's only the benighted barbarians like us Americans who insist on breakfast, dinner and supper with a couple of snacks in between.—Carlton Vidette.

All that is needed is a slight transposition to give this country new leaders instead of New Dealers.

A colleague gets some comfort from the fact that the current invasion of this area is by grasshoppers and not by Nazis.

At their Chicago convention, says the Redwood Gazette, the Democrats sang God Bless America almost as often as they shouted, "We want Roosevelt". That's the trouble with Democrats—they never can make up their minds.

If we can't do it, we trust you will ride home from the fair in a new car Saturday night.

Times change. The Democratic platform in 1896 included a plank opposing a third term for any president.

Good Planting Methods Aids Survival of Trees

Efficiency in planting in the field windbreaks of the Prairie States Forestry project has aided a high survival of trees in spite of drouth, grasshoppers, jackrabbits, and other hazards of the prairie plains, the forest service of the federal department of agriculture reports.

Under approved procedure the roots of young trees are not exposed to the air for more than 30 seconds from the time they are dug from the nursery beds or river bottoms until they stand in the windbreaks. Although every care is taken of the young trees, high-speed planting has been maintained.

At the nurseries, the little trees are packed and wrapped so that their roots are guarded from injury by wind and sun. When the trees arrive in the field, they are unpacked by WPA workers under supervision of trained foresters. The young trees are placed roots down in tin or wooden carriers and the roots covered with water or mud or both.

Trees are not watered at planting time nor afterward and must depend upon soil moisture and future rains if they are to survive. For this reason the trees are all grown from seed collected locally, so that they inherit their capacity to withstand plain environment. It has been found, the forest service explains, that trees develop capacities for survival in a given environment and transmit these capacities through the seed.

More than 42,000,000 trees in 4,500 miles of new windbreaks were planted last year. Plantings since 1935 total more than 127,000,000 trees in over 11,000 miles of field windbreaks on 20,000 farms in eastern counties of the Dakotas, central and western Nebraska, central Kansas and Oklahoma, and the Texas Panhandle.

22 Years of Blindness Ends for Canadian Man

After 22 years of blindness, the veil of darkness has been cut away from the eyes of William Hunter, 69-year-old news agent of Vancouver, B. C., by the magic of a surgeon's scalpel.

For the first time "since the mist came over my eyes in 1918," the onetime soldier can see again. He is reveling in his rediscovery of a world whose imagery had dissolved through the long years through lack of prompting.

"It was a miracle," he exclaimed happily, telling of the operation that restored his sight. "On the fifth night after the operation I had a hemorrhage in my right eye.

"I thought I had lost my sight forever. To be quite honest with you, I cried.

"But then the doctor examined me and told me I was going to be all right. Then they took off the bandages.

"I walked to the hospital window, not daring to hope for too much. But I looked out and for the first time in 22 years saw green grass. It was wonderful. I think I cried again."

Now the days are a series of astounding discoveries: That the cars are shaped differently than he remembers; men wear strangely-cut suits; the new buildings don't have curves and domes, they're built on the square, with sharp corners and straight lines—everything is different.

Current Wit and Humor

GOOD ODDS

Willie was a born gambler. Many times his schoolmates had to part with their weekly pennies through being foolish enough to bet with him.

His father determined to break him of the habit. He interviewed his schoolmaster one day, and said: "I want to cure my boy of his betting habits, so if you can get him to bet with you, and you are certain he'll lose, take him on; then, when he loses his money, he'll be sorry for himself."

The master consented.

Next day Willie said to him, "I'll bet you six-pence you've got corns, sir!"

"Good!" thought the master. "I know I haven't, so he's sure to lose." Aloud he said, "Right, Willie. I'll bet you I have no corns." And he removed his shoes and proved it.

"You've won," said Willie, and paid up.

Next day the master met Willie's father, and said, "Well, I won sixpence off your boy. He bet me I had corns, and I showed him he was wrong."

"What! The young beggar bet me half a crown he'd get you to show him your bare feet, and he's won!"

Pupil—Just crooked, pa says.

"Poor fellow!" she murmured. "I suppose you want a spoon and a glass of water?"

The tramp shook his head.

"No, mum," he replied. "I wouldn't trouble you for that. But the medicine 'as to be took after meals, and I was wondering if you'd got one of them handy?"

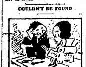
Not to Be Trusted

Charged with theft, the defendant had pleaded "guilty," but the jury retired, and an hour later returned to court to announce, "Not guilty."

"What!" exclaimed the judge. "After he has confessed that he is guilty?"

"But," replied the foreman of the jury, "we've all known Smith since he was a boy, an' he's the biggest liar in town."

COULDN'T BE FOUND



Reggie—If I should lose my mind—

Miss Sharpe—It wouldn't be of the slightest use to advertise for it, Mr. Sapp.

Put Him Wise

Nurse hurried into the nursery.

"Tommy," she cried to a small boy on the floor, "come and see what the doctor has brought your mother—a pretty little daughter, and your sister."

"Yes," said Tommy, "and I expect she blames me."

"What do you mean?" asked nurse wonderingly.

"Well, the doctor wouldn't have known where we lived if I hadn't had the measles last year."

Small Talk

A young school teacher entered the bus and sat down. She looked at the gentleman across from her and smiled very sweetly. He looked puzzled. Realizing that she didn't know him, she stammered:

"Oh, sir, please forgive me. I thought at first you were the father of one of my children."

At the next corner she left the bus.

Manly Advice

Djones—What's the matter with you and your girl?

Skjold—We had a tiff. I told her I was going away forever, and she told me to go.

Djones—Well, if you're any man at all you'll stay away at least a couple of evenings before going to see her again.

A Good Start

"May I ask how old you are?" said the vacationist to the old villager.

"I be just a hundred."

"Really? Well, do you suppose you'll see another hundred?"

"Well, I don't know. But I be stronger now than when I started on the first hundred."

A Few Little Smiles

DOUBLE TROUBLE

A pair of slightly muddled men found the temperature one evening much too frigid despite their warm interiors. Veering up to a hotel desk, one of them said to the clerk: "Shay, we wansh a bed with two rooms in it."

Said the harassed clerk: "I'm a busy man. I can't be annoyed. What you want is a room with two beds in it."

This apparently met with the approval of the guests, for ten minutes later they were still fully dressed and horizontally reclined in one of the two single beds.

"Psst, Bill, there's somebody in my bed."

"Is there? There's somebody in mine, too."

Silence.

"Psst, Bill, let's kick 'em out of our room."

"Okay."

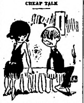
Loud noises.

"Hey, Bill, I kicked mine out."

"Did you? That blighter kicked me out."

"Okay, pal, you come and sleep with me."

CHEAP TALK



He—Do you think two can get along as cheaply as one?

She—Maybe if the wife wants to go around looking cheap all the time.

Excluded Evidence

In a case in which a man was accused of forgery, the counsel for the defense drew from a witness the following statement:

"I know that the prisoner cannot write his own name."

"All that is excluded," said the judge; "the prisoner is not charged with writing his own name, but that of some one else."

Ignorance Is Bliss

Mrs. Newlywed was feeling and looking very gloomy.

"What's the trouble, dear?" her friend inquired.

"Oh—my husband has been out all the evening and I haven't the faintest idea where he is."

"Oh, you shouldn't worry about that. You'd probably be twice as miserable if you did know!"

Stepladder?

Hayton—Just one more question, Uncle Biff.

Uncle Biff—What is it this time?

Hayton—If a boy is a lad and he has a stepfather, is the boy a stepladder?

Snappy Comeback

Skeptic Miss—Can this coat be worn out in the rain without hurting it?

Fur Salesman—Lady, did you ever see a skunk carrying an umbrella?

LONG-STANDING COMPLAINT

Street Railway President—Oh, that's nothing—it's a long-standing complaint.

Married Mabel

The newlyweds had just alighted from the train.

"Jim, dear," said the bride, "let us try to avoid giving the impression that we are newly married."

"All right, honey, you carry the suitcase and umbrellas."

SO. ST. PAUL LIVESTOCK

South St. Paul, Minn., July 30, 1940: Warm weather throughout the Middle West paved the way for sluggish dressed trade, which has been passed on to the live market. Buyers sought vainly to enforce sharply lower ideas, succeeding to the extent of 25c, this applying to most classes. Grain-fed strictly choice light yearlings lost least price ground, according to the Federal-State Market News Service, topping at $10.75, best heavy steers stopping at $10.25. Choice loads of heifers and mixed steers and heifers realized $10.25. Dry-fed cows sold up to $7.50, good grassy offerings around [illegible], canner and cutter cows [illegible]. Good sausage bulls stopped at [illegible], beefy arrivals going from [illegible]. Kosher weights of vealers cashed at $10.00 sparingly, the bulk widening on good to choice lots at [illegible]. Limited inquiry for replacement stock was evident, most offerings common to medium going at [illegible], few good [illegible].

Hot weather, with the resulting sluggish and weak tone to dressed pork, has been the main factor forcing hog values 25-50c below Friday of last week. Tuesday's trade found barrows and gilts selling mostly [illegible] lower, with a top of [illegible], while sows were 25-35c off. Most of the good and choice 180-240 lb. barrows and gilts sold Tuesday at [illegible], while 240-300 lbs. cleared at [illegible], and 300-360 lbs. brought [illegible]. Light lights scaling 140-160 lbs. were disposed of at [illegible], with [illegible] lbs. clearing at [illegible]. Good light sows [illegible] sold mainly at [illegible], while 360-400 lbs. brought [illegible], and heavier weights ranged down to $4.15. Feeder pigs in light supply were 25c off at mostly [illegible].

Slaughter lamb values dropped 25c Monday but trading gave evidence that a firmer feeling had been reached when Tuesday's liberal run cleared readily at steady levels with packers and shippers alike displaying broad inquiry. The eastern dressed lamb market, however, is slow to recover from the serious slump of the past two weeks, a weak undertone still prevailing. Range spring slaughter lambs cleared Tuesday at [illegible]. The top and bulk price on sorted fat natives was [illegible]. Yearlings are 25c lower than Friday while sheep held steady. Feeder lambs are 15-25c lower with current price on [illegible].

Air-Minded Alaskan City Gets Army Flying Base

With plans reported under way to begin work on a U. S. army air base near Fairbanks, Alaska, a new kind of boom is in prospect for this former gold-mining camp of Uncle Sam's Far Northwest. The "Golden Heart of Alaska," Fairbanks is set almost exactly in the geographic center of the territory. Already it is reached by railway, motor road, and air service.

More than 30 planes come and go at the local airport of this little town, whose population is estimated to be little more than 4,000. One of the more dramatic activities of the pilots is to deliver by parachute supplies of bread, bacon and beans, mail and medicines to gold miners working in the vicinity.

Fairbanks was born of gold fever in 1902, when an old prospector named Pedro struck it rich along the creek which now bears his name. Today Fairbanks is still a growing town, no longer entirely dependent on its major industry of gold mining. As the metropolis for a vast hinterland it is an important trading center, as well as headquarters for a rising lumber business, and something of a mecca for summer tourists.

Telephones, telegraph, electricity and radio, together with a hospital, chamber of commerce, schools, churches and clubs, indicate an active civic life that belies its size. It is expected that the new army air base will add some 2,500 people to the city's census figures, and make air-minded Fairbanks a center for nearly 2,000 more planes.

Remodeling the Attic

A remodeled-and-modernized attic offers one of the best solutions to the old problem of providing another room for a growing family with a very modest pocketbook. Unfinished or unused attics can easily be transformed into complete livable rooms. Insulating board is one of the many materials that may be used for an economical, neat and quick remodeling job on the attic. Requiring no painting, papering, or finishing, insulating board keeps the room warm in the winter and cool in the summer. Scrubbing or scraping, followed by a couple of coats of shellac, will make the floor look like new. When finished, the family has an additional room, adequate and comfortable, to be used either as a room for a growing child or as a cozy den or study and relaxation of a particularly suitable playroom.

Alabama's 'Cow-Eaters'

Coyotes are fostering a new legend of the supernatural in east Alabama. Negroes are telling tales of huge, voracious beasts that "will jump on a cow's back," and the coyotes have come to be called "cow-eaters." The legend began about 10 years ago, when fox hunters imported what were supposed to be young foxes from the West, releasing them in the east Alabama woodlands for future sport. Too late, it was discovered that the animals were coyotes. Despite efforts to exterminate them, the "cow-eaters" have multiplied.

Igloo With Electric Lights

An igloo with its own electric light plant is one of the sights at Aklavik, diminutive arctic metropolis at the mouth of the Mackenzie in Canada's northwest territories. The proud Eskimo owner of the plant tells his neighbors that he has the moon at his beck and call by simply turning a switch.

In Memoriam

Six years ago today, Aug. 1st, our son and brother Edwin Nesby passed away.

I can not say, and I will not say
That he is dead, "He is just away"
With a cheery smile, and a wave of the hand,
He has wandered into an unknown land.
And left us dreaming how very fair
It needs must be, since he lingers there.
And you, O you, who the wildest yearn
For the old-time step and the glad return,
Think of him faring on, as dear
In the love of There as the love of Here.
Think of him still as the same, I say;
He is not dead, he is just "away."

Sadly missed by Mother and son, Mrs. Ben Kruse and Tom Nesby. 31p

1ST PLAYOFF GAME WITH PLUMMER IS SET FOR SUNDAY

First Game of Series Will be Played in Local Ball Park

Dividing their games during the season, with Plummer winning one and Thief River Winning one, the two clubs are primed for the first game in this city Sunday of the play-off for the championship of the Northern Minnesota baseball league, and the right to represent the league in the district tournament which will be held in Bemidji.

Not since May 26th, when they lost to Thief River, has Plummer been defeated, and with the interest shown in the team by the fans, it is expected that a large delegation of Plummer fans will follow their club here for the game.

While the batteries for the game have not been announced, it is probable that Mortrude will pitch and Benson catch, for Plummer, while Hemmy Sahl will do the hurling for the locals, with Bing Bergstrom doing the receiving.

Hibbing Makes Plans for State Convention of Legion August 11

Several novel features are being planned for the entertainment of delegates in the annual convention of the Minnesota department, American Legion in Hibbing August 11 to 14, according to Charles Olien, entertainment chairman.

An ice show at Memorial arena with a "pop" concert is one of the chief entertainment attractions. A drum corps contest will take place in the Cheever Memorial stadium, with many drum corps from throughout the state already entered.

Other convention features will include special programs for the Gold Star Mothers, annual state glee clubs and choral contests and a 40 and 8 midnight parade.

The women's auxiliary will be headquartered in the Hibbing high school, said to be the third largest high school in the United States.

Tramps may be down and out, but few of them appear to be washed up.

South All-Stars Win Sunday Tilt in 12th

Ray Perras' single into center field in the last half of the 12th inning, sent Maurice Page scampering over the plate with the run that gave the South All-Stars a narrow-margined 4 to 3 extra-inning victory over the North All-Stars in a game played at Plummer last Sunday. Considering the fact that 40 players entered the game, and that the playing field was heavy and rain-soaked, the large crowd witnessed a surprisingly fine game of baseball.

The Northerners jumped on the South's starting pitcher Dave Kelly in the second inning, pounding out four hits and scoring all three of their runs. Hemmy Sahl opened the inning by poling out a long double into center field. Lynn Kiefenheim made a bare-handed grab at the ball, but it fell safely for a base hit. Lloyd Johnson hoisted to center field for the first out. Wally DuChamp singled into right, scoring Sahl. Wally went to second on a passed ball. Bergstrom clubbed out a center field single, sending Wally to third. Swanson popped to the shortstop. Klem Gigstad sent a bounder to the third baseman, Wally Du Champ scoring, and when St. Marie's throw to first was wild, Bergstrom scored the third run. Bakke, the hitting star of the game, bounced a single through shortstop, with Gigstad going to third. Rasmusson ended the inning on a fly to center field.

The South tallied their first run in the third inning. Kiefenheim was on, with a single through the infield, took second on a passed ball, and scored when Hofius looped a hit into left field.

Off Woody Almquist in the sixth inning, the Southerners scratched across another run. Almquist had retired the side on strikeouts in the fourth and fifth innings, but opening the sixth inning he issued a walk to L. Fortier. Hervy then sent a ground ball to Cockrell at first, who made the play to Bakke covering second, apparently forcing Fortier, but the umpire decided that the runner had beaten the throw. Gagner then sent a slow, twisting grounder toward second base and Johnny Jaranson, coming in fast, slipped, and the ball went for a hit, filling the bases. Columbus struck out. Lefty Fremling smashed a hard hit into left field, Fortier scoring, and when Hervy and Gagner attempted to score, Arlo Jacobson, on a relay from Sahl and Rasmusson, tagged out both runners as they piled into the plate.

The Southerners tied up the ball game in the last half of the ninth inning. Jesse DuChamp singled over shortstop, made a clean steal of second; and after Columbus and Page had been retired, Louis Benson doubled into center field, scoring Jesse, and sending the game into extra innings.

Kiewel Diamondballers Bow to Greenbush Team

Playing a spectacular fielding game, and hitting in the 'clutches' the green and white Greenbush team defeated the City league Kiewel's, 5 to 2, in a diamondball game played at the Fair Grounds last Thursday night. Both teams played splendid ball and the score was tied until the 5th inning, when Greenbush's Pete Bleike slammed one of Gordy Kaushagen's pitches into deep left field for a home-run, and scoring two mates ahead of him, to put the game beyond the reach of the Kiewel's. The defeat was the second of the season that Greenbush had hung on the Kiewel's handing Ole Ness' red shirts a beating a couple of weeks ago in a game played at Greenbush.

In a Junior league game played on the local diamond last Saturday afternoon, the Thief River Falls Juniors, behind the steady pitching of Jimmy Stephenson and Merle Carlson, easily defeated the Junior team from Red Lake Falls, 16 to 0. In the 14 hits that the locals gathered off Vernon Olsen was a long left field homerun by Eddie Flasch. Eddie, by the way, had a 'perfect' day at bat, getting four hits and scoring four runs in his four trips to the plate.

Wednesday, Aug. 7th, Kiewel's vs. Land O'Lakes.
Thursday, Aug. 8th, Harts vs. Middle River.
Friday, Aug. 9th, Land O' Lakes vs. DeMolay.

The conclusion of the first round's schedule of diamondball games found the city champion Harts team with a two game lead over the runner-up Kiewel's, and with Bridgeman's, Land O'Lakes, and DeMolay in a three-way deadlock for third place. The hard-luck Middle River team, with only one win in their five games, has the cellar position. The second round games begin next week, and with all teams aiming for a place in the play-offs, exciting games are in store for the fans.

Bridgeman's 5, Kiewel's 12

With the teams knotted at a 5-all score going in to the 7th inning, manager Ness, of the Kiewels, sent Merle Carlson in to pinch-hit for Heinie Wang, and that was the spark the Kiewels needed, for they blasted out 5 hits, and with 2 bases on balls, scored 7 runs, to win the game and a side-bet.

Bridgeman's 6, DeMolay 10

Roy Lee's surprising DeMolay team upset the 'dope' by taking a decision from the hard-hitting Bridgeman's last Friday night. And again the Bridgeman's were made the victims of a last inning rally, for the DeMolays, trailing 6 to 5 in the 7th inning, bunched 4 hits, with an error and a base on balls, to count 5 runs.

North Had Money Players

That All-Star game at Plummer Sunday, in which the South eked out a 4 to 3 win over the North in 12 innings, was a case of the North losing the battle, but winning the war. That is, as far as the winning of money prizes was concerned. Here's the roll-call of the North players that won dollar awards: for the first 2-base hit, Bakke of the CCC; for the second 2-base hit, Hemmy Sahl, T. R. F.; to the player batting in the first run, Wally DuChamp, T. R. F.; to the outfielder with the most assists, Hemmy Sahl, T. R. F.; to the infielder with the most assists, in his first three innings of play, Clarence Rasmusson, T. R. F.; to the pitcher allowing the least number of hits in his first three innings on the mound, Hemmy Sahl, T. R. F., Woody Almquist, St. Hilaire, and Stockland, CCC tied, 2 hits each; for the first double play, Bakke to Jaranson to Johnson; to the pitcher with the most strike-outs in his first three innings of pitching, Almquist, St. Hilaire, with 7 strikeouts; for the first stolen base, Bing Bergstrom T. R. F.; for the most spectacular play of the game, Arlo Jacobson, St. Hilaire catcher, when he made a double put-out at the plate, tagging Hervy and Gagner as they tried to score. And the North had a share in the following awards: for the first baseman with the most put-outs, Lenny Helquist, T. R. F., and Ray Perras, R. L. F., tied, 5 put-outs each; to the player batting in the most runs, Wally DuChamp, T. R. F., Klem Gigstad, St. Hilaire, tied with Howard Hofius, Lefty Fremling, Louie Benson of Plummer, and Ray Perras, R. L. F., each batting in one run. Art Sandland, Lefty Fremling, and Lynn Kiefenheim were the only South All-Star players to win undisputed money. Sandland receiving a dollar for being the catcher with the most assists; Lynn Kiefenheim for being the outfielder with the most put-outs; and Lefty Fremling for diving out the game's longest hit.

After winning all that money I can't figure out how the North team lost the ball game. Maybe it was because the prize-awarding committee ran out of dough. Maybe if league president Krueger and Plummer manager Bud Jaspers had offered a couple of dollars to the player scoring the winning run, perhaps one of the North's 'money' players would have scored the winning run. Maybe Krueger and Jaspers were smart like two foxes when they didn't have any such prizes.

Series Should be Hum-dinger

The first game of the play-off series for the championship of the Northern Minny league is scheduled for the Fair Grounds diamond next Sunday afternoon. And the game and the series should be A-1 entertainment. While the individuals on the two teams are on the best of terms, the two clubs are intense rivals (two former Thief River players are in the Plummer line-up—Jesse DuChamp and Louie Benson), and the players will throw the book at each other in an effort to bring in a victory. Frankly, the series appears to be a toss-up, with the team that gets, and takes advantage, of a 'break' or two, to be the winner.

A Pitcher's League

A couple of weeks ago I said that Hemmy Sahl and Arv Mortrude were the league's ranking pitchers. I'll have to qualify that statement a bit by including Louie Benson and Woody Almquist with Sahl and Mortrude. Louis has pitched two league games, won them both, and he was the winning pitcher in the All-Star game Sunday, and he's a more polished pitcher than he was last year. Almquist has been troubled by a sore arm, and only during the past few weeks has it rounded into shape, and right now, when he has his control, he's as tough to hit as any pitcher in the league, and perhaps the league's best strike-out pitcher. The first six batters to face him last Sunday took three swings at Woody's high hard one, and then sat down.

And speaking of pitchers, Hemmy Sahl and his catcher, Bing Bergstrom, have been visiting the Fair carnival, particularly the 'Gay Paree' and 'French Casino'. Their story is that they are studying 'curves' and a 'change of pace'. I understand, perfectly, and the Plummer boys should go for 'curves' like that. And that isn't tobacco that Hemmy is chewing when he pitches. It's licorice, and lots of it.

DIVING, SWIMMING CONTESTS SLATED AT POOL AUG. 18TH

Plans Being Completed for Water Carnival in This City

Plans for the water carnival to be held at Tindolph pool Sunday August 18th, are rapidly taking shape. These plans are for a larger and better swim meet, including more activities.

Diving contests are on schedule for men and women in two classes, junior and senior. Swimming races will be handled in like fashion. A diving exhibition is also slated for the event. Each contestant in the diving competition will be expected to execute three different dives. Likewise, in the races there will be the free style, back and the breast strokes.

Plans for the free for all motor boat racing and other boat races are not yet complete. A course had to be laid out for the event. Everyone with a boat is urged to sign up with the recreation leader at Tindolph for the boat races. All interested in fishing are asked to grease up the rod and reel and get it in shape for the bait casting contest to be held in connection with the carnival.

Legion Junior, Midget Baseball Teams Split With Warren Thursday

In a double-header on the Warren diamond last Thursday, the local American Legion nine lost a 4-0 decision to the Post team of that city, while the Thief River Falls Midgets went on a free hitting spree to trounce the Warren Midgets 19-0.

Jimmy Stephenson, Midget pitcher, turned in a no hitter for the locals, while he and his mates all figured in a 18-hit barrage which netted 19 runs.

The second game was cut short at the end of the fifth inning by a heavy downpour. In this game, Erickson, Warren pitcher, gave up only 4 hits to the locals, while his mates obtained 7 safeties off "Babe" Peterson. Don Berg got two of the locals hits, while Merle Carlson and Irvin Wilson each garnered one.

On Saturday, the Midgets journey to Red Lake Falls, while next Wednesday the American Legion Post nine, takes on Crookston on the Pirate diamond.

Local Man Fined After Car Rams into Electric Light Post on Riverside

After his car had knocked down an ornamental light standard on Riverside av. last Wednesday, Elrie A. Johnson, living on Route 1 out of this city, was taken into custody on a drunken driving charge. In municipal court he was fined $75, $50 of which was suspended after he made restitution for the damaged standard. In addition, his drivers license was suspended for six months.

Ralph Wold was arrested Friday on a reckless driving charge after he had driven his car into a tree along East Third st. Judge Lincoln Arnold gave him the option of paying a $25 fine or serving a fifteen-day jail term, and his drivers license was suspended for one year.

More women would catch their man if they'd keep their traps shut.

SEEK $8,000 IN 8 COMMUNITIES FOR MAPLE LAKE WORK

Committees at Work Raising Funds for Restoration Project

Solicitation of funds from business men and residents of eight towns in this area was decided upon at a meeting July 31 to obtain sufficient funds for the sponsor's share of a WPA project which will provide drainage ditches to raise the level of Maple lake, says the Red Lake Falls Gazette.

A large group of interested citizens met at Buhn's hotel at Maple lake to discuss procedure for raising approximately $8,000 needed as the sponsor's contribution for the project. The project, as now established, calls for a provision of about $80,000 by the WPA, $7,000 by Polk county, to be donated in the form of use of equipment, and $15,000 by the state. The legislative emergency council of the state has appropriated $7,000 for the project, and lake owners are now seeking means of raising the additional $8,000 needed.

In the Mentor community the solicitation of funds was started on Tuesday and that small village reports that approximately $800 will be raised there. The Mentor committee is the first of several appointed at the meeting to report in the campaign for funds.

In addition to Mentor the campaigns for funds will be made in Red Lake Falls, Crookston, Erskine, Grand Forks, Fertile, McIntosh and Thief River Falls.

Advice on Harvesting Malting Barley Given by County Agent Grow

Harvest time is drawing near and farm income can be increased or decreased depending upon the care that is used in harvesting the crop, states Howard E. Grow, county agent.

Barley is subjected to more abuse than other crops by harvesting too early. This year has not been favorable for the production of malting barley, but much can be done from now until threshing to improve the quality of the barley that might grade malting if handled properly.

To produce malting barley, the grain must stand in the field until it is ripe. It cannot be harvested when it is only partially ripe, and it must be threshed with care. Too close threshing will result in a high percentage of skinned and broken kernels. This might throw it out of the malting grade as the limit of skinned and broken seed must be less than five per cent in malting barley.

43,479 WORKERS SETTLE DISPUTES WITHOUT STRIKES

State Conciliation Act Accomplishes Good Results During Past Year

Results obtained under Minnesota's new labor relations law during its first year of operation are disclosed in a report being prepared by Lloyd Haney, state labor conciliator, to be submitted to Governor Harold E. Stassen and members of the legislature.

The act, passed by the 1939 legislature on recommendation of the governor, has been in operation since April 26, 1939. In that time, Haney's report shows, fully 560 labor disputes, involving 43,479 workers, have been settled through conciliation or other steps in negotiation set up under the act without the necessity of a strike or loss of time to workers.

Mr. Haney and his assistants were active in the settlement of 459 disputes, involving 269,760 workers, between April 26, 1939, and July 1st, this year, through conciliation and other means provided by the act. Meanwhile, representatives of employers and workers in 101 other disputes resorted to the principles of conciliation themselves after filing strike or lockout notices with the state conciliator and worked out a satisfactory solution of the dispute themselves through negotiation. Settlements of this kind involved 3,560 workers.

During the whole thirteen months covered by the report, Haney said, there were only 39 strikes, involving 1,629 workers, in Minnesota and four lockouts involving 544 workers.

Bald Eagle Protected by Congressional Act

Permanent protection for the bald eagle, United States' national emblem and a nesting resident of Minnesota, was voted by congress last week coincident with a drive to halt persecution of the vanishing species. The act, signed into law by President Roosevelt, asserts that by statute, tradition and custom "the bald eagle is no longer a mere bird of biological interest but a symbol of American ideals of freedom." It provides a fine of up to $500, or six months imprisonment, for the killing, purchase, sale or transportation of any Bald Eagle. The same penalty applies to handling of bald eagle eggs or destruction of eagle nests.

The state conservation department pointed out that Bald Eagles formerly nested throughout Minnesota. Of recent years the giant birds have taken a last stand in isolated portions of northern Minnesota.

'U' Farm Folder Explains Livestock Fly Problem

Fly sprays for livestock are chiefly useful as a relief to humans, not animals, says H. H. Shepard, entomologist at University Farm, St. Paul, who warns that the animals may be more harmed than benefited if too much spray is used.

In New Extension Folder 85, "Livestock Fly Sprays," Shepard points out that in hot weather a cow needs to have the pores of its skin in good condition to hold the correct body temperature. But this is also the time when flies are worst and the most spray is therefore used. If the spray materials are too heavy they may accumulate on the hide or if too light they may penetrate directly to the skin before they evaporate. In either case the normal body temperature control through the hide will be upset and a feverish condition may result. The milk flow may drop off more from this cause than from the attack of flies.

It is impossible to make a uniform, harmless and effective spray economically in small amounts and for this reason Shepard recommends using a commercial brand that has been scientifically developed.

Elimination of breeding places is the only effective way to control flies, Shepard says.

Pretty Mary Nesheim of St. Paul, was the first girl accepted to learn to fly at the University of Minnesota under the civil aeronautics authority program to train civilian aviators. She is 19 years old and has completed her first year in the university arts college.

No 'Best' Time to Market Grain, Ag Economist Says

This year, more farmers than usual are wondering whether to store their grain or sell it, says J. B. McNulty, extension economist at University Farm, St. Paul.

The outlook for grain crop prices is especially uncertain this year because of war turmoil, McNulty says, but even for ordinary seasons there is no evidence to show that one month is better than another as far as prices are concerned. A recent study made by W. C. Waite and R. W. Cox in the Division of Agricultural Economics at University Farm shows that for the past 19 years farmers who held wheat or flax were no more certain of receiving a high price than those who sold at threshing time. During certain years, of course, it paid well to hold for a later market, but in the long run these were about offset by years when prices fell after the harvest season.

McNulty points out that the wheat, rye and barley loan programs take away some of the risk of falling prices by assuring a minimum price to producers who seal their grain.

It makes no difference who wins this war—They still have to eat.
si sez:
i listened to a radio broadcast Monday of the american farm and home hour and a talk by PILLSBURY the news commentator.
his estimate of the wheat shortage in continental europe is over 300 millions of bushels—the lowest production in 20 years.
hitler, mussolini and the rest of the dictators have to feed their millions or lose their jobs—win or lose as far as the war is concerned.
some one has to supply that food and it can only be had in the western hemisphere.
again—I say—don't get the "jitters"—these birds are going to HAVE to come to us—sooner or later.
the bet is that wheat is going to go up. and that's a good bet we're going to have potatoes, beets, corn, flax, cattle, wool, hides, turkeys, clover crops this year and there is a demand for all these products and there will be an ever increasing demand through huge rearmament expenditures and the step up in industry and consequent lowering of unemployment. a family on relief can't buy many beef steaks, pork chops and turkeys but put 'em to work and don't fear—the family will have meat, new woolen clothes, new shoes, etc.
don't get the "jitters"! you're not living in a hitler conquered european state! you are—thank God—living in america—and so am I and business is good! business is good and it's going to be better the more furniture, musical instruments, easy washers, philco refrigerators and radios we sell because it takes just so many industrial man hours to produce each product—and man hours mean people in industrial sections are going to begin buying, wearing and eating the things we produce out here.
THINK THAT OVER.

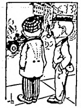
JUDGE AND JURY

The most popular man in a western town had got into a difficulty with a disreputable tough who was the terror of the place, and had done him up in a manner eminently satisfactory to the entire community. It was necessary to vindicate the majesty of the law, however, and the offender was brought up for trial on a charge of assault with intent to kill. The jury took the case, and were out about two minutes, when they returned.

"Well," said the old judge in a familiar off-hand way, "what does the jury have to say?"

"May it please the court," responded the foreman, "we, the jury, find the prisoner is not guilty of hittin' with the intent to kill, but simply to paralyze, and he done it."

EXCUSABLE



"Why did you refuse to answer that man who asked you how you were going to vote?"

"Because he wasn't looking for information. He was only trying to start an argument."

Vicar Wars on Idolatry

The Rev. John Bey, vicar of Cerne Abbas, England, has started a war to stop the "idolatry" of the young women of the parish who pray to Cerne's giant love god cut out of the hillside in pagan times. He has questioned many girls and is urging that the Cerne giant be removed. Girls kneel at the foot of the image at night and pray him to send them a sweetheart. Young wives plead for children. The origin of the practice is lost in a centuries-old legend. Marriages in the district now average less than one a year, and many blame the giant.

He was undersized, meek, diffident, and subdued, and he had applied for a job as night-watchman.

"Yes," said the manager, dubiously, "but the fact is we want someone who is restless and uneasy, especially at night. Someone who thinks the worst of everybody, and whose suspicions are seldom allayed. Someone who sleeps with one eye open. Someone with remarkable hearing who starts at the slightest sound. Someone who is always listening, thinking there are bad characters around. We want a large, aggressive, intrepid, and dangerous person, bad-tempered and revengeful. The kind of person, in short, who, when roused, is a fiend incarnate."

TUNA PLAYS A NEW ROLE

garnished with radish roses, lettuce hearts, ripe olives and watercress
Little Hot Rolls
Lady Baltimore Cake Salted Nuts
Iced Tea Coffee

Here's a refreshing, colorful and thoroughly delightful menu for a hot weather luncheon or buffet supper. Don't you think that just the mere name "double decker tuna-pineapple loaf" sounds cool and inviting? And it tastes as good as it sounds. One "deck"—the top—holds crushed pineapple and grated carrots. It's refreshing and orange colored. The "lower deck" holds the flaked tuna mixed with bits of crisp celery and splashes of red pimiento. In the center of a long platter this gelatin loaf is simply stunning to behold—all orange and white and red—with a crisp green and black garland of lettuce hearts, watercress and shiny ripe olives! And it's really easy to make!

DOUBLE-DECKER TUNA-PINEAPPLE LOAF

Pineapple Layer

- 1 tablespoon gelatin
- ¼ cup cold water
- 1 cup pineapple juice (drained from a No. 2 can crushed pineapple)
- ¼ cup lemon juice (from 1 large lemon)
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 3 tablespoons sugar
- 1½ cups well drained crushed pineapple (1 No. 2 can)
- ½ cup grated carrots

Soak the gelatin in cold water about 5 minutes. Heat the pineapple juice to the boiling point, remove from heat, and blend in the soaked gelatin, stirring until thoroughly dissolved. Then blend in lemon juice, salt and sugar, and set aside to chill. When partially set, fold in the well drained crushed pineapple and grated carrots. Pour into a bread loaf pan (8¼x4¼ inches across the bottom and 2¾ inches deep) which has been brushed with oil, filling the pan half full. Chill until partially set. Then place the tuna fish layer on top.

Tuna Fish Layer

- 1 tablespoon gelatin
- ¼ cup cold water
- 1¼ cups boiling water
- 3 tablespoons lemon juice (from 1 lemon)
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 cup flaked tuna fish (1 7-oz. can)
- 1½ cups finely diced celery
- ¼ cup chopped pimiento

Soak the gelatin in cold water about 5 minutes. Blend soaked gelatin into boiling water, stirring until thoroughly dissolved. Then blend in lemon juice and salt, and set aside to chill. When partially set, fold in the tuna fish, celery and pimiento. Now place this mixture on top of the partially set Pineapple Layer. Chill until firm.

WHEN READY TO SERVE

When you are ready to serve this loaf, unmold onto a cold platter and garnish with watercress (or lettuce or parsley), olives and radish roses.

Serve with mayonnaise (mixed with whipped cream, if desired).

This recipe will yield 8 servings. If you wish to make only 4 to 6 servings, make half the recipe and mold it in individual custard cups.

Highway Patrol Directs Drive at Night Speeders

The Minnesota Highway Patrol, in its efforts to reduce the number of accidents on the highways of the state, is waging a vigorous campaign against motorists who persist in speeding at night, Chief Elden Rowe disclosed today.

Despite the fact that after dark traffic is reduced by half, figures reveal that accidents of all types increase, with fatalities increasing by almost half. The biggest reason for this alarming situation is overdriving headlights. A motorist can't drive safely at night at the same speed he maintains in the daytime. Extensive tests have proved that the absolute top speed at which automobiles can be driven safely at night is 50 miles per hour, even though they are equipped with the new "sealed beam" headlights. Any speed in excess of this is an invitation to disaster and death.

"This top speed, however, is by no means the safe speed for all night driving," Chief Rowe warned. "A safe speed is one which will permit a motorist to stop in the distance he can see ahead. Motorists who value their lives and those of their fellow motorists will always stay within these limits."

SQUIRRELS HAMPER TELEPHONE SERVICE

Detroit Lakes.—The telephone office has been having trouble with squirrels. It seems these little creatures have been gnawing into phone cables around town. When water gets into these cables openings a short circuit results and the usual phone service is upset. No explanation is given as to why the squirrels like to chew on wires, but the telephone office here reports the practice quite common in the city.

Registrations of Motor Vehicles Gain Sharply

A total of 7325 motor vehicle registrations were handled in 1940 up to the first of this week in the office of Alex Campbell, deputy registrar, the highest mark reached for any comparable period to date, and 15 per cent ahead of the 1939 figure. Mr. Campbell stated that half of the increase is in the issuance of B class license plates, while the remainder represents other business passing thru the office.

MAN COLLAPSES FROM BEE STING

Wood Lake.—Paul Schaffran was watching a hive of bees that had swarmed when one of them lit on his arm and stung. He pulled the stinger out of his arm and then everything turned black before his eyes. He is sensitive to this kind of poison, according to Dr. Kath, who administered a dose of adrenalin while Paul was coming back to consciousness.

3 Game Wardens Killed in Action to be Given Tribute by Department

Three game wardens who were killed in action at Waterville by a crazed bullhead peddler last month will be honored by the department of conservation, August 4, at special memorial services in the state office building in St. Paul.

The public and all employees of the department were invited to attend and to participate in a coincidental fund-raising campaign for the relief of the three bereaved families.

Special memorial cards will be sold by the department for $1 each to persons wishing to contribute. All game wardens of the state have been mailed supplies of the cards.

The murdered wardens were Dudley P. Brady, who left two dependents; Marcus E. Whipps, four dependents, and A. M. Holt, seven dependents.

High Taxes Affecting Trends of Population, Taxpayers Group Says

Surprises in population trends now are coming to light in preliminary census reports. Among other startling changes is news that the population of many American cities remains static in the ten-year period just passed, the first time in our history that population of congested centers has leveled off.

Preliminary reports from 105 cities disclosed a population increase of only 5 per cent in the past decade, as compared to a gain of 23.6 per cent in the previous ten years.

While New York City had a gain of 450,000 residents in the last ten years, there are 25 cities with fewer residents than they had in 1930. Philadelphia, Akron, Cleveland, St. Louis, Pittsburgh, New Haven, and others were in the decline.

Even Chicago showed a leveling off, with a gain of only 8,000. One cause for the static condition of our great centers, is attributed to higher taxes on real estate, while the value of that real estate is declining.

It is pointed out that families in the higher income groups move to the suburbs where they have city advantages, including good roads, and yet have lower tax rates. Because of this trend the larger centers have been losing their best taxpayers. Meanwhile, relief and welfare burdens of the cities have been increasing, and with it tax rates and bonded indebtedness, according to the Minnesota Taxpayers Association.

La[illegible]e Audience Hears Rev. [illegible]d Mrs. Hinderlie

Testifying to the interest taken by residents of this community in conditions in war-torn Norway, the spacious Trinity Lutheran church was filled to capacity Tuesday evening by an audience assembled to hear Rev. and Mrs. Carroll Hinderlie, recently returned from that country, give an interesting account of their experiences.

Mrs. Hinderlie recounted many stirring experiences at the time of the German invasion, which occurred three days after she and her husband had left Oslo for Gjovik. She told of the shortage of staple foods that followed, and said a critical unemployment situation arose when factories were closed owing to lack of supplies.

She said the Norwegian people were stunned by the invasion, but were beginning to get their spunk back when she left the country four weeks later. She added that the lesson for Americans to draw from the Norwegian situation is that we must stop being complacent and self-satisfied, and must turn more strongly to Christianity.

Reverend Hinderlie stated that the Norwegian soldiers were not properly organized at the outset and had equipment far inferior to that of the Germans, but that they resisted as long as they could against hopeless odds.

The meeting, over which Dr. O. F. Melby presided in the absence of Rev. R. M. Fjelstad, pastor of the church, opened with a short talk by Dr. J. A. Aasgaard, father of Mrs. Hinderlie. He discussed the work of Norwegian Relief, Inc., of which he is a national director, and he said that no money would be sent to Norway until there is every assurance that it will reach the proper hands.

Shipstead Springs Surprise by Entering Name as Republican

Hjalmar Petersen, Theodor Slen to Oppose Governor H. E. Stassen

Henrik Shipstead, for 18 years a Farmer-Labor United States senator, Thursday filed for re-election as a Republican.

The action confirmed reports that Shipstead, who was one of the pioneers in the Farmer-Labor movement, had split with the party towards which he has been luke-warm in recent years.

"In 1934 when they (Farmer-Laborites) wrote a platform which was Communistic and un-American I refused to accept it," Shipstead said in a statement released when he filed at the secretary of state's office.

"In 1936 I warned these leaders they were leading the party toward destruction and demanded a housecleaning of subversive influences, Communistic leaders, and racketeers. This promise was made to me but never kept.

"In 1938 with thousands of other members of this party I voted for a majority of the candidates on the Republican ticket and have never regretted it.

"I have decided to file as a candidate with the party to which I originally belonged for many years."

Shipstead announced himself as opposed to a third term for the president, but did not come out flatly in favor of Republican nominee Wendell Willkie.

In the Republican primary, Shipstead will be opposed by Ray Chase of Anoka, former state auditor, Martin Nelson, Austin; Ben Andreen, New Ulm, and Michael Ferch, Odessa, Big Stone county. Ferch is president of the State Federation of Township officers.

Heading the Farmer-Labor ticket in the U. S. senatorial race are Elmer A. Benson, Appleton, former governor; and State Senator George Lommen, Eveleth.
